RICHMOND HILL, JANUARY 24, 1873.

THE DUTY OF THE HOUR.

On Monday next, for the first time, our villagers are called upon to choose six fit and proper persons to represent them at the School Board. The hour of polling is fixed, according to law, at 9 o'clock, A.M. No subject is of more importance to a community than the education of the young. To see that the proper persons are elected should be the imperative duty of the ratepayers. It is our boast that we have one of the best systems of educating the young, now in force in any country. Let it be our boast that we can take proper advantage of the means given to us; let men of enlarged views be elected; let it be seen that, now we have a corporation of our own, that the schools will be worthy of the name. The teachers must not be accepted on account of their cheapness. One or two hundred dollars a year to a teacher is nothing in comparison to the scholars being properly trained. In some places in the country it is the practice of putting boys and girls of the fifth book in the same division, a practice that we must condemn as highly improper and unnecessary. It is also the practice in some places of charging fees to non-resident scholars. We need not say that this is contrary to law. As the schools cannot be free while fees are charged, the best way will be to let every Municipality or school section look after its own pupils. Another thing; a large amount is to be expended for building a new school house; it is required that proper men should have the expending of this money. In conclusion let it be the boast of Richmond Hill that its schools are second to none in the County for buildings, teachers and scholars. Upon the youth of our country depends our future greatness.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES OF SABBATH SCHOOL LESSONS.

(Communicated)
In former articles we referred to the origin of the International Sabbath School Lessons and the objects of its promoters, we now propose to present a few of the advantages to be derived from the adoption of such series in the Sabbath Schools of this and surrounding localities. In the first place they aid in sustaining what ought to be a preliminary to every Sabbath day's duty namely: teachers meeting. A good teacher is the backbone of a successful Sabbath School. With unlimited facilities for the acquisition of knowledge, with numerous common schools in every township and High Schools within the reach of all the time has gone by when the listening to a simple reading or to the recitation of a few verses, was thought to be all the duty incumbent on a Sabbath School teacher. The scholars themselves are dissatisfied with such a routine and every teacher ought to be ashamed to aid in perpetrating it. If we want our Sabbath Schools to be what they ought to be, attractive to the younger and retentive of the older scholars, we must feed them with such food as will satisfy the mental and spiritual appetite for the time and create a periodical desire for more. For the purpose then of obtaining knowledge and a weekly impetus in the path of duty a most useful auxiliary to all teachers is found in the teachers meeting. The exchange of acts of courtesy and words of encouragement and the interchange of thoughts are there called into play and the result is desirable in renewed efforts in the Sabbath School work. But the great difficulty in sustaining these meetings and in keeping them alive has been the want of some central point around which all the teachers could gather with equal interest. Hitherto the work of these meetings has consisted in general business, and were consequently often few and far between, and when held more frequently the discussions have generally degenerated into endless disputes on points of order and constitutional violations. This was the natural result of the old system of allowing teachers to select their own lessons, causing each teacher and his class to be so isolated from all the others that there was no common topic of discussion upon which to rivet their individual and collective attention, other than official or financial business at their ordinary meetings. By the adoption of a uniform series of lessons a sympathetic bond of interest is felt by all, each teacher feels that he is in common with his fellow teachers has something to do and something to gain, in order that he may have something to impart to his class on the ensuing Sabbath. This conduces to a paragonable simulative desire to communicate the knowledge acquired by the teachers from the various stand points from which they have received the lesson, thus contributing many useful hints and valuable ideas to the stock already possessed by each individual. And not only does it add to the instructive tendency of the teachers meeting but it makes time doubly precious, and the wrangling which too frequently takes place at these meetings is prevented by each teacher's anxiety to push on the business, in order to get at the more important object for which there have gathered together. The objection is sometimes advanced that entire uniformity of lessons in a single school would militate against the interests of the smaller or infant classes. We think that the difficulty lies more in the imagination than in the reality and that a trial will convince others, as it has the writer, that the grand old truths of the Bible are as simple as they are grand and can be brought within the comprehension of a little child and be grasped as firmly as by scholars of riper years. No better evidence of the adaptability of the uniform system of Sabbath School lessons for teachers meetings can be given than the great increase of these lessons in city, town and country, and when as in many places they are held consecutively at the teachers residences they are looked forward to with pleasant anticipations, and are conducive to unity of spirit and oneness of purpose. To be continued next week.

