TERMS: SI PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE. hear Book and Job Printing Establishment

FFICE - YONGE ST., RICHMOND HILL.

Merald.

RICHMOND HILL, ONTARIO, CANADA. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19. 1875.

THE YORK HERALD TAUBLISHED AT THE OFFICE

YONGE ST., RICHMOND HILL.

Issued Weekly on Friday Morning. Terms: (Ine Dollar per Annum in Advance

ALEX. SCOTT, PROPRIETOR

VOL. XVII. NO 25.

THE YORK HERALD

าร เกิดสำรัชการก

Syrup.

Note iterate will always be found to contain the latest and most important foreign and Local News and Markets, and the greatest care will be taken to render it acceptable to the man of business, and a valuable Fandly Newspaper.

Terms: One Dollar per annum in advance, if not paid within two months, One Dollar and Fifty Cents will be charged.

No paper discontinued until all arreavages are paid; and narries seems.

No paper discontinued until all arreavages are paid; and parties refusing papers without paying up will be held accountable for the subscription.

All lotters addressed to the editors must

ADVERTISING RATES.

PERINCH $4 00 One inch, one year... Two inches, one year ... Each subsequent insection 22 inches to be considered one column.

Advertisements without written direction Advertisements without written direction inserted till forbid, and charged accordingly. All transitory advertisements from regular or irregular customers, must be paid for when handed in for insertion.

PHIC HICKALD BOOK & JOB PRINTING A ESTARLISHMENT.

Orders for lany of the undermentioned descrintion of

Plain & Colored Job Work will be promptly attended to : Fancy Bills, Business Cards, Circulars, Law

Forms, Bill Heads, Blank Checks, Drafts, Blank Orders, Receipts, Letter Heads, Fancy Cards, Pamphlets, Large and Small Posters, and every other kind of Letter-Press Print-

Having made large additions to the printing material, we are better prepared than ever to do the neatest and most beautiful printing of every description.

DEUGGISTS.

H. SANDERSON & SON. PROPRIETORS OF THE Corner of Young and Centre streets East have constantly on hand a good assortment of Drugs, Paints, Perfumery, Chemicals Oila, Toilet Soaps, Medicines, Varnishes Francy Articles, Dye Stuffs, Patent Medicines and all other articles kept by druggists cherally. Our stock of medicines warranted genuine, and of the best qualities.

Richmond Hill, Jan 25, 72 705

TROMAS CARR,

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Groceries, Wines, and Liquors, Thornholl. By Royal Letters Patent has been appointed Is-suer of Marriage Licenses.

EDENTISTEEL.

A. ROBINSON'S, L. D. S. Vew method of extracting teeth without external agency, when the tooth can be extracted with no pain and without endangering the life, as in the use of Chloroform. Dr. ring the life, as in the use of Chloroform. Robinson will be at the following place-prepared to extract teeth with his new aps paratus. All office operations in Dentistry performed in a workmanlike manner:

Aurora, 1st, 3rd, 16th and 22d of each mont Richmond Hill, 9th and 24th Mt. Albert 15th Thoraldl. 23rd ..28th28th Kleinburg 29th Nobleton 30th

Nitrous Oxide Gas always on hand at Aurora, April 28, 1870 . . . 615-tf

W. H. & R. PUGSLEY.

est remunerating prices. Toronto, Dec. 3, 1867.

Jan'y 8, 1873.

ADAM H. MEYERS, JR.,

(Late of Duggan & Meyers,) BARRISTER. ATTORNEY AT-LAW, SOLICITOE IN CHANCERY, CONVEYANCER,

Me., &c.
Office; No. 12 York Chambers, Soutz-Toronto, Ont. January 15, 1873.

J. H. SANDERSON.

LIETERINARY SURGEON, Graduate of Yonge and Centre Sts. East, Richmend Hill, begs to announce to the public that he is now practising with H. Sanderson, of the same the Province.

Horses examined as to soundness, and also bought and sold on commission. Hotel, ticks, and Hill, Jan. 25, 1872, 507 a rival

PATENT MEDICINES.

PROCLAMATION

Every Friday Morning,
And dispatched to subscribers by the earliest Bronchitis, &c., it is also a good Soothing Stands permanently above every other Rem-LSO, the Pain Victor is Infallible for A LSO, the Pain Victor is illianted to Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Flox, Colie, Cholera Morbus, Pain and Cramp in the Stomach and Bowels, &c.

The pregnant storm clouds threaden as they To hard their thunders on the world below, While fainting spirits sigh for coming day To sweep with golden wings the night away.

Directions with each bottle and box Manufactured by H. MUSTARD, Proprietor, Ingersoll, 3 50 Sold by Druggists generally. 1 00 The Dominion Worm Candy is the medicine o expel worms. Try it.

