It may be he did not know exactly what he Board pays the County Board $60 to it is very improbable. How are we to believe this man when he shows such a daring disregard for the truth. We are sorry to see him do so. His own party are ashamed of his actions in this way but still he persists in doing so. He knows, and there is no use in saying otherwise, that he was guilty, and conscious of the fact, that he was not writwas an absolute falsehood. The Mark-Borealis this week, as will be seen by the article in another column, says he is 85. guilty of deliberate falsehoods on two occasions; and yet this man poses before the public as a really good man, and calls the Herald Office everything low and vile. "Deliberate Falsehoods."

The Aurora Borealis says:-In last weeks issue of the Richmond Hill LIBERAL there was a paragraph relating to Mr. Charles Chamberlin of that village. We shall not quote it, because it was couched in language which was unfit for publication, and which no. journal, having a claim to respectability, N. B.—Registered Letters must be handed in the For low, unvarnished Billingsgate and "smut," it outdid anything we ever saw. We congratulate Mr. Chamberlin on being abused by the LIBERAL, as it is about as great a compliment as he could get from it. The language is worthy of the man who talks of decency in journalism, and then disgraces his pages with such foul and loathsome words, and such disgusting metaphors as appeared in the " local" in question; and it is worthy also of the man who has on two occasions, at least, in order to sneak out of a controversy with this paper, penned deliberate falsehoods, and upon conviction thereof, backed down with the re-

Previous to that evening there were over 400 tickets sold. night was all that could be desired, and the sleighing was splendid. By 7.30 the hall was crowded to the doors, by a very respectable audience, which were very much dissappointed at the very poor affair which it turned out to be. Mr J W Bengough was the principal actor, assisted by Prof. Will Walmsley, Miss Spanner, pianist, and Miss Corlett, Soprano, which were in no way equal to our local talent. Dr Grant was to be chairman, and give the opening address, but he was too busy gathering in the baubees at the door, for he hought he was not qualified for the position before such a large audience.
