Local Self Government for Cape Breton Wanted.

A large meeting has been lately held at Sydney, C. B., at which it was resolved to use every constitutional means to secure local self government for Cape Breton as a Province of the Dominion. This we look upon as an offset to the action of the leader of the Nova Scotia Government in trying to get that Province out of the Confederation.

Cape Breton is an island at the eastern extremity of Nova Scotia, being in breadth about 85 miles, and in length from north to south 100 miles. The first settlement in this island was made in 1712 by the French, and it was united under the same government with Nova Scotia in 1819. Cape Breton is divided into four Counties, Richmond, Inverness, Victoria and Cape Breton, and sends eight members to the Provincial Legislature, and five to the House of Commons. Population in 1861, 63,000; in 1871, 75,483, and at the last census in 1881, 84,500. It contains one of the finest harbours in the world and 200 miles nearer Europe than Halifax. It is rich in mineral wealth, in its fisheries and its forests, and with a united people, Nova Scotia should be the finest and wealthiest Province in the Dominion.

We would recommend to her people to give a little less attention to politics and more to the progress of the country. We are aware that a large body down there think and are satisfied that the natural place for their Province is to be a part of the United States. That it has within its borders riches and intelligence sufficient to offer any advantage that it has gained by being a part of the Dominion we believe, but since being a part, we hope good counsel may sufficiently prevail to make the best of what some think has been a very bad bargain in being united to the Upper Provinces. The ships of Nova Scotia float in every port in the World, and thousands of her sons and daughters have helped to build up the neighboring States of the Union. We, in our opinion, think it will be a bad day for this Dominion if ever the Province of Nova Scotia should sever its connection, notwithstanding, the sneers of too many of the papers of Ontario, against the little Province by the sea.

The Bible in Schools.

There is a wide difference of opinion as to the advisability of having the Bible in toto re-introduced into our public schools. At least that is the inference which must be drawn from the discussion on the question at the meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening. The Bible has, during the past year, given place to a work specially prepared by the Department of Education. In that work is comprised carefully selected parts of Holy Writ. It was revised under the direction of eminent theologians representing nearly every Christian denomination. Though it is only a part of God's Word, yet in it the old, old story is still plainly told, notwithstanding that a few links of the chain may be missing.

The question at issue in the public mind appears to be: Is this specially prepared work more desirable as a book of instruction to the youth than the Bible in its entire form? Those who answer in the negative do so principally on the ground that the whole Word of God or none at all should be used. And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the Book of Life, etc.—Revelation xxii. 19, is frequently quoted by them. "To the pure all things are pure," is a true old adage, but human nature is weak and frail, and especially in the young there is a tendency to feed passions, but that it should be overcome by God's grace is the hope and prayer of all who are engaged in the work of imparting spiritual instruction to the young. Those in favor of a re-introduction of the whole Bible into the schools, claim that the danger of the youthful mind becoming contaminated by objectionable passages, is entirely obviated if the teacher uses due discretion. That is true enough. But it must be remembered that all teachers are not thoroughly versed in Bible history, and with the best of intentions on the part of the teacher there is the danger that objectionable parts of the Word might be read before the pupils. Again, it must be admitted, that no matter how well acquainted with the Bible a teacher is, he or she personally cannot be expected to exercise such sound judgment in selecting passages as the eminent theologians who revised the abridged work. They brought the light of their wisdom and experience to bear on their deliberations. They, we may rest assured, carefully considered what they were doing when they arranged what the little volume should contain. And certainly the discretionary power of deciding on what is proper literature for the instruction of children and what is not, is safer in their hands than in those of the public school teachers of the province. That the beautiful lessons contained in the Bible are calculated more than anything else to impress a child with a true sense of his or her duty, none will deny, and we believe that all, or nearly all, of such lessons, are contained in the specially prepared work.—Guelph Herald.

Labour and Capital.

(For the Herald.)
An old prophecy, ascribed to St. Bridget, the original Latin copy of which is still to be seen in the Church at Oberamell, says, "Quando Marcus Pascha dabit, Et Antonius Pentecostem celebrabit, Et Joannes Christum adorabit, Totus mundus sœ clamabit."