> WM. MALLOY. DARRISTER, Attorney, Solicitor-in-than cery, Conveyancer, & OFFICE -No. 6 Royal Insurance Buildings, Toronto, Dec. 2, 1859.

D. C. O'BRIEN. A CCOUNTANT, Book-Keeper, Convey A ancer, and Commission Agent for the sale or purchase of lands, farm stock, &c., also for the collection of rents, notes and accounts. Charges Moderate.

J. SEGSWORTH, DEALER IN FINE GOLD AND SIL-ver Watches, Jewelry. &c., 113 Yonge

DROWNED IN A RISING TIDE.

A Stranger's Torrible Fate in a Long Island Croek.

From the New York Sun

Street, Toronto.

As two laborers on the Long Island City Shore Railroad were crossing the long, dreary causeway spanning Sunswick creek, which separates Astoria from Rayenswood, early the other morning, they noticed an object in the water. The tide was low, but the rough, wintry wind raised such heavy ruftles that it was difficult for the men to determine whe-RICHMOND HILL DRUG STORE, torner of Young and Centre streets East have constantly on hand a good assortment of Drugs, Paints, Perfumery, Chemicals of Drugs, Paints, Perfumery, Wishington Variables, Total & Seasy Medicines, Variables, The Configuration of the Paints of fully exposed. The policeman attempted to drag the body from the water, but it was fast held to the bottom, and resisted his utmost cfforts. Coroner Maujer, of Winfield, was summoned, and he and a group of villagers gradually pulled the corpse from the mud.

The body was that of a man about forty five years old/five feet seven inches in height, with sandy complexion. The feetunes were wildly contorted and wrinkled, as though he had died in agony. He was dressed in a brown cardigan jacket, a black velvet vest, brown undershirt, light pepper and-salt pantalosis, and light shippers of German make. There was $5.95 in German silver coin in his pockets. The face and hands had been baddy care the face and hands had been baddy care from the face and hands and face from the face and hands had been baddy care from the face and hands and face from the face efforts. Coroner Manier, of Winfield was ly eaten by fishes. The body was borne to the Sunswick hotel. N pain, by the use of Ether Spray, which affects the teeth only. The tooth and gan surrounding becomes insensible with the external agency, when the tooth can be external agency, when the tooth can be external agency is a surrounding becomes insensible with the external agency.

Shore Railroad, in that they, while laying a Levasseur and his confederates sailed for now track across the causeway, had taken the penal settlements in the ill-fated convict-

(SUCCESSORS TO W. W. CON.)

BUTCHERS, RICHMOND HILL, HAVE
Balways on hand the best of Beef, Mutton, Lamb, Veal, Pork, Szusages, &c., and sell at the lowest prices for Cash.

Also, Corned and Spiced Beef, Smoked and Dried Hams.

The highest worked with each selection of the causeway the water has been partially resisted and the back country has become a dreary waste. On the Astoria side decrease in the lowest price of cash, as many of my brother-officers the most former of the causeway the water has been partially resisted and the back country has been partially resisted and the back country has been partially resisted and the back country has been granted the discover the offenders, the threads of the imperfect and broken clue were placed in my hands, to see if my somewhat renowned dexterity, or luck, as many of my brother-officers the most former of the causeway the water has been partially resisted and the back country has been granted to discover the offenders, the threads of the imperfect and broken clue were placed in my hands, to see if my somewhat renowned dexterity, or luck, as many of my brother-officers the most former of the causeway the water has been partially resisted and the back country has been partially as the back country has been partially resisted and the back country h

SWALLOWED IP BY THE TIME.

PETER S. GIBSON,

[PROVINCIAL LAND: SURVEYOR, Civil Engineer and Draughtsman.

Orders by letter should state the Concession, Lot and character of Survey, the subscriber having the old Field Notes of the late D. Gibson and other surveyors, which should be consulted, in many cases as to original work.

Office at Willowedars. Younge Street, in the Township of York.

SWALLOWED IP W THE THE.

SWALLOWED IP WITHE THE.

It is supposed that the drowned man was caught in the treacherous bottom of these measures beloamed and in the crucible had fatally diminished the chances of detection. The only hope was, meadows, and was there imprisoned until the chances of detection. The only hope was, meadows and along the traced reward night induce one of the gang to betray his confederates; and as collect of pound, many of which are scathered over the meadows and along its steep borders, and aeross the soft, pulpy much his printil footsteps could be traced. Through the tempest of the night he probably struggled, and each step took him deeper into the mire, adding to the horror and hopelessness of detection. The only hope was, meadows, and was there imprisoned until the chances of detection. The only hope was, that an increased reward night induce one of the gang to betray his confederates; and as the property was of large value, this was done, and one hundred gainess of detection. The only had the crucible had fatally diminished the chances of detection. The only had the crucible had fatally diminished the chances of detection. The only had the crucible had fatally diminished the chances of detection. The only had the caught in the crucible had fatally diminished the chances of detection. The chance of detection.