DEATH OF MR. T. D. HARRIS.—

It is with regret that we announce the death of Mr. Thomas D. Harris, which took place on Saturday afternoon last in Toronto, after several weeks indisposition. The late Mr. Harris was born in Boston in 1823, of English parents, which place he left in 1818 and took up his residence in Montreal. He remained in that city in the employ of the late Mr. Petheringham for seven years, after which time he came west to Kingston. In 1829 he took up his residence in Toronto, and went into partnership with Mr. John Watkins, of Kingston, under the name, style and firm of Watkins & Harris, and when he retired from business a few years ago, he was one of the oldest merchants in the city. During the rebellion of 1837, he was actively employed in taking charge of the Bank of Upper Canada and other public buildings, and in 1840 he was chief of the fire brigade, then composed of the leading men of Toronto. He was one of the church-wardens of St. James' Cathedral for the long period of 26 years, and it is to his exertions that the citizens are indebted for the peal of bells in the tower of that Cathedral. He took an active part in establishing St. James' Cemetery and indeed the laying out of that place is said to have been accomplished by him. He also imported from England the iron frame of the Church now in the Cemetery. For many years he occupied the important position of President of the Board of Trade, and he has also filled important offices of trust in many companies in Toronto. He was for twelve years a commissioner of the Harbour Trust, and the constitutional violations. This was the natural result of the old system of allowing teachers to select their own lessons, causing each teacher and his class to be so isolated from all the others that there was no common topic of discussion upon which to rivet their individual and collective attention, other than official or financial business at their ordinary meetings. By the adoption of a uniform series of lessons a sympathetic bond of interest is felt by all, each teacher feels that he is in common with his fellow teachers has something to do and something to gain, in order that he may have something to impart to his class on the ensuing Sabbath. This conduces to a paragonable simulative desire to communicate the knowledge acquired by the teachers from the various stand points from which they have received the lesson, thus contributing many useful hints and valuable ideas to the stock already possessed by each individual. And not

"CONSISTENCY, THOU ART A JEWEL!"—It might reasonably be expected from a nation exhibiting such extreme sensitiveness on points of neutrality as the United States did recently, that an example of diligence in such matters would be set to the rest of the world. But the well known attitude of the Washington Government towards the Cuban insurgents, and the bare-faced infringements of international law by United States citizens, amply prove how utterly groundless are all such expectations. The United States press boasts of these infringements, and the Government that claimed "consequential damages" winks at them.

Editor's Notes.

FOR ENGLAND.—The Hon. W. Mc Dougall left Toronto for New York on Friday last, en route for England.

We wonder when the public will cease to hold the proprietor of a newspaper responsible for the expressions of his correspondents?

A constant dropping will wear out a rock. Keep dropping your advertisement on the public, and they will soon melt under it like rock salt.

A. Law, Esq., J.P., Reeve of Richmond Hill, said to be citizen of the United States, entertained our town council to supper, at Velie's Hotel on Monday last.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The next Reunion of the Richmond Hill Mechanics' Institute will be held in the Masonic Hall, on next Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock. Vocal and instrumental music and readings will constitute the programme. Tickets, 15 cents each; members free.

It is said that Prince Napoleon wishes only to gain his suit against the Government of France for his expulsion from that country; that he has no pretensions to the throne; and that he does not fear a regency, and that he submits to the Government, which he approves. It may be, but the promptings of ambition teach us different.

BEAT IT WHO CAN.—Mr. Skinner, of Schomberg, has in his possession a barrow, weighing 1140 pounds. He stands about four feet high, and resembles a hippopotamus more than a pig. Mr. Skinner has been offered $90 for this large specimen of swine, but we believe he holds him at $100. This gentleman has also another curiosity, in the shape of a milk white mule, with a black stripe down the hip and shoulders.

