BE UP AND DOING!

We must keep the fact continually in mind, that unless we surpass our opponents in energy, organization, and devotion to our political principles, we cannot hope to surpass them in the race for the grand object of success. Nothing succeeds like success. In these times the multitude have gravitated into the habit of estimating a sentiment or a movement by the amount of good, bad, or indifferent results it may have attained. They have not time to stop and analyse and test whether the false enthusiasm, and the sham patriotism, and the hypocritical halloiah of painted patriots are masks and make-believes or not. The undiscriminating multitudes shout for those who win, and jeer the vanquished. It is well to have faith in our principles but it must be the faith that looks for its crown of glory in the triumph of the System. System is the secret of success, and our watchword should be—Organize! Organize! Organize!!! There is nothing so necessary to a living cause as a thorough, lively and energetic working organization. It is the life-pulse of the cause! The blow, in order to be effectual, must be delivered by the whole concentrated force and energy of the party, and not only that, but it must be under proper command so as to be delivered at the proper time and place. In order to do this, each member of the force must take a personal and a lively interest in the progress of organization, and sustain his own faith and that of his neighbor by continuous and unceasing effort. The faults and follies of the enemy—and they are legion—must be watched with the keenest scrutiny and their disastrous effects made intelligible to the community, not only through the press, but on every opportunity, public and private. The work must be carried out as planned, and then carried out in its minutest detail, with unerring fidelity. All this is necessary to complete success, and in order to attain it the master-spirits must be chosen and their behests implicitly obeyed and carried out faithfully and to the letter. The discipline of an army is no bad model under the circumstances, and does not at all preclude that intelligent criticism which is the right of every private citizen.

THE MUNICIPAL LOAN FUND.

The meeting held in the Court Room on Monday last, for the purpose of obtaining the views of the ratepayers as to the best method of disposing of our share of the Municipal Loan Fund, was adjourned until this (Friday) evening, at half past seven o'clock. We are glad to see that there is a stronger feeling against breaking into the fund and greater desire to secure to the village an annual income towards lessening our taxes. We still think that investing the money in safe securities and drawing the interest annually for school purposes the most advisable, but do not see any particular objection to the interest being drawn for village improvements if the proposed alteration in the law will permit, as either of these propositions will conduce to the permanent benefit of our village. To attempt to break up the fund now with our crude notions of what it should be spent for, with the most expensive scheme of improvement yet suggested only amounting to about a hundred dollars, an object which could be obtained by a single year's interest from the fund if invested,—we think would show, to say the least, a great want of foresight on the part of our people.

SIR ERASTUS JACKSON!

The gentlemen of the fourth estate will rejoice to learn that there is a probability of the Reeve of Newmarket being honored with a Baronetcy, or some such token of recognition of the magnificent way in which he did the honors on the occasion of the Governor General and Lady Dufferin's recent visit to Newmarket. He is said to have been remarkably civil and attentive to their Excellencies. We would expect it of Erastus, as he is a lady's man.

Correspondence.

ORILLIA CORRESPONDENCE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

THE ROYAL RECEPTION.
To-day Orillia sustained its reputation as an enterprising Canadian town by giving His Excellency the Governor General a right Royal Welcome. There were no half measures—people seemed to be determined that the affair should be unusually fine, and they surpassed their own expectations, and, in the words of the Governor General, "they went beyond what could reasonably be expected of them on such short notice." Lord Dufferin was delighted with the beautiful appearance of what is called "The Saratoga of Canada," and unhesitatingly declared it the loveliest spot that he had seen since coming to Canada.

OUTSIDE THE "NARROWS."

The Lady of the Lakes, on board which Lord Dufferin had embarked at Barrie, was met by a gaily decorated fleet of the steam cars belonging to the lake with banners and streamers flying and covered with festoons of flags, and they formed a triumphant convoy accompanying her to the wharf at Orillia; where a strong Committee of Arrangements received the distinguished visitor in carriages, one for His Excellency and Lady Dufferin and another for the Press.

"THE SARATOGA OF CANADA."

The appearance of the village from the water was very pretty. Its fluttering flags and myriad decorations adding much to the gaiety of the scene. The dark green of the arches, relieved by the white surfaces interspersed through them for the motes and descriptive paintings seemed like huge garlands, while the gay festoons of banners swayed in the bright summer sun.

THE INKNEPERS ARCH.

Mr. Shaver was exceedingly active in getting animals and all sorts of decorations for this arch. Among them was a deer which he crowned it and attracted general attention from the life-like grace and beauty of pose preserved in its shape by the taxidermist. Interspersed through the arch were well stuffed figures of owls, foxes, beavers and lynxes. There were various mottoes upon it.

THE MERCHANTS ARCH.

