

Trying to Capture a "Hive."

The new Riding of West Ontario is strongly and safely Reform. North York is not so safe and sure as it was when Dr. Widdifield accepted the nomination of the Reform Convention. The Doctor, therefore, is a little uneasy about his election, and is not inclined to boast quite so much as formerly about carrying everything before him. Doctor Widdifield is a very nice man, and he always seemed to think so himself. The amiable physician used to assume a complacent and benevolent expression when called upon to address a meeting, which seemed to signify that he was very well pleased with himself, and thought North York could not get along all sound without the assistance of her ablest son.

But alas for the mutability of human plans. The Doctor has now learned that he is but mortal after all, and all his bright dreams and cherished hopes are never likely to be realized or gratified. In plain language the Doctor is very much afraid that North York does not appreciate his talent and brilliant services as a party whip. He seems to think that he will be left with the aid of the stolid and determined Grits of Whitchurch he believed he would be returned. He believed these electors would vote for him as a Grit, regardless of what view he held on certain questions, or what would be the result to the country if these views were carried into effect.

But the electors of West Gwillimbury have not the blind and unquestioning faith in either the Doctor or his leaders that they should have, according to his ideas—and he is willing to leave North York to be contested by some one of only mediocre ability. He is willing to run for West Ontario, and take the chances. But the trouble is that Mr. Wheeler, of North Ontario, has exactly the same idea, and Mr. Wheeler seems to have the better claim on "the hive,"—as our Grit friends are so anxious to christen this riding.

The indications are that the Doctor will not get the nomination for West Ontario, but that he will have to contest North York, and then step downward out of political life, for some time. It is hard lines. No wonder he is worried.

The Irish Tragedy.

The assassination of Lord Cavendish and Mr. Burke, is the crowning tragedy of the long series of horrors perpetrated in unhappy Ireland. The murders should not reflect on the nation, but they do, and the Irish race will soon become noted as marauders, assassins and desperadoes. Parnell and all his allies express the profoundest horror and regret. No reasonable or intelligent person doubts their sincerity, but it is also apparent that the long and violent agitation they promoted, is productive of just such calamities amongst a hot-blooded and unreasoning people.

Mr. Trevelyan has been appointed as Chief Secretary, and Mr. Blake as Under Secretary, and the policy of conciliation will doubtless be continued. Ireland has suffered long and severely through unjust and oppressive legislation, and the tyranny of her landlords and officials, but such deeds as were enacted on Saturday, shock and disgust her warmest friends, and retard the progress of liberty and justice.

The most reasonable view of the matter is that the murders are the work of villains who care nothing for Ireland,—are, indeed, her worst enemies, but who wish to keep up bitter strife and turmoil. The wish of the whole civilized world is that they may be caught and speedily punished.

A Sensible Change.

How party feeling will influence the average Grit can be seen by the Reformer of last week, which says that "the meanest set of Sir John is taking Stouffville from the East Riding of York, in order to defeat Mackenzie." The Reformer knows that the whole of Stouffville was not taken from East York, only half of it, but the idea is evidently to make a change appear more telling against the Grits. Any fair-minded person will admit that the change is a sensible one, and if the Reformer cannot find any meaner act than this to complain about, it had better let up— for very shame's sake. How would it like to have Newmarket placed in two Ridings. It would be about as reasonable for the dissatisfied organs to complain because Richmond Hill was not placed in East and West York, but it shows how determined they are to find fault.

Newspaper Postage Abolished.

Even the Grit papers cannot deny that the Government acted wisely in abolishing the postage on newspapers. This tax on papers amounted to quite an item in the course of a year, and was especially onerous when paid in advance for subscribers who failed to remit the price of the paper. The present Government by wise legislation, have placed the country in such a position that the tax is no longer required for revenue. Let us see how many of the Opposition organs will have the manliness to commend the Government for this Act.

Boulton at Thornhill.

A meeting of the electors in the interest of Mr. Boulton, was held at Thornhill on Tuesday evening last. The attendance was large, and the audience were, apparently, well posted on the political questions now before the country. Scarborough, Kitchener, York Township, Vaughan, Richmond Hill, Markham and all sections of East and West York were represented in the audience.

