OUR APOLOGY TO DAVID

BOYLE ESQ, REEVE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF VAUGHAN. About two weeks ago, the Reeve of the Township of Vaughan called at our office and handed us, with a view to the present, leave them to the due consideration of our readers: Anti Sentinel" which will be found In August last, Mr. Dodge was elected as below. After perusing the manuscript, we politely declined to publish it, thinking at the time, and meaning our refusal as such, that we were acting the part of a friend to Mr. Boyle. constituency, by, as the Globe admits, the united efforts of Conservatives and Liberals, and entered Parliament with a determination otherwise; with a record as a gentleman, which justly earned for him respect, and with a record as an enterprising man, which made his election a fitting and appropriete compliment. Last Friday, that is, immediately after his first vote in Parliament, the Globe discovered that Mr. Dodge had bribed and corrupted North York by wholesale, and had consummated his "offences agains "truth, electoral independence and public "morals by a cool, permeditated, atrocious "act of Forgery." The evidence advanced to support this charge, one of the most serious that could be made against any man, was that the name of "Septimus F. Ramsay M. A.," and that of "S. A. Clark, D. D., had been forged to certain alleged letters which were used during the election cam paign in the interest of Mr. Dodge. A. G. P. DODGE, ESQ., M.P.

A charge so explicit prompted a reply by Mr. Dodge from his place in Parliament. Although we question his discretion in noticeing it we can understand the indiganswer, and it is this:-"I distinctly de"clare that the statements made in the "(Globe's) article affecting me are nutrue. I have in my nossession the letter of the "Rev. Dr. Clark, of which the letter in the 'Globe is a copy. Though I do not know that the Rev. Canon Ramsay signed the "letter which purports to be written by him as set out by the Globe, I do know that his son, Dr. Ramsay, took the responsi-bility of obtaining his father's consent to "the publication; that during the election he never objected to or repudiated its authority or his responsibility for it, and clothing.

Dr. Clark's letter is thus disposed of sat isfactorily, and it rests between Canon Ram say and his son to dispose of the letter berring the Canon's signature. We do not know or care whether Dr. Ramsay forged his fateer's signature when we learn that Canon Ramsay knew of the publication of the letter, accepted the responsibility, and acquiesced in its effect. If Canon Ramsay did not believe that the contents of his letter were true, he perpetrated a fraud upon his the side road between lots 5 and 6 in and kindly invited to send one delegate parish, and is certainly accountable to his the 7th concession. ecclesiastical superiors for a criminal

But it is necessary to go further into de tail to discover the real state of facts Mr. Dodge says: -- "Two days after my election Dr. Ramsay called on me at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, with a note from his father, Canon Ramsay, demanding from me $2,500 for Dr. Ramsay's services du-"ring the canvass and election. I refused to comply with this deamnd, and was afterwards threatened with some exposure if I refused." Light begins to dawn upon this mysterious letter! A coalition between father and son seems to have been formed. The avaracious eyes of the Canon gleam with delight, and the Jawning pockets of the dissolute Doctor flap joyonsly in greedy expectation! $2,500! "A note from the father demanding from me $2,500 for Dr. Ramsay!" But, sad to say, this natural combination of clerical and medical forces exhausted its strength in vain.