Was the result of private enterprise, and was got up at short notice on the morning of the day by Messrs Slaven, Scadding and Kennedy. It was situated between the Dominion Bank building and the exceedingly handsome Drug Store of Dr. Slaven. The whole circle of its arc was taken up with the motto "Welcome to High Latitudes," an allusion to his literary labors that brought a smile to the expressive countenance of His Excellency as he read it.

PER VIAS RECTAS.

Mr. Perry, of the "Dufferin House," Dry Goods Establishment, had a large beautiful banner displayed, emblazoned with a heraldic crest, and the arms of Dufferin. Lady Dufferin was much pleased with it, and it looked very creditable and more so as having been executed by Mr. Hammer, painter and photographer of this village. Mr. Perry has had the honor of an order from Lord Dufferin, and he will hereafter likely enjoy the well deserved distinction of tailor to His Excellency the Governor General.

THE CORPORATION ARCH.

Was a very imposing affair. It was the entry arch to the grounds, and its huge castellated turrets made a very good picture. On the summit of it was an immense gilded lion, flanked by two pieces of artillery, and the motto "Cada mille Parit."

THE ADDRESS.

Were read in the market ground and their Excellencies were received on an elevated dais prepared especially for the purpose and beautifully ornamented. His Excellency professed himself very much pleased with the loyal spirit of the address, and the warm allusion made to a close and continued connection with Britain, and thanked them for their good wishes for himself and Lady Dufferin. More anon.

"HOW CAN WE DO WITHOUT AGENTS?"

(To the Editor of the York Herald.)

DEAR SIR,—
I was pleased to see a communication in your issue of July 17th (from "Agricultural Enquirer") asking "How can we do without Agents?"

Being conscious of my inability to do the subject justice, and hoping by these few lines to stir some Agriculturalist more conversant with the subject than I am to transmit to you, for publication in your interesting paper, an article which will show this question of Agents in all its aspects.

I submit the following:—
Now, Sir, I ask without fear of successful contradiction that the Agricultural community of the Province of Ontario suffer at large an unnecessary loss annually, that loss being the supporting of a numerous class of Agents; which might be more profitably expended in educating our children, or making our homes more comfortable and attractive, and supplying a library of useful agricultural books and papers.

There can be no doubt that Agencies have been beneficial in the introduction of many useful implements into the country, persuading many to test them and afterwards to purchase them, to the mutual advantage of both agents and purchasers.

CRAWFORD'S RAMBLES.

RAMBLE No. 8.

MR. EDITOR,—Will you be kind enough to give the "Rambler" of Richmond Hill a space in the HERALD this week.

In last week's issue another "Rambler" makes his appearance. In the first place he states he was in a little backward state with the HERALD and, like a good Samaritan, he came and paid up all arrears. In the next place he states that he expected the Richmond Hill "Rambler" to visit that big village, Carville, after his visit to Patterson & Bros. I would be happy to do so if I thought it was such a place as it is represented to be, at the same time the "Rambler" of Carville must not forget the words of Shakespeare: "The mountains we are Labor and out came a mouse." Our "Rambler" next alludes to the wealth of Carville. I know perfectly well that it is a very industrious place, with different sets of mills, as the locality of Carville is just fit for the purpose.

But the "Rambler" of Carville must have seen the tail of the Comet that evaporated his brains when he neglected to give us a full account of the wealth of Carville. I never mentioned the Fowl Factory nor yet the Egg Factory that are doing a large business in their line. They say that the hens lay twice a day for the proprietors of these establishments.

I am happy to hear of the improvements in the Village of Carville, and especially church and schools.

He mentioned great attractions in Denton's Hill. If he gives me security that he won't get insane I will invite him to Richmond Hill to show him some stone here.

He next alludes to the church in Goble Town. I must say it is a nice structure.

He next states that the population is increasing. Now if he guarantees to feed all his horses for 12 hours I will send him out Barnum's Great Show; I won't mention water for there is plenty of that in Carville.

Mr. "Rambler," as your Village is getting such a noted place, Lord Dufferin might give you a call as he is on tour of pleasure.

He then alludes to the farmers not grubbing; I don't see why they should they can't have buck wheat and flour without one seed.

I bear that the only drawback to that village is the want of babies; if you are not blessed with them Carville is not behind, for I hear that it is dangerous for children to go out after dark for fear of being attacked by the potato bugs.

Now, Mr. "Rambler," I will bid you a hearty adieu, and I see you at the beginning of August. I hope you will show me round in a day as I have other engagements to fulfill, at the same time be on the look out for His Excellency for he might come on your unawares, like all Irishmen he is a sly old chap. Don't send him to the mills to sleep, Master Billy Cook will give him a bed.

As we are mostly young people here, your poetry is too ancient, in your next let us have something a little more modern.