Mr. John Langstaff occupied the chair. Mr. Boulton made an able review of the policy of the Government, and contrasted it with that of their opponents. As one instance of the present prosperity of the country he cited the fact of there being such large sums deposited in the Savings Bank in excess of the withdrawals, for the last two years.

Only by a system of protection could any young country, situated as we are, become great and strong. It did not matter whether he was elected or not, as long as the country was governed as it had been since '78. But if we adopt the policy of our opponents we must go back. The purchasing power of the people has increased since '78, our revenue has increased, wages are higher, farm produce commands better prices, and on every hand there is evidence of a good time and prosperity. The finances of the country are in such a prosperous condition that we can devote large sums to Public Works, such as Toronto Harbor, and the development of the North-West. We are also paying off our large public debt, and are able to build the Pacific Railway without going one cent into debt this year. Our opponents may theorize about Free Trade and Protection as much as they please, but here are the hard facts to answer them. The intention of the opposition was evidently to contest the election on the N. P. They are ashamed of their policy in the Pacific Railway. Mr. Mackenzie, in a recent speech, called the National Policy a National Folly and a National Crime. & the electors could therefore judge how he would treat the policy if an opportunity were afforded. Mr. Boulton still held the same views he advocated in '78 and would continue to do so until he saw better reasons than had yet been given for making a change. He referred to the rapid and wonderful development of the North West through the marvelous energy of the Canada Pacific Railway Company, who would soon have a line of railway from Thunder Bay to Winnipeg and out on the plains farther west.

Mr. Boulton's remarks were frequently and loudly applauded, and seemed to be heartily endorsed by the meeting. It having been announced that Mr. Hodgson and some of his friends wished to speak Mr. Boulton said he was willing to sit out the meeting if that was their wish. Mr. Hodgson took the platform, and said a severe cold prevented him from speaking, but Mr. Hodgson would address the meeting.

Messrs Hodgson, Tait and Juv then spoke in behalf of the Opposition, and Messrs. Cornell and Hodgson on behalf of the Government.

The lateness of the hour prevented Mr. Boulton from making any extended remarks in conclusion, but he defended the Redistribution Bill the Boundary Award Resolution, and effectively confuted the arguments advanced by his opponents.

Another Revolution.

There is plenty of excitement among the Opposition at present and the Globe is thundering about Revolution again. This is the fourth Revolution that we have been threatened with, and yet there has been no blood shed. First the National Policy would cause a general uprising; then the Syndicate Monopoly would arouse the people to drive an unjust and inequitable Ministry from their seats, with pitch forks and other warlike implements. As if this was not misery enough, the Boundary Award was to hurl upon the country a scene of carnage and rapine. We weathered all these loudly predicted storms, and the Conservative Ministry did not seem to even quiver.

But the last straw has been applied, and every true Grit is bound to kick against that straw. The other acts might have been forgiven,—in fact were in a fair way of being forgiven, but this Redistribution is just too much. If something terrible does not happen soon, we will have the Globe coming out in red ink, and then The Deluge.

Hardscrabble

From our own Correspondent.

On Saturday last, the 5th inst., a hand-bill was to be seen posted up in a certain place in this metropolitan, of peculiar interest to all interested in the Temperance cause. It had been put up some time during the night, as the parties were unwilling to reform prominently as bill posters. This bill announced that the members of No. 361 intended to hold a grand clearing sale, of all commodities usually dealt in by such organizations, in order to make room for the annual stock of lager and other delicacies, which the refined and highly sensitive nature of the brethren in this neighborhood seem to actually demand.

This was a fair turn out on the night appointed for the sale, but it was postponed until the 20th inst., by order of the venerable Mr. Taylor as the auctioneer was somewhat contracted in his special exertions, through an attack of rheumatism, which even a liberal application of St. Jacobs Oil, and an overdose of Sanderson's Infalible Oil failed to remove or even temporarily alleviate.