It had been to the printer the cau of his situation, and he sunk powerless to past ten o'clock through Ryder's Court, Newhelp himself. His face was covered with the

of his situation, and he sunk powerless to help himself. His face was covered with the green mould and slime when he was taken from the quagmire.

The body was unrecognized, and, as there is no morgue in Astoria, it was placed at once in a plain, pine coffin, and in the afternoon was buried. There was no clue to the dead man's identity beyond a couple of German steps sounded suddenly behind me. I insurance the was provided suddenly behind me. I insurance the was nothing remarkable in that, as the weather was bitterly cold and sleety; and was laid so provided suddenly behind me. I insurance the was nothing remarkable in that, as the weather was bitterly cold and sleety; and was laid as provided suddenly behind me.

newspapers found on his body, Many persons in Astoria believe that the man was murdered and thrown into the 756-ly creek; others think that it is a case of suicide; but it is the general opinion that he was caught in the quagnire and died, after hours of torture, in the stream that slowly crept through the timbers of the flood-gate.

practising with H. Sanderson, of the same thousand rooms, at a cost, with furniture, of a sensation of faintness; and before I recoving place, where they may be consulted person two million dollars. It will cover about four ered from it all chance of successful pursuit a person is he?"

I described him minutely; but Madame cattle, &c.

All orders from a distance promptly attended to, and medicine sent to any part of the world in size. Construction will begin market; and as proclaiming the attack would

WAITING FOR MORNING.

The concluding portion of the Rev. W. Morley Punshon's celebrated Lecture on "John Banyan," freely translated into poetry.

The following lines having been sent to Mr. Pun-hon for his approval before publication, the rev. catheman was pleased to reply that "they are aithfully and spiritedly rendered."

Come, light of morning, glorious morning come. To burst the chains of night and chase the gloom

How weary stands the watcher, cold and pal tipon the hilltop, 'mid the night wind's wail Hew anxious linger still the cager throng To catch the signal for the morning song.

Oft has the cry ascended through the night,
"O watcher, seest thou yet ne glean of light
As off responsive came the sad reply,
"No ray of morning yet has kissed the gky."

Yet, here and there, the warring clouds betwee A twinkling star with struggling light is seen To point like beacon o'er the billowe' crest, Where peaceful waters in the haven rest,

And soon shall come the time, nor linger long, When watchmen's sight shall mellow into song And souls despondent shall rejoice to lear The happy tidings that the morn is near.

"Tis morn, I feel the snulight round me now; The matin zephyr softly fans my brow; My thirsting eye dribks in the welcome light. And day victorious triumphs over night. so for the collection of rents, notes and accounts. Charges Moderate.

Office: Richmond street, Richmond Hill.

700-ly

Now, like a curtain, spreading far and wide,
The mist is gathered from the mountain slde;
In carling felds it vanishes from view,
White laughing surbeams dance upon the dew.

'Tis morning for the man to labor born; Oppression now is crushed, its power is shorn; No more shall famine gaunt with bideous tace Gloat o'er its victims of the human race.

Long social darkness has the world enslaved Long bareful ignorance the mind depraved; But now their power and dark despotic sway Shall shrink in terror from the light of day.

Now, manumitted by the Eternal plan. The serf of Satun shall become a man: And this the motto on his shield shall be:--"He is a freeman whom the truth makes free Tis morn: the student meek shall toil no mo For scowling doubt has fled from earth away

For seewling doubt has fled from earth All sophistry is husbed, and error's mist is lifted from the face of truth for aye. Tis morn for him who loves his fellow man; For now shall be redressed the wrongs of his Now men shall summer in perpetual love, And reigning harmony extinguish strifte.

Tis morning now for those who love their God And voice of skander shall no more be h at happy millions shall in hymns expres The fullness of a hope so long deferred.

The timid slave of superstition's rule Shall snap the iron of his galling chain. And to the music of its bursting links His ransouned nature shall rise free again.

The rebel sinner who defled his King Shall lay his weapons at the Savione's feet. And deeply contrite, his submissive heart shore Railroad, in that they, which a shore Railroad, in that they, which is a bread against the causeway, had taken down the fence and had neglected to provide a guard against the quagmires on either side.

THE REVENGE. BY A LONDON DETECTIVE OFFICER

THE QUAGMIRE.

