

Tragic Affair at Guelph.

TWO PERSONS SHOT BY MISTAKE.

On Thursday last, a rumor reached Toronto that a determined attempt at double murder had been made in the ordinary quiet town of Guelph. The facts, as gleaned from the Globe and other sources appear to be these:—

John Hazle, a shoemaker, who has lived in Guelph and raised a family there, has for some time been very seriously troubled by the wayward and vicious disposition of his daughter, a girl of about sixteen, and has made repeated efforts to reclaim her, but to no purpose. She seems to have been suffering from what would certainly appear to be a premature attack of nymphomania, and was certainly tainted with insanity, as the following facts will establish.

The sorrow and distress which the girl had brought upon the family so far affected Mr Hazle that to reclaim her from the vicious course she was pursuing, he took advantage of the trace of insanity which was apparent in her actions, to have her placed in the Guelph jail as a lunatic, the certificate having been signed by Doctors Herd and Worsfold, and there can be no doubt from the report of these gentlemen that she was somewhat seriously affected. An application was shortly afterwards made to the proper authorities for her admission to the Lunatic Asylum, but no notice was taken of the appeal, probably on account of the crowded state of the asylum at that time. Mr Hazle thereupon placed her in the Magdalen Asylum in Toronto, where it soon became evident that she was suffering from disease contracted in some unaccountable way, and she was removed to the Hospital from which she shortly afterwards made her escape, and for some time it was not known where she was.

A few days ago, however, her father heard that she had been seen walking on the track of the W. G. & B. Railway in company with some young men who had months ago warned her not to associate with them. He became exasperated, and repeated the same had he frequently made to the girl herself when at home, that if he caught her he would kill her and anybody whom he might find with her. For some days he continued in this frenzied state and symptoms of the insanity which is believed to be an hereditary disease began to show themselves. On Thursday last he heard that she had been wandering about the country since her escape from the Magdalen, and that she was then somewhere in the neighborhood of the Catholic Cemetery, in company with some youths whom he had personally threatened some months ago. He gave no intimation as to what his intentions were, but armed himself with a seven-chambered revolver, and started up the track in search of her.

About three-quarters of a mile up the track is situated the Union Cemetery, of which Mr Calver is sexton, and a short distance from it is the Catholic Cemetery, adjoining which is the house of Mrs Hurley. The two families being very intimate, Miss Mary Calver had been on a visit to Mrs Hurley's house on Thursday evening, and Mr Daniel Hurley had professed his services to escort her home, which she accepted. As the two were walking along the track that being the nearest way to Mr Calver's house, they heard footfalls behind them, of which, however they took no notice, thinking that some boys were playing there, as is usually the case at that hour. Mr Hurley then turned to see who the boys were, when he saw a flash and became conscious that he had been injured in the eye, but not for some moments did he realize that he had been shot, which was the case, the ball having cut off his forehead, just above the eye, sufficiently near to affect the sight, and for the moment to leave the impression that the eye itself had been pierced. Immediately afterwards, Hurley having fallen, he became conscious of two other shots being fired, which afterwards proved to be those fired by Miss Calver, one of which entered her left neck, and passed out just below the ear. She did not fall, however, and Hazle discharged another shot, which lodged in her neck, when she fell, and the would-be murderer dragged her alongside the track, saying in a voice of the utmost anger, "lie there and die, and was on the point of firing at her again when the young lady, with great presence of mind, and great feebly, but fortunately so that he could hear her, "I am Mary Calver," which perfectly staggered the man, and in a voice of agony he exclaimed, "My God, I've made a mistake!" He then lifted the girl up, and asking her if she was able to walk, assisted her towards her father's house, all the way expressing his utmost regret as to what he had done. Mr Hurley in the meantime had managed to reach the house and was just telling the inmates of the occurrence when the girl arrived, accompanied by Hazle, who, as soon as the family got in an appearance, made his escape and has not since been heard of.