The brethren wished to have everything cleared out, and all old stock disposed of in order to open out on the 24th of May, with a clean record and allow their system to become exhilarated with the usual mixtures in such cases made and provided by a kind and sympathetic landlord, who knows the weakness of our common humanity, and how to brace these young men up. They require a deal of bracing up, too.

Timely Warning.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagar's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

WOODBRIDGE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

HORSE RACE.
A good deal of excitement was caused over the horse race, last Friday, which took place on the Hampton Race Course. Fraternity of Richmond Hill, Maple, and Woodbridge, took a holiday and went to the race for a day's sport. The Woodbridge mare proved herself too much for the Maple mare, and finally won the stakes. A good deal of betting was indulged in, and some came home looking cheerful and happy, while others looked rather sad. Woodbridge is a fast place, so beware in the future.

NEW CLERK OF DIVISION COURT.
Mr. John Nattress of Woodbridge, has been appointed Clerk of the Division Court here, in place of Mr. Josi Reaman. He is well known throughout this part of the country, and no doubt will carry on the Court business, in a business-like manner.

THE CROPS.
Fall wheat looks rather bad in some places, but a good deal of it looks well. The spring crops are nearly all in, excepting peas, which are sown late on account of the fog. Wallace Bros. have sold about 1,500 bushels of seed peas, brought from Owen Sound and Teaswater, this spring, at their mill.

LIQUOR LICENSES.
The Commissioners granted five licenses in our village, two shop and three hotel. So there will be no trouble to get your thirst quenched in hot weather.

CITY MATERS.
The Council Board met recently, but not much business of any importance was transacted, only the sweeping out of the constable and pound-keeper. They haven't got in the bang of Council matters yet.

BAD ACCIDENT.
A sad accident occurred here last night, which proved fatal, to a woman named Gardner, who lived with her husband about one mile from here, at the Hunter bridge on the railway. The 9 o'clock express going down, ran over her near her home, mauling her in a dreadful manner, cutting off both legs and cutting her body in pieces. The head and shoulders were thrown off the track. Death must have been instantaneous. The night was very dark, and she was going home, but as to how the accident happened is not known. Two young children and her husband, are left to mourn her loss. The poor man has been sick for a long time and has the sympathy of all who knew him. Coroner Stephenson is holding an inquest this evening.

Our M. P. is expected home this week.

TESTON.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Seedling is about over in this vicinity. The fall wheat does not look very good on account of the dry weather. Mr. Taggart's new farm-house is fast being completed. Mr. Josi Kaiser is the contractor, and is doing a good job. Mr. T. Walker and his brother are doing good plastering and it will soon be finished.

The Hand is making arrangements for a big time on the 24th of May.

Mr. Land is doing a rushing business, getting rigs ready for the 24th of May.

One day last week the town covered by a little boy in the village, and as he got hold of a chair and climbed up he was heard to say that was the first time he was ever flipped in his life.

The Rev. Mr. Camelone, of Maple, preached here on Sunday evening to a large and attentive audience.

Rev. James Rankin will preach here on Sunday morning next, at 10:30 o'clock.

Mr. Roland Harvey, a school teacher in this locality gave a lecture on "Robert Raikes," to a crowded house, a few Sunday days ago. He handled the subject in an able, and the lecture, proved very interesting and decidedly instructive. A few Sunday School scholars, should give him a call for a good lecture.

Teston, May 8th 1882.

"Don't Give up the Ship"
were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Don't Give up the Ship," poor departing invalid, but try Haddock's Blood Purifier. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

MAPLE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Business seems to be lively around here, probably on account of the new buildings being pushed ahead.

Your readers will be glad to hear that Dr. Orr is on his feet again. The Doc is very weak yet, but there is every likelihood that he will soon be juggling around the country again, feeling pious and administering pills in his usual cheerful manner.

Maple, May 10th 1882

Rheumatic Remedy.
There is no better cure for rheumatism than Hagar's Yellow Oil. It acts upon the directions on the bottle. It also cures Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Bruises, lacerations, and all wounds of the flesh. All druggists sell it, price 25 cents.