The point at which the body was found is a lonely and somewhat isolated spot on the outskirts of Astoria. It is just opposite the northern point of Blackwell's Island and about a quarter of a mile up Sunswick creek, which makes up from the river, at first in a deop channel, and then spreads itself over the dreary meadow lands that reach to the banks of the Duton Kills. The whole valley, which is several miles long and a half mile banks of the Duton Kills. The whole valley, which is a trackless waste, interspersed with a body of the creek and untanneable are the instincts of hate and revenge in a certain class of minds.

A robbery of plate had been committed in Portman Square with an ingenuity and hold.

The bound of the crew and prisoners, excited so painful a sensation in England. A feeling of regent for the untimely late of Le Breton, whom I regarded rather as a weak dupe than a purposed rather a which is several miles long and a half mile wide, is a trackless waste, interspersed with rank, wild grass, slimy pools, and treacherous ferns. It belongs to the State, but nothing has been done to reclaim it, and it is shanned. It is a land of quicksand, of oozy and pools, and tangled bogs, and it is said to discover the offenders, the threads of the blat no new who are volumed many larger and untaneable are the instincts of harde and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in his case, which left no doubt that it had been effected by clever and untaneable are the instincts of harde and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in his which left no doubt that it had been effected by clever and untaneable are the instincts of hade and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in left and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in left and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in left and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in left and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in left and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in left and revenge in a certain class of minds. A robbery of plate had been committed in left and revenge in a certain class of minds.

has had been seen lurking about the house a few side days previous to the burglary, it had been Dried Hams.

The highest market price given for Cattle;
Sheep, Lambs, &c.

Richmond Hill, Oct. 24, '72.

Richmond Hill, Oct. 24, '72.

Richmond Hill, Ost. SHOE STORE

Richmond Hill, Oct. 24, '72.

Richmond Hill, Oct.

the missing property had been either pawned or offered for sale, and little doubt remained stinctively turned; and as I did so, received a violent blow on the left shoulder—intended I doubted not for the nape of my neck—from the tall individual who had passed me a min-ute previously. As he still held the hand-kerchief to his face, I did not eatch even a was caught in the quagmire and died, after tours of torbure, in the stream that slowly momentary glance at his features, and he ran off with surprising speed. The blow, sudden, it perfect through the timbers of the flood-cate.

St. Louis is to have a big hotel, with two housand rooms, at a cost, with furniture, of we million dollars. It will cover about four the form it all chance of successful nursuit reached me this morning, that if you could light upon one Armstrong, alias Rowden, it would be as certainly yours as if already in your pocket.

"Armstrong - Rowden!" repeated me this morning, that if you could light upon one Armstrong, alias Rowden, it would be as certainly yours as if already in your pocket.

"Armstrong - Rowden!" repeated me this morning, that if you could light upon one Armstrong, alias Rowden, it would be as certainly yours as if already in your pocket.

"Armstrong - Rowden!" repeated me this morning, that if you could light upon one Armstrong, alias Rowden, it would be as certainly yours as if already in your pocket.

"Armstrong - Rowden!" repeated me this morning, that if you could light upon one Armstrong, alias Rowden, it would be as certainly yours as if already in your pocket.

"Armstrong - Rowden!" repeated me this morning, that if you could light upon one Armstrong, alias Rowden, it would be as certainly yours as if already in your pocket.

"Armstrong - Rowden!" and would be as certainly yours as if already in your pocket.

"Armstrong - Rowden!" and with a sharp instruction of a sensation of faithers, and before I recoverable.

next spring. Boston capitalists providing the money. Until the erection of the Palace of it, I said little about it to any one, and managed to conceal it entirely from my wife.

The first is a spread of the palace of it, I said little about it to any one, and managed to conceal it entirely from my wife.

The said, no intelligence of any reliable worth:

to be unexpectedly detained from home.

The brief glimpse I had of the banked assassin afforded no reasonable indication of his identity. To be sure he ran at an amazing and unusual pace, but this was a qualifition possessed by so many of the light-legged as well as light-ingered gentry of my professional acquaintance, that it could not justify even a random suspicion; and I determined to forget the unpleasant incident as soon as possible.

The third evening after this occurrence I was again passing along Leicester Square at a somewhat late hour, but this time with all my eyes about me. Snow, which the wind blaw sharply in one's face, was falling fast,

This lady, some years before, had carried on, not very far from the spot where she now stood, a respectable millinery business. She was a widow with one child, a daughter about seven years of ago. Marie Louise, as she was named, was one unfortunate day sent to [lost]. The first part of the first par Coventry street on an errand with some mone in her hand, and never returned.

