CATARRAH,

CATARRAH DEAFNESS—HAY FEVER

A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N.B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. Dixon & Son, 303 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.—Toronto Globe.

Sufferers from Catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.

A TEXAS clergyman about to be appointed chaplain of the penitentiary preached a farewell sermon to his congregation, which had treated him rather shabbily. There was nothing in the sermon at which anybody could take offence, but some of the newest members of the congregation did not like the text, which was, "I go to prepare a place for you, so that where I am ye may be also."

Echoes from other Sanctums.

PLEASE EXCUSE.

Our proof-reader was off on a holiday last week and our two printers were called to Tombstone to see their mother who was ill. We were very busy in our grocery, hardware and millinery store, and the Kicker did not present the appearance and interest we could have wished for. We had to chuck in six columns of old patent medicine ads., and the first page was the same as the week previous, but these are trifles incidental to the business of a great publishing house. We trust that our subscribers will overlook mistakes and encourage us to greater efforts by promptly renewing subscriptions.—Arizona Kicker in Detroit Free Press.

ADVICE.

We would say to "Sapho," of Bayside, that quality, not quantity, is the thing to be desired in poetry. A man might write a whole barrel of stuff like the sample sent us for publication, and yet never be suspected of being a poet. It would have been better for most of our poets if they had published only a few of their productions. For the sake of your reputation, we would advise you to print very few of your poems, and begin the good work by not printing the first one.—Panxatowney (Pa) Spirit.

To Ten Cents a Glass.

CITY HOTEL-KEEPERS PROPOSE TO RAISE THE PRICE OF WHISKEY.

A preliminary meeting of city hotelkeepers was held yesterday afternoon at Fred. Mossop's to consider a proposition to increase the price of liquor. Owing to the recent advance of 10 per cent for whiskey, the dispensers of tangle-leg in this city feel that their profits are now reduced so much that they do not yield sufficient revenue over and above expenses. Hence the desire for combined action in putting the price up to ten cents a glass for whiskey. This price is charged all over the United States and also in the more remote parts of Ontario. No definite line of action was decided upon, the meeting adjourning, after appointing a committee to prepare a report. Another meeting will be held next week.—Toronto Telegram.

A Royal Steamer.

The "Sardinian" sails from Montreal to-day with a full complement of saloon and intermediate passengers, although it seems but yesterday that she was about to leave for the other side with the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and suite on board. The officers and crew have many pleasant reminiscences to relate concerning the too short stay on board of their Royal Highnesses who before leaving the ship expressed themselves as having enjoyed one of the most comfortable and delightful voyages of all the many trips she has made in every part of the world. The Royal Duke, before going ashore, had the chief officers of the steamer summoned to his state cabin, and with his accustomed urbanity gave them a hearty shake of the hand, at the same time expressing a wish for their future prosperity. As a very elegant breast pin, bearing the Royal Crown and initials, accompanied the wish, the officers so highly favored consider themselves indeed fortunate. The Messrs. Allan as usual spared no trouble or expense in fitting up the steamer, and they are to be congratulated on having given such unbounded satisfaction. This, however, the Allan Line are celebrated for, and it matters not whether it be prince or peasant, cabin or steerage, nothing is ever left undone that may add to their comfort. One of the latest additions is the lightning throughout of the "Sardinian" by electricity.—Montreal Star, Wednesday, July 15th.

The Comet's Show at the BOSS BAB'S.

The baby show, however, was the most important part of the program. Dr. Gilmour and Mr. C. McCormack were the judges, who were to find out who owned the best looking baby, 12 months old and under. Mayr, St. Leger was to be appealed to as referee in case the two judges disagreed. There were eight entries. "Is your baby only 12 months old, Stephen?" asked one of the judges of The Comet editor. "I don't know," he replied, and then the crowd found out that the baby had been borrowed for the occasion. The decision was left to Mayor St. Leger, who declared the two babies named by the judges to be "both the prettiest." They are the pets of Mrs. D. Macdonald and Mrs. Anous Clarke.

