PAPER CURRENCY.

The Rag Baby is not dead yet, although many journals assure Mr Wright that it is. We were surprised at the small vote polled for its champion, but do not look on that as indicating that the electors thoroughly understood the market, and I help the neighborhood in question, and were bent on recording their votes against a paper currency. Rather it should be accepted as showing that party'lines are still well defined, and the party whips still keep voters within the lines. Without endorsing the Rag Baby, we must admit that Mr Wright fought well for his scheme, advocated the National Currency, condemning it and abusing Mr Wright didate on that question. They are reading him out of the Conservative without their interference. He cannot expect assistance from Conservatives or knowledge that his own actions have severed his connection with the party he formerly belonged to. But all the same, his former friends should not abuse him.

ford, who deserve some reward for their services, and who are quite competent to discharge the oncrous duties of a Bailiff. But these men are overlooked. The Mowat Government appear to think there is no use trying to win votes in South Simcoe, and a North York man, supposed to have influence amongst a certain class of the electors in his Riding, is appointed to take the position. Mr Young stumped part of the North Riding, we believe, in favor of the Reform Candidate, and, as North. York has sometimes shown quite an astonish. ing tendency to go as she pleases, and elect a Conservative occasionally, why influential men like Mr Young, who control probably some half-dozen votes, must be kept in good humor. Bradford and South Simcoc are slighted, but then they don't amount to much, any way. The Reformers in that Riding are powerless to elect a man, and regardless of the long service, for many years against overwhelming odds, and administration have been since this Bill was passed, what a fine howl of indignation there would be all over the country. A Reform Government however can do no wrong, the efficiency of the subverted to the interests of the party, even when men of very questionable character are appointed J. P.'s. How a Reform Government can do such things and yet do no wrong, is what puzzles the soul of the wieked and bigoted Tory, in the dog days.

The goods which we manufacture are put upon the market at the prices which ruled before the tariff was increased, and what is stranger than that, the American goods have been reduced in price by 121 per cent so as to meet the altered state of affairs. The fact came under my own observation in my own business, and I have no doubt the same thing is observable in other trades. Goods, I say have not increased in price; they are selling at prices that ruled before the tariff, and American goods have been reduced in prices simply to meet the change. Now will tell you how I am indirectly benefitted by the tariff. I get manufactured here, material I had formerly had to import. In the manufacture of