The inquiries set on foot proved utterly without effect; not the slightest intelligence of the fate of the child was obtained and the grief and distraction of the bereaved mo-ther resulted in temporary insanity. She was confined in a lunatic asylum for seven or ight months, and when pronounced conval-scent, found herself homeless, and almost penniless, in the world.

This sad story I had heard from one of the keepers of the asylum during her sojourn there. It was a subject she borself wears.

Janhert asked in a low residual darket asked in a low residual there. It was a subject she herself never, I there. It was a subject she herself never, I was aware, touched upon; and she had no reason to suspect that I was in the slightest degree informed of this melancholy passage in her life. She, why, I know not, changed her name from that of Duquesne to the one she now bore—Jaubert; and for the last she now bore—Janhert; and for the last two or three years had supported a precari-ous existing by plausible begging letters ad-dressed to persons of credulous benevolence; for which offence she had frequently visited the police courts at the instance of the secre-tary of the Mendicity Society, and it was there! had consequently made her acquaint-

"Madame Jaubert!" I exclaimed, with infeigned surprise, "why, what on earth an you'be waiting here for on such a night ons: 'To see you!" was her curt reply. 'To see me! Depend upon it, then, y are knocking at the wrong door for not the first time in your life. The very little faith I ever had in professional widows, with twelve small children, all down in the measles, has long since vanished, and "Nay," she interrupted she spoke English, by the way, like a native "I'm not such a fool as to be trying the whimpering dodge upon you. It is a matter of business. You want to find Jem Martin?"

"Ay truly; but what are now know of 'I'm not Ay, truly; but what can you know of him! Surely you are not yet fallen so low as to be the associate or accomplice of burg-

Neither yet, nor likely to be so," replied the woman; "still I could tell you where to place your hand on James Martin, I were but sure of the reward. There can be no doubt about that," I

Then follow me, and before ten minutes e past you will have secured your man.
I did so—cautiously, suspiciously; for my dventure three evenings before had rendered me anusually circumspect and watch-ful. She led the way to the most crowded quarter of St. Gles's, and when she had reached the entrance of a dark, blind alley, called Hine's Court, turned into it, and beek-on doubt me you doubt me?"

"How came you acquainted with this robber's haunts?"

"The explanation is easy, but this is not the time for it. Stay; can't you get assistance?"

Easily in less than ten minutes; and if you are here when 1 return, and your infor-mation proves correct. I will ask pardon for my suspicions."

"Be it so," she said joyfully; "and be quick, for this weather is terrible."

Ten minutes had not passed when I returned with half-a-dozen officers, and found Madame Jaubert still at her post. We fol-lowed her up the court, caught Martin sure enough asleep upon a wretched pallet of straw in one of the alley hovels, and walked though assect upon a wretened panet of straw in one of the alley hovels, and walked him off, terribly seared and surprised, to the nearest station-house, where he passed the remainder of the night.

The next day Martin proved an olibi of the istinctest, most underfable kind. He had een an inmate of Clerkenwell prison for the ast three months, with the exception of just six days previous to our capture of him; and he was of course at once discharged. The reward was payable only upon conviction of the offender, and the disappointment of poor

Madame Jaubert was extreme.

She wept bitterly at the thought of being compelled to continue her present disreputable mode of life, when a thousand france sum she believed Martin's capture would ave assured her besides sufficient for her traveling expenses and decent outfit, would she said, purchase a partnership in a small but respectable millinery shop in Paris. Well, I remarked to her, there is no reason for despair, You have not only proved your sincerity and good faith, but that you possess a knowledge how acquired you best know of the haunts and hiding-places of burglars. how acquired

"The reward, as you may have seen by the ew placards, has been doubled; and I have strong opinion, from something that has reached me this morning, that if you could light upon one Armstrong, alias Rowden, it was at an end.

The wound, which was not at all serious, I had dressed at a chemist's shop in the Hay-hope of discovering his whereabouts; and ulbrarket; and as proclaiming the attack would be attack would be attack which was not at all serious, I have a way in a disconsolate mood, and a proclaiming the attack would be attack which was not at all serious, I have a way in a disconsolate mood, and a serious at a serious and a serious at a seriou painful apprehensions whenever I happened to be unexpectedly detained from home.

The brief glimpse I had of the baulked assassin afforded no reasonable indication of his blattis, and a gleam of hope glauced across habits, and a gleam of hope glauced across the London Standard.

Jauhert asked in a low voice.

"Yes; what do you want with him?"

"I have brought a gentleman who will most likely be a purchaser of some of the goods he has to dispose of."

"Walk in, if you please," was the reply. We did so; and found ourselves as the door closed in pitch darkness.

"This way," said the woman: "you shall have a light in half a minute."
"Lee me guide you" said Madame days.

short of examation rangement.