Some of the family immediately drove to the residence of Dr. Herd, who promptly responded to the call, and rendered all the assistance in his power. Soon after Dr. Herd had left his office, a man left a note there, of which the following is a copy:—

"Dr. Herd,—Some one has just been shot. Go to cottage at the back of the Catholic Cemetery next the railway track at once,—for God's sake!"

The man was not recognized, and no clue has yet been obtained as to who he can be. Dr. Herd reports that he has extracted the ball from the head of the young man Hurley, and unless brain fever supervenes he is likely soon to recover.

With regard to Miss Calver he is not so sanguine, as the ball which entered her neck took a downward and inward course, and though it is believed that it has lodged in the muscles in the lower part of the neck it may have ranged either further in or further down, in which case it may even if she recovers, prove very troublesome. Should inflammation of the neck ensue it is feared the case will prove fatal, as the girl is now in such a low condition that the least turn might alter all the hopes and calculations of Dr. Herd.

Up to the present, nothing has been heard of Hazle, and it is believed he is hiding in the bush about four miles from Guelph, in the neighborhood of Shirley's flock, with the hope of meeting his daughter, who is also supposed to be prowling about the same neighborhood. If she should happen to meet her there can be little doubt that he will kill her, and afterwards himself, as his position now has become such that he would be prepared for any desperate deed, regardless of the consequences, which could not be worse than what he most now expect should be captured. Meanwhile an active search is being made for him, and the police in the surrounding towns and villages have been notified.

Great sympathy is expressed for the two injured persons and their families, as well as for the family of the would-be murderer. Pity is also felt for Hazle himself, as he has a wife and four children in Guelph.

Since the above was in type, a telegram was received from Ottawa that Hazle was arrested at a hotel in that place shortly after his arrival. He admits that he committed the deed with which he is charged, but feebly that he shot two innocent parties. He is now confined in the cells, awaiting the arrival of an officer from Guelph.

"WEBSTER"

Family Sewing Machine

FIRST PRIZE

TAKING into consideration the fact that the Webster Sewing Machine has been before the public only about eighteen months and the unprecedented number of over two thousand have been sold so short a time is sufficient to convince the most incredulous of the superiority of the Webster over all others.

It carried off nearly all the leading prizes for the fall of 1873. It is constructed in the most complete, solid and substantial manner; consequently less liable to get out of repair. It is so adjusted to handle that the operator can adjust the stitch or regulate the tension while the machine is in motion.

The Webster will do all kinds of work, heavy or light, coarse or fine, it has a straight needle, makes the lock stitch, performs intricate sewing on any description of material, with cotton, linen, or silk thread. It bears, felt, cord, braids and gathers.

A Complete Set of the most approved attachments with each Machine.

We would beg to call the attention of those wanting first-class machines to be sure and see before purchasing any other. Price, $35. By calling on, or addressing the undersigned he would gladly give them the privilege of examining the machines.

A PUBLIC CAUTION.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment are neither manufactured nor sold in the United States, although they may be obtained in the U. N. American Provinces.

Each Pot and Box of my preparation bears the British Government Stamp, with the words, "Holloway's Pills and Ointment, London," engraved thereon.

It has become necessary to make this announcement, because the New York Chemical Company (who pay nobody), finding at last that their name has been so exposed, have assumed the title of Holloway and Co., but, even now, no one will buy their medicines direct from them, so that they have made arrangements to supply exclusively the firm of Messrs Henry and Co., of New York, with their so-called "Holloway's Pills and Ointment."

It is presumed that, from the large connection Messrs Henry and Co. have in the British Provinces and elsewhere, the public is very likely to be imposed upon by unscrupulous vendors and others unless they exercise great caution to prevent their being misled, by finding these medicines bearing a stamp with the name of "Holloway and Co., New York," printed thereon.

Many respectable firms in the British Provinces, who obtain my medicines direct from here, have very properly suggested that I should, for the benefit of themselves and the public, insert their names in the papers, that it may be known that my medicines can be had genuine from them.
