NIAGARA FALLS.

(Woodstock Sentinel.) One of the saddest occurrences that we have been called upon to chronicle for a long time took place on Monday evening, 15th inst., at Niagara Falls, when a young lady, Miss Jane Schofield, daughter of Mr. Francis Schofield, of Woodstock, met her death by being carried over the cataract of Niagara. Up to the present writing the body of the unfortunate lady has not yet been recovered. It is supposed by many that | Has now on hand a good and well selected stock Miss Schofield had walked to the cage Of Cloths, Tweeds, Ready-made of the island, and becoming giddy from the rapid motion of the water fell in. This idea is strengthened by the fact that for sometime she had been troubled Chean for tesh. All cloths and tweeds purchased from him cut free of charge.

Miss Schofield was a young lady of remarkable ability. She learned telegraphy in the Dominion office at Woodstock, sometime ago, and acquired such proficiency in the art, and displayed such marked ability, that she was ap- Hon. D. L. Mac Pherson, pointed to the position of amanuensis in the Dominion Telegraph Company's offices in Toronto. Some few months ago she had to give up her position owing to illness, and has since been staying at Staten Island, New York State, for the benefit of her health. She was on her way home when the melancholy occurrence took place.