It was some time, on partially recovering my senses, before I could realize either what had occurred, or the situation in which I found myself. Gradually, however, the ineitens attending the artfully prepared treachers of Madame Jaubert grew into distinctness, and I pretty well comprehended my present position. I was lying at the bottom of a cart, blindfold, gagged, handcuffed, and covered actor by what, from their smell, seemed.

called Hine's Court, turned into it, and beek oned me to follow.

"Nay, nay, Madame Jambert," I exclaimed, "that won't do. You mean fairly, I dare say; but I den't enter that respectable countenance of Levissery stooged over me.

"Madame Jambert and James Martin were also there; and ever and aron the menacing countenance of Levissery stooged over me.

"Concerning Little Bills."

passed through them, and round my amplis.

This effected an authoritative voice the now distinct recognition of which thrilled me with dismay – ordered that I should be unblinded. It was done; and when my eyes became somewhat accustomed to the sudden-and the clerk Dubarle standing directly in front of me, their faces kindled into flame by fiendish triumph and delight, Pro mr Continued. ----

Circumstances Alter Cases.

From the Vicksburg Herald. The other day, while a Vicksburger was siding toward Jackson in his buggy, he saw a long-haired young man sitting on a road-side fence. There was such an air of utter desolation about the countryman that the Vicksburger drew rein and inquired:

"For God's sake! what ails you, young "Nothing, for God's sake !" was the meck reply.

But is any one dead?

"Hain't heard of anybody but old Matt ews and he went off two months ago."

"Are you sick?"
"I feel kinder bad." Well you look bad. In fact, you are the worst looking young man I've seen since the close of the war,"
"I was all right till a month ago," said the

"I was all right till a montol ago, sale one young man looking still more solenin.
"What happened then?"
"Woman went back or me?"
"Did, ch? Were you engaged?"
"I'd hing around there for a year or ro, and we'd hugged and loved and hooked fingers. If that isn't being engaged, then I

A series of interesting experiments were lately performed in the new floating bath at Charring Cross Bridge to demonstrate a plan proposed by Mr. Dillen of Kingstown for raising the Vanguard. The spectators consisted of engineers, scientific men, and some officers of the Board of Trade and Admiralty. Mr. Kongelley, Chairman of the London Mr. Kennelley, Chairman of the London p Marine Salvage Society, was voted into the chair, and the inventor then proceeded to a somewhat late hour, but this time with all insurity shot out from her deep-set flashing my eyes about me. Snow, which the wind blew sharply in one's face, was falling fast, and the cold was intense. Except myself, and a fallish, snow-wreathed figure a woman apparently—not a living being was to be seen. This figure, which was standing state of manifest excitement and impatience, still at the further side of the square, appeared to be awaiting me, and as Udrew near it, threw back the hood of a cloak, and to my great surprise disclosed the features of a Madame Jaubert.

This lady, some years before, had carried. read a paper giving the outline of a scheme for the performance of an operation in regard to which there will be but one wish through

Madame dambert perceived my halt-heaitation. "Surely," she exclaimed, "you are not afraid of one man for HCs useless at feeting to suspect me after what has contract."

"True," I replied. "Lead on."

The house at which we stopped in Greek street appeared to be an empty one. From the printed bills in the windows, amouncing it to be let or sold. Madame Jaubert knocked in a peculiar manner at the door, which was the majority of instances by merely blowing with the mouth floongh an India rubber tube into the object to be raised from the bottom of glass cylinders and cases on a table. It was demonstrated that a small table. It was demonstrated that a small cylindrical tin ease pierced full of holes and with one and off, could be raised to the surface by forcibly blowing air into it, and the same result was obtained with a model tin ship purposely scuttled, with a small glass cup, and even with a model of an open tin boat which had to lift much more than its own weight of attached tubing. The main experiment of the evening was raising a model ship about four feet and a half in length, made of metal, scuttled to represent the injury to the Vanguard, and with open hatchways, which was sunk in seven feet of hatchways, which was sunk in seven feet of hatchways, which was sunk in seven feet of have a light in half a minute.

"Let me guide you," said Madame Janbert, as I groped onwards by the wall, and at the same time seizing my right hand. Instantly as she did so, I heard a rustle just behind me two quick and violent blows descended on the back of my head, there was a flash before my eyes, a suppressed short of exultation rang in my ears, and fell insensible to the ground.

H was some time, on partially recovering the results of the results of the present of the model ship about four feet and a half in mother one, also a cedar, which seems to have been blown down by the wind, and its before the other, within whose old, charred walls ten men on horseback might at one time find confortable shelter.

This was connected by tubing with a cylinder containing air compressed to fiften atmospheres, and on turning the valve the vessel at once came to the surface, the gange showing that the pressure of air fluid diminished three atmospheres in the operation.