When Easter falls on St. Mark's Day, and Whitsun on St. Antony's Day, and Corpus Christi on St. John's Day, then all the world shall cry out, "Totus mundus sœ clamabit."

This year (1886) the above coincidences occur; and it would seem that the prophecy is being fulfilled; for boycotting, strikes, riots are rife everywhere; whilst, to crown all, Gladstone (who by some inscrutable Providence is permitted to be Prime Minister of England) is doing what he can to dismember the greatest, the bravest, the noblest, the freest, the most philanthropic, and the most Christian Empire the world has ever held. Just now, however, that part of the fulfiling of St. Bridget's prophecy which we wish to glance at is the conflict going on between capital and labour, and not the politics of Great Britain.

It is patent to all that there is such a conflict; but all do not see in it the external manifestation of a difficulty which reaches back almost to pre-historic times, and the germs of which exist, wherever exists humanity. But this is practically of little consequence; the serious character of the conflict arises from the fact that it rages between two classes, the employer and the employed, upon whom the world's material prosperity chiefly depends. Indeed, should it become inveterate, there is no realising the terrible character of the disaster which would be the result. A little consideration shows that both parties are to blame, that a want of mutual loving thoughtfulness lies at the root of the difficulty. Surely if employers and employed would only allow some more generous feelings, which, after all, are to some extent in the nature of even the most selfish, to assert themselves, if they would only learn to regard each other as belonging to the same great Brotherhood of Humanity and to the same sacred Christian Fraternity, they would soon take such an interest in each other's welfare as would preclude the necessity—almost do away with the possibility—of serious trouble arising between capital and labour. Indeed this same feeling might be produced by the least worthy consideration of the other, somewhat selfish thought that their interests are in a sense identical, that their duties are reciprocal, and that what tends to benefit the one must in the long run benefit the other. But men are so wrapped up in self, they are in such haste to be rich, that they will think of nothing else, they will see nothing else, they obstinately close their eyes to everything else, except what seems to them the shortest and most direct way to accomplish their object; and so, they are ruled by the old curse, selfishness, and are led astray by the old trouble, shortsightedness.

There are indeed many exemplary masters who treat those in their employment with all due thoughtfulness, who never overtax their powers, who make due provision for their comfort, who always pay them a fair day's wages for a fair day's work; who are as merciful to those who work for them as human beings, and not mere beasts of burden or pieces of machinery. But all employers of labour are not of this stamp; if there were the world would be a better and happier place. There are those who seem to regard the men in their service as made for the one especial purpose of increasing their gains, who care not what sort of houses they live in, what sort of food they eat, whether they ever have an hour for recreation. They seem to care nothing for the men's difficulties, never give them the slightest grain of sympathy in their troubles, never allow a moment for pleasant social intercourse with their fellow-workmen. Is it any wonder, then, that Jack Fireman, Tom Sawyer, Peter Emery, wheel, Joe Carpenter, Bob Painter, Bill Maulder, and all the other fellows, seeing no reason to believe that their master has any other object in view than to get out of them as much as possible, and to pay them as little as possible, and that when they are past labour they may go to the workhouse or die of starvation for all the master cares, is it any wonder that they should rebel against such a state of things, under which they are treated as if they had no minds, no souls, no human feelings? Is it any wonder that strikes should be the order of the day, and that the strikers in one form or other should be threatening almost every civilized nation under Heaven?

Never drug the stomach with nauseating and weakening expectorants and opiates; Hagedorn's Pectoral Balsam is pleasant and reliable in its effects, and safe in all throat and lung complaints that, if neglected, end in consumption.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Abscesses, Erysipelas, Piles.—Unvarying success attends all who treat these diseases according to the simple printed directions wrapped round each pot and box. They are invaluable to the young and timid, whose bashfulness sometimes endangers life. Though apparently local, diseases of this nature are essentially blood diseases, but a little attention, moderate perseverance, and trifling expense will enable the most diffident to conduct any case to a happy issue without exposing secret infirmities to any one. The Ointment checks the local inflammation and alleviates the throbbing pain. These directions also clearly point out when and how Holloway's Pills are to be taken, and their purifying and regulating powers may assist by adjusting and strengthening the constitution.

