The Morality of Politics.

The Empire says: - "Mr. John White, ex-M P., in speaking on the McCarthy Act, said, that nine out of ten Reformers would vote against the McCarthy Act, his reasons being that by doing so they would hope to hold Ontario. The Reformers intended to oppose everything that would tend to affect or injure the Church of Rome, so that when Sir John dropped out the Catholic and Reform vote could be consolidated and power attained in the Dominion by the Liberals. Mr. White's impression was that an amendment to the Act would be offered by the Government to leave the whole question of dual languages to the

and Firmness of Purpose

Amongst men who have forced their way to fame and fortune, we may name, as an example to all, worthy of imitation, the famous and justly celebrated Thomas Holloway, better known throughout the "wide, wide world " for his Pills and Ointment. Of these medicines it is not our pu pose 10 speak-we are not writing puff, but solid plain facts, to show what can be done by great strength of mind; and that what one man has done another may do, provided that he has the ability and determination to use it with all his soul!

We read of the Great Napoleon, whose ers of affliction by his wonderful Medicines; and, although he does not pretend to "raise the dead," yet he has given strength to the halt and soundness to the lame; and if he has not "opened the eyes of the blind," he has soothed the pain-worn, and comforted those on the brink of the grave; and in the four quarters of the globe his preparations have found their way - not by the force of the sword, not with the aid of legions, but have been silently borne on the bosom of old ocean in our huge merchant ships to every corner of the civilized world where suffering man is to be found. But to do all this gigantic work, to accomplish so wondrous a deed, required much thought and much energy, for without these combined, this mighty work could not have been accomplished. And thus he did it. There is a wise saying, "Don't spare printer's ink!" and Holloway spared neither "printer's ink," nor vast piles of the precise when match and Holloway spared neither "printer's ink," nor vast piles of the precise match and Holloway is all the ous metal, gold. The four greatest medical centres of the world are London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. These cities have immense hospitals teeming with suffering humanity. Crowds of students throng the wards studying under the Professors in charge. The most renowned physicians of the world teach and practice here, and the institutions are storehouses of medical knowledge and experience. With a view of making this experience available to the public the Hospital Remedy Co. at great expense secured the prescriptions of these hospitals, prepared the specifics, and although it would cost from $25 to $100 to secure the attention of their distinguished originators, yet in this way their prepared specifics are offered at the price of the quack patent medicines that flood the market thad absurdly claim to cure overy fill from a single bottle.
