THE HERALD.

RICHMOND HILL, JUNE 2, 1876.

OUR POSITION.

In assuming the duties of proprietor of this journal, it may be considered necessary to give the public our views on the politics of the day, and state our position relative to the men who now rule both in the Dominion and Ontario Parliaments.

Friends of ourselves and the journal, which we now control, would like, no doubt, to be apprised whether or not we will support the party known as Reform, or that party known as Conservative, or be like some who are pleased to term themselves Neutral, that is, astride the fence, to hedge, as it were, their opinions, ready for the first offer.

Private and personal matters, apart from their connection with the public interests, it shall be our object to eschew from the columns of this paper, and any one, at any time feeling aggrieved at any remarks that may appear, shall, most certainly, be permitted to state his grievance.

Our main object and desire, however, will be to make this journal interesting to the different parts of the county, by making it our study to obtain and collect items of a local character and local interest. In a word, it shall be our pleasure to use what powers we are possessed of to make the paper a vehicle to carry the latest news of the day, fun, mirth and intelligence to every homestead and every house, and to this end we ask, confidently, the support and aid of an intelligent and liberal public.

INTERFERENCE WITH OFFICIALS.

We have been given to understand that during the time the Commissioners for the East Riding of York were adjudicating upon the several applications for licenses that came before them, pressure was brought to bear upon them, by not only members of Municipal Councils, but also by a Member of Parliament, to dispense their favors to those whom they believed in their judgement should not have the right of keeping taverns; which persons, we are informed, they indignantly refused to listen to.

Communications.

To the Editor of The Herald.

Sir,—Can you find space in your interesting paper for the few following remarks in reference to the notion of improving the Confession of Faith, by removing from it what, to some, appears uns Scriptural. The truths of religion are not according to the notions of the carnal mind; they are foolishness to the natural man.

Those who love and admire the Confession of Faith find much pleasant employment in contemplating the benefits of the Confession of Faith (which is in perfect agreement with the thirty nine Articles of the Church of England) to England.

Those who love and admire the Confession of Faith find it a pleasant thing to think of the greatness and power of England. Three hundred years ago four or five millions spoke the English language; now eighty millions speak the English language.

soldiers suffice to keep the peace. Those who find their happiness in giving themselves up to the elevating influence of the truths in the Confession of Faith find their enjoyment in noble deed, and find no enjoyment in drunkenness, in theft, in robbery or in any crime.

I am, etc., A LOVER OF TRUTH.

INDIANS OF ONTARIO.

The following sketch of the Indians of Ontario is taken from The Canadian Illustrated News.

"The Ontario Indians are much more numerous, and generally speaking, more advanced in wealth and civilization than those of Quebec or the Maritime Provinces. They are divided into six supertribes. The first includes the Six Nations and Mississaguas of the Credit in the Counties of Brant and Haldimand, probably the largest number assembled on one reserve in Canada.

The comparative value of horse feed is found by experiment to be as follows: 100 pounds of good hay is equal in value to 59 pounds of oats, 57 pounds of corn, 275 pounds of carrots, 54 pounds of rye or barley, and 106 pounds of wheat bran.

All interior fences should be portable and easily removed from place to place, and removed entirely and stowed away when not wanted. Every farmer has long lines of fences, which, for half the time, are of no use whatever.

The nest-boxes of hens should be moveable, so that after hatching, and occasionally when used only for laying they may be conveniently cleaned.

The Indians of the Thames consist of a band of 429 Chippewas, 129 Muscogees, and 609 Oneidas. The area of the Chippewa reserve, on which also the Muscogees live, is 15,360 acres, that of the Oneida 5,022. Most of them have little personal property.

The Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte number 804, with a reserve of 27 square miles, of which 9,500 acres are cultivated and 4,000 under pasture. They raise very good crops, are very well supplied with farming implements, have a good number of horses and cattle, etc., and are steadily increasing in number and civilization.

The Berlin correspondent of Land and Water publishes a piece of information that will be welcome to many a farmer. "Who ever knew," says he, "of two plants being so inimical to one another as to kill the other by a mere touch? This, however, seems to be the case when rape grows near the thistle. If a field is infested by thistles, give it a turn of rape seed, and this plant will altogether starve, suffocate and chill the thistles out of existence."

want among them; they are of average morality and improving in civilization. They are principally Methodists. Those of Rama number 263. They have a resident Wesleyan missionary and 2 schools not very well attended.

The Chippewas of Beausoliel are located on islands in Georgian Bay. They number 282, cultivate 352 acres of land besides pasture land, own personal property to the value of $10,500, work for the lumber barges, and are generally well behaved and industrious.

Those of Nawash, or Cape Croker, have, with few exceptions, given up hunting, and live by farming and fishing. They number 374, hold 15,586 acres of land, of which they have 2,500 cultivated and 1,000 in pasture.

The band at Saugen numbers 30, and has a reserve of 8,600 acres, 350 cultivated and 500 in pasture. Their fisheries amounted to $6,000; furs $500; boats and nets $3,000, and baskets $1000.