I intend, this week, to give an account of a pugilistic encounter between two of our citizens on Yonge St., on Saturday evening last; but this, with some other items, will have to be left over for my next "Rambles."

FRED. CRAWFORD,
The Rambler.

FARMERS' CLUBS.

To the Editor of the York Herald.

MR. EDITOR,—I could scarcely say whether "Enquirer" wished to get or give information regarding Farmers' Clubs. The Langstaff Farmers' Club, he says, is composed of farmers and farmers' sons entirely, and if so, that is right. To my knowledge many of these are intelligent farmers and those of the right stamp. The Langstaff is a flourishing Club. It is true, in the Markham Club, there are a few who are not entirely dependent on farming for a livelihood; but these, instead of being smooth-tongued gentry and ruling the Club, form a very small minority whose speeches in debate have been characterized by intelligence and good sense. But even if such persons formed a majority of the working members of the Club who is to blame? Has not "Enquirer" a farmer, like many more who would be a power and an honor to the Club, instead of attending the meetings and endeavoring to bring the Club into a state of right working order, if wrong, thrown cold water on it by his absence. The By-Laws of the Markham Club, if wrong in any point, may at any time be easily amended. If "Enquirer" and many others had taken the interest in the Club that was expected of them, in place of two, there might to-day be half-a-dozen well organized Clubs in Markham. I would ask "Enquirer" how it is that even the leading men of our Agricultural Societies give little or no countenance to the Clubs, as if the members of such were a separate class and had no interest in common with themselves. A hint to the wise is sufficient. Mr. Editor, I am afraid of trespassing on your valuable space, and, like hundreds of brother farmers, am busily engaged in harvesting one of the finest crops our country has been blessed with for many years.

I remain, yours, &c.,
M. KHAM, July 27th, '74.

MUNICIPALITY OF RICHMOND HILL.

Denis Cor. O'Brien, Appellant,

AND
Parker Co. v. Ass. Wilson, Jno. Brown, Wm. Harrison, Wm. Atkinson, Jno. Arnold, Isaac Crosby, Arch. Wright, & Co.

Against Defects and Errors of Assessment Roll.

Public Notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that the Honourable J. G. Duggan, Esq., Judge of the County Court of the County of York, has appointed

Tuesday, the 4th August, at noon, at the Court Room at Richmond Hill, for hearing appeal against the assessments of the County of Revision for the above Municipality.

M. TEEFY, CLERK.
Richmond Hill, 29th July, '74. 825-1

Chicago is now fully aware of the conditions by which she can secure immunity from devastating conflagrations; and she will not cease until she has provided them. The wooden buildings are to be removed; more water is to be made available; the fire department is to be placed on a most effective footing. The loss has been costly, but if it is well improved the advantages will overbalance the disaster.

SINGLE MILL BURNED.—Hendricks & Lewis' shingle mill at Kirkfield, was burned on Friday evening last, also over eighty thousand shingles ready for shipment. The boiler exploded, but no one was hurt. There was no insurance. The loss is estimated at over two thousand dollars. The cause of the fire is unknown. The mill, now building, and belonging to Clifford & Wilson, was saved by great exertions, as the wind blew the fire towards it.

EMIGRATION.—We notice in some of our Scotch papers, that Mr. Thomas Graham, late local representative for the West Riding of York, and now Emigration agent for that district, had been in this city, being well received by the farm workers in that part of the world. On the 7th inst. he gave an address at Galsburgh, and at McLeod on the 8th. The subject, of course, was "Canada," the home for the industrious working man. Mr. Graham is evidently prosecuting his mission with vigor, and the results are in proportion.

THE DRUNKARD SATISFIED.—A poor inebriate walking, or rather rolling, home one night, accidentally stumbled on the pavement and rolled over in the gutter. Possibly being a little stunned by the fall, or the weight of the "springs" might have kept him down—however, there he lay till the water which usually runs in "strands" commenced to run into his mouth, when all at once he cried out, "No more, I thank you." Of course the water kept on its course; when, with a desperate effort, the drunkard got on his legs, the water dripping from him saying, "It never rains but it pours." If I had five cents to get my morning's dose, I am well offered a nap, let alone tryin' to drown me wif!

DIED.
BOWMAN.—At Thornhill, on the 29th inst., after a long and painful illness, James Bowman, Esq.—aged 69 years.

Funeral takes place from his late residence, Pine Grove Farm, Markham, on Friday, the 31st inst., at 2 p.m. Friends will please attend without further notice.

AUCTION SALES.
TUESDAY, Aug. 4.—Sale of Household Furniture, on Yonge Street, Richmond Hill. The property of Mr. G. A. Barard. Sale at 2 p.m. W. H. Myers, Auctioneer.