AURORA.

R. Trench left for Winnipeg last week. The Boreal says the street lamps are so dull and the sidewalks are dangerous in some places.

The Cricket Club Concert was a grand success.

The annual conference of the Primitive Methodist body of Ontario will be held in Aurora this year. The clergyman and delegates will assemble on the 26th inst., and remain one week.

At Toronto merchant regularly visits Aurora and delivers groceries, etc., which certainly appears a little curious. It is true no doubt allows this traffic, yet it is hardly on the merchants, who pay taxes and generally assist in supporting the town, to thus be outwitted for other causes than that the wagons call regularly at residences with goods.

Saved from the Poorhouse.

For years David Allingworth suffered from rheumatism, and notwithstanding the best medical attendance, could not find relief. He came to the Sciota County Poorhouse, and had to be carried into and out of bed on account of his helpless condition. After the failure of all the remedies which had been applied, the directors of the Poorhouse resolved to use the celebrated German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, and this was a fortunate resolution, for, with the trial of one bottle, the patient was already better, and when four bottles had been used upon him, he could again walk about without the use of a cane. The facts, as above stated, will be verified by the editor of the Portsmouth (Ohio) Correspondent.

Cowher asks:
"Who hath not owned, with rapture smitten
The power, the grace, the magic of a name?"
And if it is the name of a pen, be sure it is one of Esterbrook's.

If a coal oil lamp is filled full in a cold room, and then brought into a warm one, the heat will cause the oil to expand and the lamp leaks. This should be avoided by not filling completely; knowing this may occur, sufficient space should be left to allow for expansion.

CONCERT.—A Grand Concert will be held in the Presbyterian Church, in this village, on the evening of the 24th. The programme will be one of unusual excellence and amongst the names on it, are Miss Hillary and other celebrated singers and speakers, of Toronto, and Miss Newton, of Richmond Hill.

FIREMEN.—The Fire Brigade were out for practice on Friday evening last. They tackled a tank on the corner of Elizabeth and Centre Streets, and threw a good stream of water on to the Temperance Hall. They met again for practice, on Friday, 19th inst.

ADDITIONAL LICENSES.—In East York, the following licenses have been granted in addition to the list just published: C. Thom Yorkville; R. Crowe, Norway; W. Meek, Victoria Square. In West York licenses were granted to J. Palmer and W. Hewison, Richmond Hill.

THE 24TH.—The Posters are out for the Richmond Hill and Yonge Street Spring Exhibition, and the prize list is as large and varied as ever. Three special prizes are given by Mr. J. Russell $10, Mr. J. Palmer $10, and the Ladies' Aid Society of the C. M. Church $5. A number of booths on the ground have already been sold, and the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches are busy making arrangements for supplying dinner and tea to the crowds expected to be present. The village Band is engaged for the day, and it is said a city Band will be present. Grand Concerts are to be given in the evening by the churches mentioned above, and we are going to have a big time generally.

INSTITUTE MEETING.—The adjourned meeting of the members of the Mechanics' Institute will be held in the Committee Room of the Masonic Hall, on Tuesday, 16th inst. We have some fifty members, and out of that number there should be an attendance of twenty-five or thirty at an annual meeting. The Institute is in better standing than it has been for some time, and the Treasurer's Report will surprise some of the members.

TROTTING.—The match announced by our Woodbridge correspondent, last week to take place at Brampton, on Friday last, for a purse of $100, was won by the horse owned by Mr. Rowntree, of Woodbridge. The best time made was 2:54, in the second heat. The first heat was taken by Mr. Rowntree's horse. The driver of Mr. Bunkholder's mare was changed, and the mare took the 2nd heat, but failed to get three soon enough on the 3rd. Quite a number of persons from this village and neighborhood were present, and somewhat interested in the race. There was a good crowd on the grounds and considerable money changed hands.