COURT OF REVISION.—Public notice is given to all whom it may concern, that the first sittings of the Court of Revision for the village of Richmond Hill, will be held in the Council Chamber on Monday, May 31st, 1886, at 2 p. m. All persons interested are requested to take notice.

NEW SIDEWALKS.—Mr. Brownlee has been doing some good work in repairing and making new some parts of the sidewalks in this village. We have to thank the Board of Works for giving us a good piece of sidewalk in front of this office. But after thirteen years use of the old one it is about time. Some folks will say, so much for living alongside of one of the Council.

CROSSER'S Stock of Millinery is large, cheap and stylish.

OMITTED.—There was omitted in the Prize List of the Richmond Hill & Yonge Street Ag. Society in Class 12, Dairy Produce, Butter, 6 lbs., 1st prize $3; 2nd, $2; and Home Made Bread, 4 lb. loaf, $3 and $2. Mr. Wm. Innis, of Bradford, gives a special subscription of $5. Extra prizes will also be given for Imported Brood Mares, Fillies and Span of Horses, in Class No. 1.

THE TEAM FOR BRANTFORD.—The Young Canadian Lacrosse Club will leave here on Monday morning next at 4 o'clock for Toronto, in order to catch the 7 o'clock train for Brantford, arriving in that city about 10.15 p. m. The boys have been practicing pretty hard for the last few nights, and no doubt will make it interesting for their opponents. They will have their new suits by that time, but it is hard to say whether they will add much to their appearance, as they are naturally such a fine-looking set of fellows. The following will, in all probability, compose the team.—A. E. Pugeley, A. Mager, J. M. Palmer, W. Edmondson, S. S. Searle, W. B. Wiley, J. McConaghy, D. Pugeley, C. Savage, F. Powell, P. Kelly, and J. Piper.

ALL visitors to this village on the 24th, are requested to call at the Concrete House and see the special attractions. All goods at lowest figures in the trade.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.—Before we again issue the 24th, the great day, and the day on which our villagers look forward to for having a good time, we have come and gone, and we take this opportunity of extending a most hearty invitation to the inhabitants of the surrounding country to come and visit our village on that day, and providing the weather is fine, there will, no doubt, be a large crowd present. The members of the Churches and Agricultural Society will be pleased to see all visitors and use their best to entertain them, and altogether those who come here on Monday next, will have an extra good time; and, by-the-by, don't forget to remain to one of the grand concerts in the evening, just to wind up a pleasant day's recreation.

ATTRACTIONS OF THE 24TH.—Visitors to the annual Exhibition of the Richmond Hill and Yonge Street Agricultural Society to be held for the first time on the New Park Ground in this village, will be repaid by remaining in the evening to the entertainment in the Presbyterian Church. We feel confident in asserting that a Literary and Musical Festival of no high a standard has never on any former occasion been presented to an audience in this village. Monday will be a memorable one to all who can make it convenient to remain and enjoy the rich programme which appears in another part of this issue. For further information see posters. Notice the portrait of the Eloquistionist, Miss Churchhill, in the window of Mr. A. L. Skele, Jeweller. An evening of thorough intellectual enjoyment is assured to those who hear her.

NEW Muslins at Grennan's.

N. Y. T. ASSOCIATION.—We have received a circular announcing that the regular half-yearly meeting of the North York Teachers Association will be held in the Public School, Aurora, on Thursday and Friday, June 10th and 11th, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. All Schools in the riding are to be closed, and both days reckoned as visiting days to all teachers who attend the Convention and answer to their names at the roll call of each session, so that their section will sustain no loss in the apportionment of the Municipal Grant. It is hoped that every teacher in North York will endeavor to be present on this occasion; and all friends of education are cordially invited to attend the meetings. A very interesting programme is to be introduced this session. Dr. J. A. McLellan, Director of Institutes, will be present and open the proceedings. The session will be interesting to the public generally, and all those who can find time to attend will derive a benefit therefrom.

