

BATTLE OF THE TRAFALGAR BAY

Anniversary of the Death of Nelson.

Story of the Battle as Told by a Survivor Now Resident in this City.

The 21st October, 1850, was the seventy-fifth anniversary of the great naval battle of Trafalgar Bay, in which Admiral Nelson, in command of the British fleet, fought and destroyed the combined fleets of France and Spain, capturing a large number of vessels and prisoners of war.

had been engaged in that action. Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

On the evening of the 20th Oct., 1805, Mr. Holbrook says the English fleet described the lights of the enemy, and the next morning the whole fleet was visible sight.

OUR SPECIAL COLUMN.

Mr. George Macdonald has taken to writing fiction in the newspapers, and his first venture in this line is "Mary Marston," a novel to be published in the Manchester Weekly Times.

Mr. Swinburn never tires, when the muse is a laggard he betakes himself to prose, and now he is writing what he calls "A century of English Poetry," which is to appear in the Port Folio.

The Duke of Argyll, one of the ablest writers among the Peers of England, has written an article for the Contemporary Review on the "Unity of Nature," which meets with the approval of the press generally.

Mr. Turner, an English lecturer, who has spent some considerable time at St. Petersburg, has been lecturing in London on eminent Russian Men of Letters.

"Forty Years' Recollections" is a book announced by Mr. Thomas Evans, who promises to say much about the prominent men of England. Since the appearance of Crabbe Robinson's remarkable work of a similar character to the one in question, there has been a growing desire on the part of literary men to follow in the wake of the best delineator of English literature that has appeared in a century.

"The Danbury News Man," otherwise Mr. Bailey, who lectured in this city some years since about England, has in the press what he calls "The Danbury Boom," and which the author says is the best thing he has written.

Mr. Justin McCarthy, one of the most prolific writers, notwithstanding his engagements with magazines, publishes a Parliamentary diary, for he represents an Irish constituency in the English House of Commons, found time to write what he terms "A History of our own Time." He has just completed the work in four volumes, the first and second having appeared about a year ago.

Historians of England are as numerous as Miss Braden's novels, and fresh ones are ever being written. Mr. Charles Dickens, surprising as it may seem, prepared a child's history, which, if it had no other merit was "loudly" illustrated.

In a recent work on curious Wills some odd extracts are given, which show that the people of ancient times were queer indeed. It comes from Connax, a burgher of Antwerp, who took it upon him to write an abridged history as we would like, Dr. Smith has given us a condensed Hume, and now Mr. Malcolm sends forth what he calls, in a modest way, a summarized history.

The principal defect pointed out in the new book is the absence of an index, which is certainly calculated to detract greatly from its value.

In a recent work on curious Wills some odd extracts are given, which show that the people of ancient times were queer indeed. It comes from Connax, a burgher of Antwerp, who took it upon him to write an abridged history as we would like, Dr. Smith has given us a condensed Hume, and now Mr. Malcolm sends forth what he calls, in a modest way, a summarized history.

The principal defect pointed out in the new book is the absence of an index, which is certainly calculated to detract greatly from its value.

In a recent work on curious Wills some odd extracts are given, which show that the people of ancient times were queer indeed. It comes from Connax, a burgher of Antwerp, who took it upon him to write an abridged history as we would like, Dr. Smith has given us a condensed Hume, and now Mr. Malcolm sends forth what he calls, in a modest way, a summarized history.

THE BAPTISTS.

At Friday's session, in Toronto, the Baptist Union resolved itself into a Foreign Missionary Society, and Rev. Mr. Coulters read the minutes of the previous meeting, and also his report as Secretary of the Board.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

The report of the Secretary stated that the engagement on the 24th of December last by the Executive Committee of Rev. Joseph McClellan for the work of the mission had proved most satisfactory. At the same meeting an appeal made by the Board to the Church for help had resulted in a liberal answer.

THE STATE OF IRELAND.

The Agitators Increasing in Boldness. SPEECHES BY THE LEADERS.

The situation in Ireland is certainly grave. The following dispatch from the correspondent of the New York Herald, however, probably gives an exaggerated view of the troubles, and should be taken with caution:

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis. The agitation has become more than a mere political movement.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Ireland has not been in such an excited state for many years, and Dublin, which was slow to action, has now roused with the expectation of a stirring work. All feel that the country is on the eve of a great crisis.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

The expenditures of the industrial schools of Great Britain last year reached the sum of $1,518,275.

The French Minister of War has ordered a collection of patriotic military stories to be compiled for the use of the primary schools.

A colored man living in Philadelphia, an owner of property and a taxpayer for twenty-five years, is unable to get his children into the public schools on account of their color.

The Egyptian Khedive has ordered the establishment of a model school for young pupils who, after five years of study, could enter direct into the superior schools of Egypt.

The expenditures of the industrial schools of Great Britain last year reached the sum of $1,518,275.

The French Minister of War has ordered a collection of patriotic military stories to be compiled for the use of the primary schools.

