Christmas Time !

The Christmas holiday season is on in making purchases for presents. practice needless economies, and so to create distress which would not otherwise exist. The best service which the well-to-do can perform in times of depression is to spend money freely. The by the working classes. Needless economies in one direction enforce needful round in all directions. There is no lack of inducements, and wise exercise of judgment will make a very small amount go a great way. One dollar set in motion in payment of a debt or to make a wise purchase, may be made to pay scores of debts and help in the purchase of a multitude of articles that contribute to the happiness of many. Set the dollars in motion, and one way in which such motion can be accelerated is for the subscribers of a weekly newspaper to open their hearts and their purses by remitting the amounts they owe for their newspapers, if they have never done it before. They ought to certainly bear in mind the pleasure and profit they have derived during the year just past in the reading of their local paper, and the relief it would be and the good it would do for the printer to receive the amounts justly due him for the labor and expense he has bestowed in giving his readers the HERALD ing by our outlay for years, and for years past have neglected to forward the amounts they owe. We trust, they will not forget that paper, ink and time cost Bishop Fuller, of the Episcopalian money and remit accordingly. We de- Diocese of Niagara, died at three a.m.,

During the occasion of Sir John's visit to Toronto, the Boards of Trade of gretted Hamilton and Toronto interviewed him on the subject of insolvency legislation. The Millers also took occasions to wait on Sir John and Sir Leonard Tilley asking for an increase of the import duty on four to offset the duty on wheat. Sir Leonard stated that the duty on wheat would have to be maintained in the interest of the North-West farmers, but promised to do what he could to get the four duty incressed.

Says the Montreal Times : - "But for the Reform party, no legal means would first Bishop of the newly erected diocese ever have been provided for the punishment of corruption at elections." which the Crooks, Camerous and Walk ers were ousted for corruption and visited with such heavy penalties, bore the imprimature of Sir John A. Macdonald.

Sublime Language.

Sir John Macdonald has a great many sins to answer for, according to the Opposition organs, nevertheless, we cannot but deprecate such language as we find in an exchange in regard to him speaking of Sir John's speech at the Beaconsfield Club in London, in which Sir John stated that every industrious man in Canada could always obtain a good day's wages for a good day's work. "The Moumental Liar who for our sins has comment made upon his speech by a paper published at Guelph. It is a bad sign when writers at on to shuse. It is strong epithets will stand in their stead. Day after day similar language can be a few of the little organs throughout the a bad job, as converts are coming in so country follow suit. It has been well slew, and money scarce. said that we must be a very peculiar so long a time as forty long years, and the probability is, if kind Providence will deal gently by him, that a few more years will come and go before the hand little for the Party of "morality and sweet-toned and gentlemanly language " that they cannot hurl such a fraud into the depths. They certainly acknowledge themselves as but little short of imbeciles.

We have before us, at the present writing, a column of names taken from an Opposition organ which for abuse and vilification stands unperalleled in the annals of history. What good can come of such language? So far as regards obtaining the object sought for, it is hard to comprehend, and if we are to judge by the fruits of such a long series of years in which the organs have been pouring their vials of wrath upon his devoted head, Sir John should have been long since overwhelmed, but instead of that, the more he is abused, so much the more does he rise again, shaking off the slime which for a moment seemed to eling to him. The grand demonstration given to him last week, and the grand reception he there received, after forty years of public life, is what few men can boast of. The honors conferred on him by the Queen, perhaps, may admit of a difference of opinion, nevertheless, it cannot but be gratifying to his very many friends that he was worthy of having received them, especially so, seeing that a Liberal Ministry is now at the Head of affairs in Engiand.

New York papers give a complete table of the popular vote at the late Pre sidential election side by side with that hand, and already we perceive by our of the election of 1880. The total vote exchanges the dollars are being spent, gain of 827,822. Blaine's total vote is and for the next few weeks the merchants 4,847,659, a gain of 393,243 over that will do a rushing trade. It is well that there are special seasons which open the 4,913,901, a gain of 468,949 over that heart, and induce a little extra liberality of Hancock. The third and fourth party votes are less in the aggregate than four years ago, when Weaver pelled 308.578 Every dollar spent enables somebody and Dow 10 305. Sir Leonard Tilley's address at the Conservative Convention lately held in unloading of the merchants shelves means Toronto, has been highly spoken of. He the starting of the mills, and that menas spoke in reference to Sir John's ability employment, wages and spending again as a statesman; he refuted Sir Richard Cartwright's remarks regarding the exodus to the United States; he success economies in another. What is ex- fully defended his recent loan in Engtravagance in one, is mere liberality in land and expressed himself satisfied as Mary Mapes another. Let those who have the money to the ability of Sir John Macdonald to Carrie Powell spend it, and the wheels will begin to go give a satisfactory account when the George Glover question of reciprocity came up with the Gertie Barker United States.

> The Brockville Times says the reception of Sir R J Cartwright in Montreal was a very tame affair. The audience was small compared with what is gener ally found at a political gathering at which the big guns of a party are to speak, and while the attendance was not large the enthusiasm was almost nil. The people of Montreal, the great com mercial heart of the Dominion, are evidently not in sympathy with Sir Richard and his free trade nostrums.

This being leap year, and the maidens of our village seeing that it is nearly closed without any one popping the question, came to the conclusion to have a leap year party on Thursday night last in the Orange Hall. The invitations were all sent out by the maidens, the greatest portion of the village baving got one. The programme for the evening consisted of tea, singing and dancing, and one of the most pleasant sights was spent that has been in Woodhidge for a long time. I understand before New Year's one of the party that was at the been permitted to afflict Canada for head of getting it up, is going to leap into bonds of wedlock.
