> Mr C. C. Robinson, of Aurora, said he had been appointed to look into the Government and County Council reports regarding the connection with the city of Toronto. The information he gained greatly astonished him, and he believed the audience would also be surprised to learn that this county actually pays thousands of dollars for municipal gova ernment, administration of justice, jurors, courts, prisons, etc., more than other counties throughout the province, many of which were larger in area and population. The previous speaker had referred to the great ignorance of many county councillors on county matters, ago a reeve of one of the northern municipalities contradicted the truthfulness of his (the speakers) figures, given at a public meeting in Aurora. The speaker challenged any person in the audience or in the county or city to show that his figures were incorrect, and was willing to back down from the agitation if it could be proven that he was wrong in his assertions. The opponents of the agitation said his figures were untrue, and they could not, dare not, come forward at a public meeting and attempt to prove these assertions. They attempted to make capital against the agitation by quoting the expenses of other expenditures that York did not. The expenditure in Peel was one of the strongest arguments against the separation of North York from the county, as Peel was about the size of the North Riding. all honorable persons, to assist me, and the Pub-lic, as far as may lie in their power, in denoun
