THE ISSUE.

The duty reposing upon the voters for the judgment to be rendered on the 22nd inst., is one which should be very seriously considered by every elector in our wide Dominion. Those, who, for the sake of sticking to their party or from fanciful notions, allow themselves to for .get their duty to their country will show that they are unworthy of the name of Canadians. It is not the time for obstinacy or for attributing dishonest intentions to those who dissent from us in the manner in which they consider best to act. All that is asked is that each elector should honestly look the whole matter in the face and as one desiring his country's good. To us it appears most disadvantageous for the Government to be defeated in the contest to be held shortly. That the Government stands foremost and is composed of men who have proved themselves capable of the Ontario Liberals, the Nova Scotia secessionists, and the Quebec Rielites and Rouge forces. The Ontario Liberals have been a solid body for several years stranger? and regarded in themselves are fair opponents for a political party. It cannot however be denied that their situation in connection with the Rielites is a very dubious one. Nothing is so undoubted that had the Government failed in the carrying out of the sentence of the court on Riel the indignation of the Reformers led by their organ, the Globe, would have been unbounded, and many of the Reform press from day to day printed articles condemning the Government for apparently hesitating to do their duty in the premises. Once the die was cast, the opportunity of the Reformers led by Mr. Edgar, while Mr. Bluke was in England, to attack the Government was too good to be overlooked. On his return he confirmed the action of his subordinate in coalescing with the Quebec-the present, and all governments that may come after, that the law cannot with impunity be carried out upon one of their race. It was not always so, but politics is having such effect that even Mr. Blake would deign to bow his lordly head in acquiescence. The Secessionists in Nova Scotia take kindly to Mr Blake, hoping thus to gain Blake, who has been a kind of pledging himself not to disturb the present tariff) and at the sametime give free trade to Nova Scotia, follows either of these rules encourage unison throughout the Dominion, to keep under local jealousies as much bitton and account the bitton and account their minion, to keep under local jealousies as most bitton and account their the Barber & Ellis Co., Toronto, ston. much as possible, and to deal fairly with all parts, and the Government, whatever complaints may be made against it, has tried to keep prominent the idea of unity from the East to the West, and North to the South of the whole Dominion. In defeating the Government the people would be committing a suicidal act, by so doing they would set themselves in direct opposition to that which is fair ballot on tre 22nd and at the sametime use every lawful means to influence his friends to support the man wio in the days of his country's need inaugurated | Worms and Cause, quicker than any other he National Policy.

MR. N. C. WALLACE.

On Tuesday next the free and independent electors of West York in common with those of the whole Dominion, British Provinces of North America into one grand Confederation, and thus laid will yet become the most glorious Emticularly in connection with the conis known as the National Policy, that policy under which Canada is more prosperous than her most ardent friends anticipated she would be for many years to come.

In West York Mr. Wallace is the N. P. standard bearer, and we are persuada large property owner, and is well known

Blake, that he was always in one feels very much like pitying that Down Bribery And Corruption. particular church, both parson and people; nevertheless it is a good thing, in these days of infidelity, for public men to show at least an outward respect for the Christian Religion; and therefore we are glad to learn that Mr. Blake attends church regularly. Now in this matter Mr. Wallace resembles Mr. Blake, but with a difference. His church-going has never taught him to resort to contemptible tricks to scramble into a prominent position over the head of one of the most honorable men that has ever shed a single ray of the lustre of honesty on his party. His church-going has never taught him to be a repealer or an nexationist in Nova Scotia and a true Briton in Ontario. His church-going has never taught him to be an advocate of Free Trade in the East and a semiprotectionist in the West. His church going has never taught him to cry out for vengeance on a rebel and murderer to-day, and to declare the same man to be a martyr to morrow, nor has it taught him to say that he would never make the scaffold at Regina a stepping stone to power, and then to stultify him self, to place himself beyond the pale of all noble men by identifying himself him to be at least honest, consistent, and honorable. For several years he has represented this Riding in the House of Commons. Has he ever betrayed his trust? Has he not always spoken and voted exactly him-desired? and that too, consistently, for both he and they were and are in thorough accord as to the course he should pursue. Is he not as friendly with the poorest man in his constituency as with the most wealthy? Is he not as glad to see his supporters-even the humblest of them-in Ottawa as in Woodbridge? Is he not as kind and considerate towards them in the one place as in the other? Has either friend or foe ever asked him for a favor. in his power to grant, and been refused? His whole life, especially his parliamentary life, has shown him to be patri otic; and let people say what they will, he has shown his patriotism by being an uncompromising supporter of the N. P. It is too late in the day now for anyone to say that this Policy has not been a boon to the Dominion. We all remember too well the state of things-the dullness and deadness, the lethargy and stagnation, the poverty and starvation that prevailed in the country in the Autumn of '78 and for years previously under the Reform regime; and we know that a different state of things has pre-vailed since the inauguration of the N P. Why, for this very reason many of Sir John's supporters were returned by Reform voters at the last two elections. These men determined to cast aside ers. They are now prepared to show party for the time, and to vote for those who would introduce any change, for they were convinced that no change could be for the worse; and when, after several years' trial, they were appealed to to say whether Sir John had kept his word, their reply was a most emphatic affirmative Even Mr. Blake himself is beginning " to hedge" on this question, and to insinuate that the N. ## "Globe" Hypocrisy.

Again the megalmomanic's organ whines that the Conservative leaders have raised the "No Popery" cry. This is not true, and the Globe knows that Telegraph lines...... it is not true.

But a truth that cannot be gainsaid is that the only party that ever did raise the 'No Popery" cry in Canada was the Reform party and the Reform leaders and the Globe. Take for instance the Separate School bill. On March 3rd, 1863, Hon. R. W. Scott, then a Conservative and speaking in the name of and voters will place the cross opposite the Conservative party, moved the second the name of N. C. The second reading was carried on the same division. Now let us tell the Globe another 2. Nathaniel Clarke Wallace fact. Only one ()rangeman voted for the six months' hoist, while eleven Orangemen, including Grand Master Cameron, voted for the bill. After the time had demn the Government of Sir John A. ject that has engaged the time, attention expired for receiving nominations, Messrs. The meeting was largely in favor of the Conservative Candidate, and every conequal to what he obtained on last occa-sion when he appealed to the electors of the West Riding.

Mr. Peter G. Savage, Returning Officer, assisted by Mr H. A. Nicholls as Election Clerk, ably performed the duties necessary to the occasion.
