THE AMNESTY QUESTION.

Nothing could better demonstrate the time-serving, weakened policy of the present Government than the miserable abortive effort at statesmanship which they have compassed in dealing with the North West troubles. As in everything else, they have completely abandoned the policy so violently and unscrupulously advocated by them while in opposition, and adopted an infinitely more servile and ignoble course than any of which they dared to accuse the then existing Government. That Government made superhuman efforts to arrive at a correct solution of the difficulty, and did all that was in the power of mortal men to do in order to reconcile conflicting interests and to tranquilize the nation. The great stumbling block at that time was, the conduct of the Opposition of that day, who were continually disseminating information tending to excite the people and embarrass the Government. It was they that scattered their incendiary information among the ignorant denizens of the western wilds, and excited them into the commission of acts that nearly destroyed that fabric which had been reared by the genius and perseverance of our great Statesmen. Sir John McDonald, in a powerful and finely descriptive speech, clear as crystal, laid the policy of his Government before the House of Commons last week. It was a masterly effort and produced an electric effect upon the Commons. He traced the whole history of the diplomatic transactions into which his Government entered for the acquisition of the Hudson Bay Territory, and conclusively demonstrated that their efforts in that direction were scrupulously peaceful and severely constitutional, and would most undoubtedly have been crowned by success were it not for the unhappy effect produced by the plausible misrepresentations of their intentions industriously disseminated by the Opposition. With that enlightened forbearance which is the highest characteristic of the true statesman, he forbore to add to the embarrassment of the present Government by offering any partisan opposition, apart from the necessary explanatory defence which was due to his own policy. He placed country above party in the noblest, truest and most patriotic sense of the term. The people of Canada will see this and add it to the numberless cases in which he has earned their eternal gratitude. We do not think, however, that the question is forever set at rest, and we foresee numberless unhappy complications that are likely to arise out of it. For example, where is the penalty attached to any of the conditions of exile or banishment? There are a great many other difficulties that have not been taken into consideration, but which will become apparent as they develop themselves.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION.

(To the Editor of the York Herald.)

The following may prove interesting to some of your readers.
The Sabbath School Association of the East and West Ridings of the County of York, met in their sixth annual convention in the Wesleyan Methodist Church, at the village of Thornhill, on the 17th and 18th inst. The weather was very unfavorable and in many cases the roads were almost impassable; but the deep interest felt in the cause of sabbath schools caused a great number of delegates and visitors to face the inclemency of the weather, and assemble at the place appointed at an early hour of the first day.
The morning session opened at 10.30 a.m. with devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. Mr Keough; the President in the chair, minutes of last meeting read and approved. Nominating and business committees were then appointed to be convened by Rev. J. Hunt and Mr H. R. Wales, respectively, after which several school reports were read by delegates and the meeting adjourned.
At 2 o'clock p. m. the chair was resumed, and after singing and prayer, the President, Mr Wm. Clarry, read an address on the importance of sabbath school work. It was during this session that the mass meeting of the children was assembled, and although it was intended to last one hour, the scholars remained till the close of the session at about 5 p. m. The Rev. Mr Leonard in a short address impressed upon the children that the religious instructions they were receiving in the sabbath school was simply a means to a great end: the conversion of their immortal souls and their eternal salvation. He then asked many simple, but important questions on the commandments, showing the intimate connection of the two great commandments of the New Testament, with the ten of the Old. Rev. Mr McDermid reminded the children of the great facilities afforded them for obtaining religious instruction, which were not available in earlier years. He considered Bible knowledge very important, but a living faith in God as the one great object to be gained by the pursuit of such knowledge.
Rev. Mr Fishburn called, spoke of Jesus as the friend of the young, and referred to the many beautiful passages contained in the New Testament, relating to children, and showing the special notice taken of them by the Saviour. He also spoke of the evil that is in the hearts of all by nature and the necessity of its removal before we can hope to please God.
A very interesting feature in the proceedings of the afternoon was the infant class lesson, conducted by Miss H. Foster, of Newton Brook, who seemed to have a happy tact of impressing upon the minds of the children the main truths of the lesson by frequent repetitions, at the same time so skillfully entwining them with the narrative of Caleb's inheritance that there was no approach to monotony. Miss Foster then sang an essay on infant class teaching, enforcing the necessity of simplicity and originality, a heart full of love for the souls of children and deep sense of the responsibility of the work. The afternoon session closed with singing and benediction.
Evening session opened with singing and prayer, after which the members of the convention listened to an address of welcome by Rev. Mr Keough, who expressed a deep interest in the sabbath school cause and great pleasure at meeting so many earnest co-workers on this happy occasion. A senior class was now conducted by Mr Purkiss, of Thornhill, on the plan of the International lesson leaves. In the discussion that followed, a great many different methods were recommended and a great many different ideas on the lesson itself suggested. Rev. J. Hunt in introducing the subject "Best method of instruction," spoke of Christ as a model teacher, dwelling on his simplicity and gentleness, but earnestness, which caused the common people to hear him gladly, referring to his illustrations drawn from familiar objects which seemed to fix his teaching on the minds of his hearers. He thought though we might be very poor imitators it was best to have a perfect model. The meeting was then closed in the usual manner.