The was some time, on partially recovering the provided of the most cannot usues in history, includent the same time for one, also a cedar, which seems to have been blown down by the wind, and is a control time to other, which seems to have been blown down by the wind, and is a control time to other, which seems to have been blown down by the wind, and is a control time to the partial or one, also a cedar, which seems to have been blown down by the wind, and is a control time to the partial or one, also a cedar, which seems to have been blown down by the wind, and is a control time to the partial or one, also a cedar, which seems to have been blown down by the wind, and is a control time to have been blown down by the wind, and is a control time to have been blown down by the wind, and is a control time to the vessers at the injury to the Vangnard, and with open had been down down by the wind, and is a control time to the partial or one time for one, also a cedar, which ceder, which cannot be a control time to the partial or one time for one, also a cedar to be empty corn sacks. The vehicle was moving at a very rapid rate, and judging from the roar and turnult without, through one of the busiest thoroughfares of London.

It was Saturday evening; and I thought, from the character of the noises, and the tone of a clock just chiming ten, that we were in Tottenham Court Road. I endeavored to rise, but found, as I might have expected, that it was impossible to do so, my captors having secured me to the floor of the eart by strong cords. There was nothing for it, therefore, but patience and resignation words easily pronounced, but difficult, under having secured me to the floor of the eart by the 5,000 tons of water which may be taken therefore, but patience and resignation words easily pronounced, but difficult, under such circumstances, to realize in practice, but purposes the blows 1 had received, soon became hurbling the sunker happened which are a vote of thanks had been passed to Mr. Displayed, the said, "In Philadelphia there was an exhibition of Denayroughts, doubtless in consequence of the blows 1 had received, soon became hurbling the sunker happened in the dark, to see the blows 1 had received, soon became hurbling the sunker happened in the dark, to see the sunker happened in the dark, to see the sunker happened in the United States than a vote of thanks had been passed to Mr. Displayed. He said, "In Philadelphia there were at least fourteen female teachers to one made not merely in the primary schools, but words easily pronounced, but difficult, under such circumstances, to realize in practice. My thoughts, doubtless in consequence of the blows I had received, soon became hurried and incoherent. A tunufluous throng of images swept confusedly past, of which the most constant and frequent were the faces of my wife and youngest child, whom I had kissed in his sleep just previous to my leaving home.

time sales. The extra purchases which customers buying upon credit are sure to make, constitute the inducement to the mode of doing business. When you must pay for everything you buy at the time of buying, you are constantly and fareibly impressed with the costliness of the articles purchased, ly-dazzling light and dare. I saw Levasseur as you never can be if the payment be post-poned, and so the cash buyer scrutinizer the much more sharply than his neighbor who purchases upon credit is apt to do. The amount of cash you have,—if you owe nothing,—is an exact measure of your ability to purchase; and as the whole science of economy and thrift consists of buying somewhat less than you can afford, it will be seen at a glance that even without the other considerations arged this one fact should be an all-sufficient argument against the practice of "running bills."

you make beyond your present ability to pay.

you make beginn you present on the second of the second of paying cash for every article bought, cannot be too strongly insisted upon. Saving is well-nigh impossible where this rule is violated. In enforcement it may require a pretty sharp self-denial, but that is the very best possible evidence that its cu-forcement is needed, and in the end, the WHOLE NO 904. PERSONAL.

THE Princess of Wales will spend a few weeks with the Queen at Windsor, and then make a prolonged visit to her parents at 'openhagen,

THE veteran artist, George Cruikshank. has just entered his eighty-fourth year. On his hirthday an English gentleman, Mr. Francis Fuller, handed him $25,000, which he had promised to Mr. Crulkshank for his pictures and sketches.

The coming Lord Mayor of London, (Mr. Cotton), is literary. About twenty years ago he published a poem entitled "Imagination," dedicated by permission to Charles Dickens. Another volume of his poems was dedicated by permission to Lord Lytton. He is also the author of a brechure entitled Smash: A Sketch of the Times, which was published during one of the commercial crises: and he has been a froment contributor to percolacial lite. cen a frequent contributor to periodical lite var. William Brek val., a noted liberal giver to good works, proposes that $100,000 be raised as a Centennial offering for the American Baptist Publication Society, the interest to be used for Sunday-schools and libraries, and the free distribution of Bibles and religious literature by the pastors of the Philadelphia churches, Mr. B. backs his proposition with a subscription of $25,000, provided that the smount is raised by July provided that the amount is raised by July st. 1876.

