CATARRH,

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS-HAY FEVER A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N B .- This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. Dixon & Son, 303 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.—Toronto Globe.

Sufferers from Catarrhal troubles should sarefully read the above.

> Sail on the River Grand Christmas Day, 1889.

DEDICATED TO MR DENTON AND SON, OF BRANTFORD, ONT, WHO WERE THE VOYAGEURS

Father let to make a voyage, On the river Grand to day; Let us celebrate this Christmas, In a most unusual way.
Over head the sun is shining,
Darting down his genial rays,
With a spring-tide heat diffusing scattering winter's frosty haze

"Very well," the answer given,
"We will take our birch canoe,
Which we brought from Lake Superior,
Made by Indians at the Soo;
Where we spent a pleasant sojoure,
In our tour of eignty-seven,
Sailing, fishing, shooting rapids
From the early morn till even "

'Tis a sight unique and pleasant,
Thus to see the waters roll,
Unimprisoned by the ice-king,
Bounding on without control.
Dear old river Grand we love thee,
On thy bosom love to sail,
Love to see the sunsat gleaming,
On thy broast in calm or gale Not the oldest man now living, Who has lived its waters near,
Watched it in the changing seasons,
E'er has seen it as this year;
Leaping o'er its boundary limits,
Like a deluge o'er the lea,
Swelled by flood-clouds downward pouring,
"Till they form a mimic sea

Just at three p.m. we started,
Bidding loved at home good-bye,
Launched upon the secthing billows,
On their mountain crests we fly;
With a swan-like ease surmounting,
Skimming waves, or gently dip;
The Dominion flag unfurling,
At the stern to grace our trip

Standing on the shore, spectators,
Watch our fragile bark set sail
Wishing us a pleasant voyage,
Anxious eyes the billows scale;
For the wind a gale is blowing,
Tossing high the frothy waves;
In our trusty bark we fear not,
Feel as safe as Indian braves

Near at hand a gurgling cascade, Spreads its misty spray the while, Over Watt's dam, comes tumbling, In a true spring freshet style; Here we make a hurried portage, Of a hundred yards or more, To avoid the foaming torrents, That rush past with angry roar

Then our birch cance we carry. Title we reach a calmer tide,
On the ever restless current,
With velocity we ride,
By the "Eagle's Nost" we hurry,
Where beneath its muttering wave,
Many a bather, life surrendered,
Found a chilly watery grave

On we dash with speed increasing. Plunging as we seem to fall, We are shooting "Blacker's Rapids," Most exciting scene of all; Then we take a sudden turning, Into calmer waters move; Gazo aloft to view the grandeur, Of "Teutela Heights" above

Grand old bluff, with summit towering Up one hundred feet in air, Tomb of the Teutela Nation. Once so numerous, dwelling there.
One old woman till surviving,
Lives to represent her race,
She alone can speak their language,
She alone their history trace

In our day the "Heights" are noted,
Far and near their fame has gone,
Where "Professor Bell" resided,
There conceived the Telephone;
Where he proved its application,
To the wants of this our age,
The electric scheme completed,
Which so many now engage

Swiftly, on our course pursuing, Keeping still a sharp look-out. To sail clear of a collision With the floating logs about, Should we meet with one, colliding, Unavailing tears and groans, We would find ourselves residing, Down below with "Davy Jones"

Now the "Land Slide" meets our vision, Strangest sight we yet have seen, Where the trees seem nearly fallen, In the river almost lean, Here the bank slid in the river, But a few short years ago, With an earthquake shock it settled, In the river bed below Studded o'er with trees still leaning, In its length, two hundred feet, Fifty yards in width combining. Somewhat changed the river street. One mile more of varied scenery. Past old "Mohawk Church" we glide, Where the dust of Thayendaneges.

I Jose h Brant" of deeds historic,
Is the Chief's plain English name,
Scholar, varrior, brave, distinguished,
In our con utry's early fame.
By his noble Christian efforts,
Built the Church that guards his tomb,
Liko a Sentinel on duty, Standing stern in stent gloom

"Mohawk Church" the oldest temple
Where Canadian Protestants,
First assembled, God to worship,
Praising Him in holy chauts.
Here, the first bell's clanging music,
Summoned to its sacred shrine,
The "Six Nations" of the red men,
To give heed to truths divine

First to break the forest stillness, Telling of a gospel free,
Echong o'er its vales and hilltops,
Message sent from o'er the sea.
Also the "Communion Service,"
Given by "Good Queen Anne" to them,
Brought by them from old Fort Sumpter
When they frem "Ch-he-oh" (Ohio) came

On the deep, dark, treacherous Mohawk,

In our sixty pound canoe,
Now we ply our trusty paddles,
Swiftly plough its waters through;
Past the "Oxbar Bend" we hasten,
Which surrounds the property
Of the late lamented "George Brown,"
Of respected memory

Here our trip is nearly ended,
As the "Locks" appear in sight;
The "Canal" we skim with swiftness
Turn our prow for homeward flight.
Now the crucial work commences,
In our teeth the flerce wind howls,
Like a wild voracious monster,
Greedy Neptune darkly scowls

'Tis no time for vain regretting,
To the task we bend our oars,
Every muscle strained in rowing,
While the wind in fury roars.
On we press through surging billows,
On the liquid mountains rise,
Silent in our great exertion,
Cleave the waves 'noath darkening skies

Wearied with our arduous toiling,
To a farm house we draw near,
With the "gude wife" exchange greetings,
As she gives us welcome cheer.
We regale our weary bodies,
With a sweet refreshing drink,
Of a liquid, white and creamy,
Frothy milk, the best we think

Through the clear and placid waters,
Of the "Pond," the rendezvous,
Of the Brantford brave "Canoe Club,"
Whose exploits excite roview.
Nearly dark we reach the city,
O'er the waters turbulent,
Gleam electric lights, reminding,
Of the starry firmament

As we land the city time-piece, Peals aloud the hour of five; After twelve miles sail we hurry And at home we soon arrive, Pleased so well our trip had ended, Glad at home again to be, Safe ensconced at our own fireside, With an appetite for tea

Feeling that on terra firma,
Men may dwell and feel secure;
That we should remember seamen,
Who for us so much endure.
That our lives are often measured,
By the conquests we have won,
Not so much by times duration,
As by earnest deeds well done large.

To the Electors of West York,

Your Vote and Influence is requested at the next election in West York for the Ontario Legislature on the following plat-

1. Equal Rights for all classes and creeds. Stand for Canada before party in resisting French and clerical aggression, 2. Provincial Rights should be subordinate to the interests of the Dominion at

Abolish the Separate Schools and have the English language taught to all citizens 4. Abolish School Book monopoly and make Schools more efficient. 5, Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic and the placing of Licenses, so long as they continue, and civil service appointments in the hands of a Non-Partizan Commisson.

6. A Registration shortly before Elections to save the expense and complications attending present system and also a secret

7. The continuance of the National Policy, so long as the United States maintain present attitude, The preservation and development of mineral and timber interests, 9. Make Elections come on a fixed day so that neither party could surprise the other by springing an election on the 10. Place the redistribution of constituncies in Ontario with the Judges of the Court of Appeal.

11. Before capital gets the hold upon our country that it has upon the United States, the position of those who labor should be made unassailable. 12. Honesty, economy and efficiency in all departments. With the above amendments the strong holds of the boodlers, office-seekers and those who trade upon race and creed for place and power would be broken down, and many a home now destitute and deso lated would be made comfortable and happy.

Yours, de., D. W. Clendenan.
