The Mork Merald.

RICHMOND HILL, Nov. 27, 1874.

HOW WILL THEY PUT IN THE TIME?

That is certainly a question of some moment to our Legislative Assembly at the present time, for the Bill of fare supplied by the speech from the throne is so meagre, that the country already in your columns to anything of local interest begins to ask what possible excuse they to your numerous pations, I beg to trouble is so meagre, that the country already have for remaining in session at all? You with the following communication:—
I had much pleasure, on the evening of There are, however, an abundance of the 19th inst., in attending a social and lee texts about which the country is not only disposed to listen to any explanations which may be given, but is urently anxious for information.

Arise, Mr Archibald McKellar, thou and quantity, the ladies of Wesley Church ably sustaining their already well-known scandel, cut of mere sympathy and let and thy silvery laugh, discourse eloquent-intellectual feast of the evening, which was by on Agriculture; thy joy of joys! How provided by the Rev. Jno. E. Lanceley, of many more thousands are to be engulfed | thelph. del, but still it might be useful, if not amusement of our statesmen!

Or, again, why not sound the trumpet in that valley of dry bones-the Crown Lands Department? Are there not quite a number of secret skeletons. lying in musty cupboards, and firmly fastened and fettered with the orthodox redtape, that might spring into life to tell stories that the country are anxious to know. Wherefore that huge forced sale of timber limits at a period when they were When, on the other hand, had they been Let some member of the Government while away the time by rising and explaining.

The freedom of the press is an ever fruitful theme of discussion. There are some people in this country who would just like to know whether the Government is right in orushing out "free dis cussion" as it recently did in the case of the Mail. The chronicles of the Star chamber might be furbished up by the Government, to do duty over again. in the controversy. in the treatment of this disease.

In simple cases sometimes one or two doses Colored Lustres, Cohourgs, suffice. In the most chronic cases it is sure to give way by the use of two or three bottles. By this efficient and simple remedy hundreds of dollars are saved to those who can least afford to throw it away, as surely it is by the pur chase of useless proscriptions.

This medicine is prepared by a careful, experienced and conscientious physician, in obedience to the desire of numberless friends in the profession, in the trade and among the people. Every bottle is warrented to contain the full strength of the medicine in its highest state of purity and development, and is superior to any medicine over compounded for this terrible camplaint,