A colored man living in Philadelphia, an owner of property and a taxpayer for twenty-five years, is unable to get his children into the public schools on account of their color.

The Egyptian Khedive has ordered the establishment of a model school for young pupils who, after five years of study, could enter direct into the superior schools of Egypt.

The expenditures of the industrial schools of Great Britain last year reached the sum of $1,518,275.

The French Minister of War has ordered a collection of patriotic military stories to be compiled for the use of the primary schools.

A colored man living in Philadelphia, an owner of property and a taxpayer for twenty-five years, is unable to get his children into the public schools on account of their color.

The Egyptian Khedive has ordered the establishment of a model school for young pupils who, after five years of study, could enter direct into the superior schools of Egypt.

The expenditures of the industrial schools of Great Britain last year reached the sum of $1,518,275.

AROUND THE WORLD.

The editor of the St. Kitts News will take his head in before Hallowe'en.

Capital flows easily to Ulster when it recoils from Munster and Connaught.

Of the three Irish peers murdered in the present century none have been absentees.

Horace Love married his living wife's sister, at Danman, Ga., and goes to prison for bigamy.

The London Economist is not very sanguine as to Mr. Thomas Hughes' Tennessee experiment.

Somebody has paid his subscription to the Boston Transcript and editor prints an item concerning the singular circumstance.

A man in a sawmill, at Turnerville, Neb., was found sawed completely in two. It is supposed that he fell on the track in front of the saw when drunk.

At the Liverpool Police Court recently a young lady was fined five shillings and costs for refusing to keep to the right in descending one of the approaches to the landing stage.

James Loomis, a negro of Salem, Ohio, married a white and wealthy Cleveland widow. On returning with his bride he was received by a jubilant procession of his colored townsmen.

A telegram from Melbourne announcing the opening of the International Exhibition in that city was received in London within twenty-three minutes after the ceremony had taken place.

The devastation caused by rabbits in Australia to a serious calamity. One large estate, which formerly supported 30,000 sheep, has been abandoned on account of these pests.

The Live Stock Journal says that in Natal rhinoceroses are found this year in haunts from which they have been absent twenty years, and elephants and buffaloes are unusually plentiful in Zululand.

Three persons have been suffocated at Bassano, in Italy, by the fumes from a vat of lime in fermentation. The first had descended the vat, and the others perished in endeavoring to rescue him.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Annual Meeting of the Board at Ottawa. Ottawa, Oct. 22.—The annual meeting of the Methodist Ch'rob Sunday School Board was held here today.

After devotional exercises, the general secretary read the annual report, which was a most elaborate document. There is an aggregate increase of 21 schools and 4,229 scholars; an increase of 388 in the number of scholars who are learning the Connecticut catechism; an amount of $12,442 has been collected by the Sunday school children for the work of missions, and somewhere about 5,339 of the children have joined the church during the past year.

Sixteen thousand are meeting in class. There were several other items of interest which the President of the General Conference Dr. Pettis was elected to preside.

Mr. W. Kennedy, Treasurer of the Board, R. Brown and Johnson Harrison, in the presence of the President of the General Conference Dr. Pettis was elected to preside.

After devotional exercises, the general secretary read the annual report, which was a most elaborate document. There is an aggregate increase of 21 schools and 4,229 scholars; an increase of 388 in the number of scholars who are learning the Connecticut catechism; an amount of $12,442 has been collected by the Sunday school children for the work of missions, and somewhere about 5,339 of the children have joined the church during the past year.

Sixteen thousand are meeting in class. There were several other items of interest which the President of the General Conference Dr. Pettis was elected to preside.

Mr. W. Kennedy, Treasurer of the Board, R. Brown and Johnson Harrison, in the presence of the President of the General Conference Dr. Pettis was elected to preside.

After devotional exercises, the general secretary read the annual report, which was a most elaborate document. There is an aggregate increase of 21 schools and 4,229 scholars; an increase of 388 in the number of scholars who are learning the Connecticut catechism; an amount of $12,442 has been collected by the Sunday school children for the work of missions, and somewhere about 5,339 of the children have joined the church during the past year.

Sixteen thousand are meeting in class. There were several other items of interest which the President of the General Conference Dr. Pettis was elected to preside.

Mr. W. Kennedy, Treasurer of the Board, R. Brown and Johnson Harrison, in the presence of the President of the General Conference Dr. Pettis was elected to preside.

After devotional exercises, the general secretary read the annual report, which was a most elaborate document. There is an aggregate increase of 21 schools and 4,229 scholars; an increase of 388 in the number of scholars who are learning the Connecticut catechism; an amount of $12,442 has been collected by the Sunday school children for the work of missions, and somewhere about 5,339 of the children have joined the church during the past year.

Sixteen thousand are meeting in class. There were several other items of interest which the President of the General Conference Dr. Pettis was elected to preside.

Mr. W. Kennedy, Treasurer of the Board, R. Brown and Johnson Harrison, in the presence of the President of the General Conference Dr. Pettis was elected to preside.