Robinson and Badgerow.

It is not often that we hear of a lawyer-politician, possessed of a fair share of self-respect, who would allow himself to be placed in the position now occupied by Mr. Badgerow. To be pure there is J. D. Edgar, a good old stand by, who is willing to sacrifice his feelings, etc., every time the exigencies of the party requires it, provided he sees far away in the distance a looming up of some Government job, or the funeral of another Mercer estate. But even J. D. has been known to refuse the nomination for a Riding, where there was a certainty of defeat. The Reformers of East York must have taken their last defeat very hard, and being depressed in spirit, careless of what the future might have in store for them, they allowed Mr Badgerow's friends to thrust only way in which we can account for

On what grounds Mr. Badgerow bases his chances of success at the coming betweet Mr. Robinson and his opponent, election is very difficult to discover. He is not a local man his home, business although he may have been raised in the Riding, it will require semething more than that to send him to the Legis. lature Halls, as Representative. To be sure the Riding feels deeply grateful for the lonor thus confe red upon it. but even in this respect his opponent has the advantage. In his profession Mr. Badgerow is not a Urilliant succes Had he climbed to the top of the legal ladder like Blake, or even got a firm seat on seme of the upper surgs, we could be ter unde stand why he was brought out. As a private gendeman he may be, and doubtless is, a very nice man, but he has not, as yet, nor is there any indication that he ever will evince the ability necessary to represent a Rid ing properly. What has Mr Badgerow ever d ne for East York, or what does he intend to de? His interest: are iden tified with Toronto, all his best wishes are centered there, and though the Rid ing derives a certain advantage from the preximity and prosperity of the city, it has enough able sons within its own borders without being com selled to go outside for a member. There are too many city men,-too many lawyers -in the House now. Were there less third-rate or even second-rate lawyers, and more shrewd, intelligent farmers, we would have much less talking rad a great and more work. Bungling would not be so characteristic of the bills and measures passed as it now is and these men, being those who bear the burden of taxation, would see to Then, too, Mr. Badgetow goes before the electors as a pledged supporter of the present Ministry. He stands before them without any experience in governing or legislating whatever, and requests the honor of awakening the Assembly with his eloquence and lightening up the Halls generally with Markham township, aged 47 years.

Where to Buy? his presence. True, he dare not endorse Union School Trustee Meeting the salary grab before his constituents, but were he to take his seat in the House, and be called upon to vote on an economical measure brought forward by the opposition, he would have no besitation in going with Mowat. Had he been in the House, when Parkhill made ensuing year. Carried motion in favor of reducing the salaries he can not deny that his vote would have been cast against the effort made to introduce that economy so much required at the present time.

No man should be elected to represent a Riding simply because he is on a certain side. We trust such a spirit electors of Canada, and we feel assured that it is not prevalent in East York. When a party to which a candidate belongs, has clearly shown that it is in favor of a capable, efficient, and economical Government, then a few defects can be passed over in the candidate, because Le can hardly fail to do good by his vote, lut, when, as in Mr. Badgerow's case, the candidate is lacking both in experience and ability, and when he is pledged to support a Government founded upon recreasey and hypocrisy, much of whose legislature has proved ither useless, unwise or perhicious, and needs no neview of his past actions. He has grown up amonest the men whose suffrages he now solicits. For eleven years he had a seat at Markham Township Council, going in as Deputy-Reeve in 1866; as Reeve from '. 8 to '73. and us a Reeve from 74 to '.9. Dur ing all this time he proved to be well qualifi d for the position, and we have yet to learn in what way or manner the Township suffered in the slightest degree, or lost through his mismanagement or inattention to the duties of his office. If can not be design that experience in him upon the Convention. This is the Municipal matters must necessarily qualifiv a person for creditably occupying a seat in the Legislature. In this particular, there can be no comparison as the former gentleman is admirted by all, (even those who do not agree with vigilant and active at all times in causand interests are in Toronto, and, him politically.) to be for superior to ing the law for the government of the contest for the Local, as there is no the Council all such information, and similiarity between the two cases. HONEST DEALINGS OF JOSEPH HAYDOCK

Some extracts from the sworn evidence given in the Supreme Court of New Yorl in an action of Thomas Holloway against Benjamin Stephers and Joseph Haydock To Joseph H ydock, on the 11th of School Law so that elections for School June, 1862, a power of attorney was given, Trustees may be held on the same day consituting him my agent in New York, and by a writing engagement made at the same time he was restricted from selling Prince Edward Island Legislature Pills and Unitment other than in the