The township of Gorton, England, contains about 27,000 inhabitants. In 1748-49 "Widow" Waterhouse was overseer of the paor: in 1775 Sarah Schofield played the flute in the choir of the chapel; on the 23rd of June, 1826, Mary Grimshaw was appointed sexton; on the 3rd of July, 1829, the select vestry ordered. "Ruth Walker to come to break stone." Have there been elsewhere a female overseer, thrist, sexton, and road-counting all the schools, from the lowest to the highest. Tr is five hundred and seventy years since the much-lamented William Tell joined in that little outbreak against the objectionable Gessler, yet T.'s memory seems to grow greener and greener among the Switzers. At Madame Jaubert and James Martin were also there; and ever and anon the memacing countenance of Levasseur stooped over me with a hideous expression, and I felt as if elutched in the fiery grasp of a demon.

Another convenience which you cannot afford, if you have need to save anything, is that of keeping an open account with your marker on doubt that the voice which sounded in my ear at the moment I was felled to the Swiss afford, and imperfectly as I caught in. This tunnil of brain only gradually subsided as the discontant rear of the streets which no doubt added to the excitement I was suffering under by suggesting the exasperating nearness of abundant help which away into a silence only broken by the number of the curt-wheels, and the subdued talk of the driver and his companions, of whom there appeared to be two or three.

At length the cart stooped; I heard a deer undeked and thrown open, and a few moments afterwards I was dragged from under the corn-sacks, carried up three flights of stairs, and dropped brutally upon the floor, till a light could be precured. Directly one was brought, I was raised to my feet, placed upon the the appeared to be two or three.

At length the cart stooped; I heard a deer undeked and thrown open, and a few moments afterwards I was dragged from under the corn-sacks, carried up three flights of stairs, and dropped brutally upon the floor, till a light could be precured. Directly one was brought, I was raised to my feet, placed upon the determining this, experience has duly included interest upon cutstanding bills as one of the factors in the problem.

A second reason for avoiding bills as one of the factors in the problem.

A second reason for avoiding bills as one of the factors in the problem.

A second reason for avoiding bills as one of the factors in the problem.

A second reason for avoiding bills as one of the factors in the problem.

A second reason for avoiding bills as one of the factors in the problem.

A second reason for avoiding bills as one of the factors in the pr pleasure. It not price, "we are an sons of ministers. James," as he called him, 'has been of late writing such good poetry that his long silence can be excused.' From Mr. Emerson I learned something in reference to the mental habits of some of the noets Holmes is so full that he can write at any time. Lowell broods over his subject for a wants to be supplied, much more surely and ness. He does not like to write to order all-sufficient argument against the practice of "running bills."

You have no right, in justice to yourself and your family, to buy anything you cannot afford, and if you have not the money with which to pay for anything, you cannot afford buy it. It is, in the last degree, unwise to charge upon a future, which is likely to have burdens enough of its own to bear, any responsibility for the present, and expecially lor present extravagance, and every purchase literary labor is concerned, owing to physical prostration. He is, happily, better r - - - - · · ·

> Tur London Times estimates that two nundred mariners and others were drowned in the North Sea during the gales of the past the very best possible evidence that its end of we'd hugged and loved and hooked ingers. If that isn't being engaged, then don't know."

"And she backed out?"

"And she backed out?"

"And she backed out?"

"Well, I've been through the mill myself. I had a woman go back on me in that way three months ago, and didn't lose a bit of sleep over it."

"You didn't?

"You didn't?

"You didn't?

"But then," sighed the young man as he hitched along on the rail, "the woman you loved didn't own sixteen mules, and have a clean hundred bales of colton to soil!"

"An ingenious adding card has been invented by Mr. Gustavus Frankenstein. It does a way with the labor of adding long columns of figures, the result to any amount being found with rapidity and certainly.

"But then," sighed the young man as he hitched along on the rail, "the woman you loved didn't own sixteen mules, and have a clean hundred bales of colton to soil!"

"But then, sighed the young man as he hitched along on the rail, "the woman you loved didn't own sixteen mules, and have a clean hundred bales of colton to soil!"

"But then, sighed the young man as he hitched along on the rail, "the woman you loved didn't own sixteen mules, and have a clean hundred bales of colton to soil!"

"The week there there then he cash they being the theter than he cash buyer is sure to live better than he cash buyer is sure to live being the evidence that its end for cash buyer is sure to live being the theter than he cash buyer the rail, have reference there only to the purchase of articles of consumption. It is no part of my purpose to discuss the system of credit which obtains in the counterfact of my purpose to discuss the system of credit which obtains in the counterfact of my purpose to discuss the system of credit which obtains in the counterfact of my purpose to discuss the system of credit which obtains in the counterfact of my purpose to discuss the system of credit which obtains the could not tell what Jonah did while in the could redit what Jonah did while in the cou In answer to a correspondent as to how to