LOCAL ITEMS.

New Dress Goods at Grennan's.
THE Street Car strike is still boiling out in Toronto.

A WARNING.—Children should not handle fire-arms.
SCRIBBLING books from 2 to 8 cents each for sale at the HERALD Store.

THE young Shamrocks defeated the youths from Elgin Mills at Lacrosse on Saturday last.

RENEWED.—The West York Commissioners have decided to renew the license of Mr John Palmer of this place.

GOOD Tapestry Carpet for 30 cents per yard at the Concrete.

CHANGED.—As will be seen by the advt., the day for voting on the Railway Bonus By-Law has been changed from Wednesday next to the 15th June.

IMPROVING.—Mr. John Palmer is having a new front put in Mr. J. Devlin's Harness Shop, in the Lorne Block, which will add considerably to the appearance.

TAPETRY Carpets from 35 cents per yd. at the Fire Proof.

DESTROY THEM.—The fly that produces the larvae which destroys the currant and gooseberry bushes has laid its eggs. Look out for and destroy them promptly. About a week hence, look over the leaves again, and if you see small holes—like pin holes—you will find the worm at work on the lower side of the leaf.

NEW DISTRICT.—The Committee appointed by the N. A. L. Association to rearrange the District Championships in Ontario wound up the business on Saturday last, and we find that the Championship in Western Ontario can only be competed for by clubs in the Counties of Peel, Huron and York, and the city of Toronto and suburbs.

NEWEST Shirts and Ties at Grennan's

RETURNING TO THE VILLAGE.—We understand Professor Clarke, teacher of music, intends returning to this village. He finds the walk from where he now resides to attend to his pupils in this neighborhood too far to be pleasant. We think it would be a good move on his part as he is at present circumstances. We are confident that owing to the uncertainty of the weather and other causes he cannot keep his promises or fulfil his engagements, and as a natural consequence those who depend upon him become in a word—disgusted.

The amount of Millinery turned out by the Concrete in April was far ahead of what was done in the same month in any former year, and the value and style were ditto. If you want what will please you in Millinery, go to the Concrete.

THE PLACE TO GO.—Visitors to our village on the Queen's Birthday will please remember that the Ladies of the Methodist Church intend giving, in their usual excellent style, their annual Dinner and Tea, in the School Room of the Church. Meals 25 cents. In the evening the grand Concert will be held, at which some of the very best talent procurable will take part, as will be seen by the programme in another column. Be sure and attend! Don't miss the treat of the season. Tickets only 25 cents; Reserved seats 35 cents.

THE Newest Styles in Christy and Straw Hats at Grennan's.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION.—The twelfth annual Spring Exhibition of the Richmond Hill & Yonge Street Agricultural Society will be held on the Queen's Birthday, Monday, May 24th, 1886, on the New Park in the village of Richmond Hill, when about $700 will be awarded in prizes to successful competitors. We are of the opinion that the Exhibition this year will surpass any previous one, as the prize list has been thoroughly renovated, and the third prize, formerly given, has been dropped, so that the prizes now offered are well worth competing for, and we trust the farmers will not only come in themselves but also bring their stock, &c., for exhibition. The Ladies' Work, &c., will be shown in a tent on the ground. The Teston Brass Band will be in attendance during the day and enliven the proceedings. Admission to the grounds, non-members 25 cents; Children 10 cents.

BRANTFORD Stoneware Butter Crock all sizes at close prices at Grennan's.

BOBATOYON "INDEPENDENT."—We can support Mr Blake as a man, but we want to support Mr Blake's policy, and that we can't do, for we don't know what it is. Edward, you are causing us a great deal of trouble. Why don't you make a speech showing, not what Sir John has done which is wrong, but what you will do which is right? Edward, we entreat you to adopt a definite and distinct policy.
