CATARRH-A NEW TREATMENT.

Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for Catarrh. Out of 2,000 patients treated during the past six months, fully nisety per cent. have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five parcent, of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefitted, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissue. Mr Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination—this accomplished, he claims the Catarrh is practically cured, and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him four yeers ago are cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cure Catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured Catarrh. The application of the remedy is simple, and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favourable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sifferers should correspond with Messrs A H DIXON & SON 3.05 King street, west, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for their treatise on Catarrh—Mootreal STAR.

A Skilful Surgeial Operation.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which, wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ and, strange to say, the patient recoveredthe only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite paor.
There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint " all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth. especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy his peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a timethe patient becomes pervous and irritable. gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sesation, and he is obliged to grasp some-thing firm to keep from fulling. The howels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and atagnant, and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Often-times there is a pulpitatation of the heart, and the patient feats he may have heart disease. Towards the not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspensia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and heat temedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Svrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine venders throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), 17, Farringdouroad, Loudon, E. C. This yrun strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out St. Mary-street, Peterborough,

Church Organs.

Sir, -Oblige an old subscriber by giving place to the following from the Christian

Ho! Presbyterian Churchmen all,
In black silk gowns and bands.
Go smooth the wrinkles on your brows,
And shake the prejates by the hands.
Your ways to heaven are now the same,
Whether by air, or earth, or ocean;
The organ loft's the wide gate now—
The "aid" to all devotion.

Your sires of old sought other "aids"
To wait their praise above,
Ne'er dreaming that the organ pipe
Could move a God of love.
But modern Churchnen nowadays
Cling to another notion,—
That boxes filled with droning pipes
Can surely "aid" devotion.

As to a house of prayer;
Nor harboured e'er the awful wish
To find amusement there.
But now the "cultured" folk of Crieff
Scenn in perpetual motion,
All striving for some music--box
To "aid" their weak devotion.

How shallow must religion be How shallow must religion be Requiring such an "aid."—
The piping of a whistle-box in God's House vainly played. And he that can an organ give Is sure of Church promotion. For modern worshippers will hall His "aid" unto devotion.

But troubled souls wherever placed.
In Scotland or the Isles,

In Scotland or the Isles, Gird up your loins, come Crieff-ward now, Though distant many miles To Heaven we've found the royal road, Crieff's quite a land of Goshen, We all go un for organs now To "aid" our thin devotion.

'Tis true, our bellows-blowers all Are getting out of breath; We kept them blowing night an day, And wrought them night of death. But now Lock Turret water, come, Ample as rain from ceran, Driving our organ englies all To generate devotion.

The Crieff Town Council, sagely wise,
To smooth the way to Heaven,
A pipe of public water has
To "cultured" Churches given.
Each bellows like the trade-wind now
Will blow in measured motion,
And cold and careless sinners stir
Into a sham devotion.

Now as machinery does our praise,

Is too rash to tell
That soon we'll have a nice machine
To do our prayers as well?
A belt of parchment written o'er
And duly set in motion
Around revolving cylinders
Would perfect Crieff devotion:

The prayer-machine might soon be made,
Just speak to Geordie Morgan;
He'll make a prayer-mill in a week,
Companion to your organ
And then, ye sinners, bend your knees
In seeming holy motion,
And while the prayer-mill grinds around
It "sid" you in devotion.