BAND PIC-NIC.—The Teston Band intend to hold their fourth annual picnic on the 24th inst., and are now arranging a first-class programme. Every person who has ever attended one of these very pleasant gatherings know that the Teston boys can run a good picnic, and make it very agreeable to visitors. The proceeds of the picnic will be applied to purchasing a uniform. The Teston Band can play very nicely now, and when they get on their new clothes the instruments will be made to almost speak, especially when, at some picnic, the owner of a pair of bright eyes casts admiring glances at some of the young fellows, and gives them to understand that the uniform is just too sweet for anything, except to adorn their graceful figure. Boys get that uniform right away.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—With darkening days and changing temperatures the digestion becomes impaired, the liver disordered, and the mind despondent, unless the cause of the irregularity be expelled from the blood and body by such an alternative as these Pills. They directly attack the source of the evil, thrust out all impurities from the circulation, restore the disordered organs to their natural state, and correct all defective or contaminated secretions. Such an easy means of attaining health, strength and cheerfulness should be applied by all whose stomachs are weak, whose minds are much harassed, or whose brains are overworked. Holloway's is essentially a blood purifying medicine, whereby its influence reaches the remotest fibre of the frame and effects a universal good.

PLOWING MATCH.

A ploughing exhibition took place on Tuesday at Milliken's Corners, on the Toronto and Niagara Railroad, which was participated in by seven of the oldest ploughmen in York. The following took part:—Win. Hood, W. T. Hood, and Wm. Milligan. Mr. Hood, of Woodbridge, Thomas Hood, Simpson Rennie, and George Morgan Scarborough. Simpson Rennie proved to be the best man, but he was closely followed by Andrew Hood, and only an expert could have distinguished between the two.

How to Cure a Cold.

Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagar's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagar's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

The Jay at Barrie on Friday brought in a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Wm. Ney, charged with the murder of Mr. Sligh, of Ionia, in November last.

Cranberry Marshville.

(From our own Correspondent.)

SUCH IS LIFE.
A young gent, who lives a few miles from here, has been paying attention to a nice young girl, in the suburbs of Toronto. He is handsome, and she is pretty, and the world seemed fair and beautiful. But a cloud came along, and such a cloud.

Elderly ladies are proverbially noted for a desire to interfere in what is commonly known as a "match." We have a daughter of Eve in this section who has interposed with other charming feminine traits, this characteristic which seems to belong particularly to that sex. When the elderly dame, who is sometimes called Mother Hubbard, saw that this young fellow and his girl had about come to the conclusion to journey together through this sin-concluded and sorrow-laden world, she made an effort to get him for her son-in-law. He called around several times, and then came to the conclusion, that love was a delusion, and money was the only real tangible object worth striving for in this lower life. He has gone back on Mrs. Hubbard's daughter, and is now waiting on a girl who is supposed to get $300.00 from the father when some lucky man wins her.

Faithless man, go to the maiden
Who is waiting there for you;
Till her that you love her true,
That you'll ever more be true.

But you'd better keep your eye skinned,
For the old man's time will run;
And when you hear his gristle footsteps,
Then you'd better stop.

Village Council.

The Council met on Thursday evening, May 4th. Present, the Mayor, and Messrs. Duncumb, Sanderson, and Pugsley. The minutes of last meeting were approved, and the assessment, Roll for 1882, was laid on the table.

The account of Mr. J. Powell, for work on sidewalk, amounting to $100.00, was ordered to be paid. By-law No. 89, authorizing the registration of canine animals, lying east of Yonge street, was passed.

The Clerk was instructed to advertise the meeting of the Court of Revision, and the Council adjourned until the 16th of May.

YORKVILLE.

IN TROUBLE AGAIN.
The boy Jacobs, who a few days ago was confined in the police cells for a day for fighting, has been in trouble again. He is under a $5 bill from his mother on Monday morning. It is believed that he and some other boys have gone to the Don, having their supplies with them, and when they are caught, as Jacobs' mother can ill afford to lose the money.

LETTER CARRIERS FOR THE VILLAGE.
Thomas Scott and Wm. Robinson received their appointments as letter carriers for the village, and will be sworn in to-morrow. It is understood the del. ver. of letters under the new system will commence immediately.