A Novel Project.

When it was stated some weeks since in the newspapers that the building of a milk pipe line from a point in New York State to New York City was projected there was a rather general smile, and the matter was treated as a joke. The projectors were, however, it seems, in sober earnest. A company with a capital of $500,000 has, it is announced, been formed at Middletown, N. Y., for the purpose of constructing such a line. The proposed method of forwarding the milk is in cylindrical tin cans surrounded and propelled by water, and the promoters of the scheme assert that the time of transportation for a distance of over 100 miles will not exceed an hour, while the profit will be about one cent a gallon.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—The ills of life are increased tenfold by the mode of life so many have to lead; most especially is this the case amongst the toilers in our factories and huge workshops of the manufacturing districts, whose digestions become impaired and nervous systems debilitated by the protracted confinement and enforced deprivation of healthy out-of-door exercise. The factory workers may almost be said to have diseases of their own, ready nameable however, to treatment if not allowed to proceed unchecked. Holloway's Pills are the most effectual remedy ever discovered for the cure of liver and stomach complaints, as they act surely but gently, regulating the secretions without weakening the nerves or interfering with the daily work.

Our Washington Letter.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Harrison is preparing, so I am informed, to take a hand in the tariff-reeiprocity business. The amendment offered last week by Senator Pierce providing for the restoring of the present duties upon sugar, after one year, at the discretion of the President, against such countries as fail to admit our agricultural products free, is believed to have been prepared at the suggestion of Mr. Harrison, who is unwilling to go to the extent of the Hale amendment, which is in accordance with Mr. Blaine's ideas, and now Mr. Harrison, according to my informant, proposes to send to the Senate a special message urging the acceptance of Senator Pierce's amendment. He may do it, but it hardly seems probable that he would care to make such open war upon his Secretary of State, unless he really wished to drive him out of the cabinet, which no one well informed believes that he does. If Mr. Harrison sends any special message on this subject to Congress, it will be safe to wager that it will be submitted to and approved by James G. Blaine before it goes in.

The Senate for some reason seems indisposed to devote much time to the tariff bill yet, and it remains the unfinished business," which only comes up after two o'clock. Senator Morrill attempted to change this early in the week, but enough republicans voted with the democrats to defeat his motion.

The workmen want a hearing in the House. The committee on Labor has reported a number of bills in which the Labor organizations are greatly interested, and a committee from these organizations has waited on Speaker Reed to ask that gentleman why it was that he did not recognize members of the Labor Committee when they endeavored to call on some of these bills; they pointed out the fact that during former sessions Labor measures had been given from four to seven days while in the present they had had none. Mr. Reed made a diplomatic answer, and now the Federation of Labor have sent him a protest petition which they hope will cause him to grant their very modest request—one day for the consideration of the Alien Contract bill and the bill amending the eight-hour law.

As anticipated, the House passed the "Original Package" bill, or rather its substitute for the Senate bill, and the National Bankruptcy bill this week. The rest of the week promises to be occupied by the very uninteresting but necessary appropriation bills.

The republican Senators are still in a state of uncertainty about the Federal Election bill, and just now the most of them have their "ears to the ground," carefully listening to ascertain how the public at large feels on this matter. Should they decide to take it up after the appropriations and the tariff are disposed of, the committee already agreed upon, but the decision is not looked for just yet.

The House and Senate Military Committees seem to have entered a race, to see which could first get a bill through, pending the widow of Gen. J. C. Fremont, and the result is that bills have been favorably reported to both Houses, the only difference being that the Senate bill names $3,000 as the amount she shall receive, while the House bill is for $2,000. The House committee has also reported a bill allowing the widow of Gen. Geo. B. McClellan the same amount.

The influence of the Farmers Alliance is being felt in Congress, particularly in the House; it has killed the bill allowing a clerk in each member of the House, which had been considered as likely to pass at this session.