On Saturday last we had the pleasure of paying a visit to Woodville, and it is some talk of that place, in the example of Richmond Hill, incorporated. We were shown by a number of our neighbors, and give the matter the attention it deserves, not allow the matter to pass, as it was our intention to not only give but space will not permit us to do so.

The Russian Government, to send an agent to try to induce the Government to co-operate with the former for the subjugation of Her Majesty's Ministers to solve to adhere to their policy, announced. The unfavourable with regard to the existing between us have a disquieting effect on the stock market.

SABBATH SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY TEA.—A grand tea will be held at the Newton Church, Newton Brook, on Thursday the 6th of February next. Tea will be served from 5 to 7:30 P.M., but no later. A number of recitations and singing will be given by the children. Tickets: for the tea and exercises, 30 cents each; for the exercises only, 20 cents each; which may be had from members of the committee and at the Post-office. No change will be taken at the door.

MARHAM AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Marham Agricultural Society was held at Unionville, on Tuesday, the 14th inst. The following gentlemen were elected as officers for the current year: President, Robert Marsh; Vice-President, J. G. Ressor; Sec.-Treasurer, J. Spight; Directors: Wm. Padgett, Ed. Sanderson, Wm. Grainger, G. F. Fenwick, Edward Eckart, Peter Milne, John R. Hoover, G. R. Vanzan, Henry Eby; Auditors: G. Pingle and J. Fenwick.

WEST RIDING OF YORK AG. SOCIETY.—The West Riding of York Agricultural Society met at Weston, on Wednesday last, when the following officers were elected: J. P. Bull, Downsview, President; W. J. Montgomery, 1st Vice-President; Robert Clarke, 2nd Vice-President; John Goulding, Secretary; John W. Clarke, Treasurer. Directors: John Abell, Matthew Canning, Chas. Shaver, J. W. Elliott, J. Lamour, C. McLean, and Wm. Clarke. Auditors: Dr. Bull and Francis Butt. The address of the President and Secretary is Downsview P.O.

ANNUAL TEA MEETING.—The officers and teachers of the Richmond Hill Wesleyan Methodist Sabbath School have concluded to hold their annual tea meeting to-day (Friday), the 24th inst., in the W. M. Church of this town. In the evening addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Messrs. Dick, Hunt and Cardus. Singing will also be given by the scholars of the school. Tea served from 2 to 7 o'clock, P.M. Tickets, 25 cents each; children, under 12 years of age, 15 cents. The proceeds are to be devoted to the Sabbath School and it is earnestly hoped that there will be a large attendance of our villagers and others.

Good News.—The friends of the Wesleyan Church, opened at Teston last winter, announce their intention of holding their first anniversary on Sunday next, the 26th inst., when the Rev. A. Green, D.D., will preach morning and evening, at 10:30 A.M., and at 6 P.M. On the following Tuesday a grand tea meeting will be held in the church. Tea will be served at one o'clock, P.M. Addresses are expected to be delivered by the following eminent gentlemen: Rev. Messrs. Reid, Abels, McClung, Hunt and others. The choir will contribute to the entertainment by giving several choice selections of music. Friends are cordially invited to attend. Admission, 30 cents each; children, 15 cents.

at the United States received the St. Alban's were under the impression that the St. Alban's affair was solely by the British, but Jonathan has found which to cry for more. We are sure that if the above were assestated, surely the claims of the Fenian raids, of which we have a lively recollection, ought to be remembered.

of the Globe's denunciation of the Fenian raids, notwithstanding the fact that the "Great Blunderer." The election of a man Manning on Monday last to be Mayorality of Toronto is another instance of the old saying, that a man who is libbed a "corruptionist" by the press, is certain to be elected to some position of honor by his fellow citizens. Where is the Globe's influence? Who answers, where!

FATA.—We hear almost everybody complains of a cold. Take care of yourselves, dear readers, for you do not know how long you may live.

Plenty of snow. Use the shovel freely and keep the sidewalks clear, its good exercise.

GOOD.—Don't knock at the door of a printing office. Walk right in and pay your bill.
