

The Contrast between the French and British Press.

One of the curious differences between English and French journalism is that the British press gives to sport and stocks about the same space that the Gallic journals accord to art and literature.

When a new comedy is brought out in London, the papers indulge in one article of very moderate length about the piece and its author, and then they drop both, as if the editors had said in concert, "Thank heaven! that's over; now we can return to horse and cricket; or, we can dish up a beautiful stew of Irish and Afghan politics—just the thing for these gloomy winter mornings!"

When one reflects how mighty the intellectual movement in London is, with its hundreds of publishing houses, its dozens of theatres, its operas, its salons crowded with witty and brilliant folk from all the ends of the earth, its academies and museums and studios, one can not help considering it phenomenal that so little reflection of this higher life is seen in the daily press.

English Franchise Statistics.

As we are likely to have before long an extension of household franchise to the counties, a few statistics from the census of 1881 may prove interesting. The boroughs of England and Wales contain 2,100,000 houses and give a total of 1,600,000 voters.

A fashion writer says the "leg-of-mutton sleeves has not proved successful." An opinion got started that they looked sheep.

Manitoba and the North-west

Pithy Paragraphs and Newsy Notes. Carefully Collected for our Readers' Perusal.

Gold has been discovered at Minnedosa. A vigorous effort is to be made to have the next Provincial Exhibition held in Winnipeg.

Messrs. Ba'four & Fraser, of West Lynne will start their saw mill running in a couple of weeks.

The Portage la Prairie town council will petition the local government to appoint a police magistrate for that town.

The County of Brandon has purchased lots at the south of the town, (on the Vivian estate) for the purpose of erecting substantial County Buildings.

The fuel question has been an important one during the recent cold snap, and owing to a scarcity wood sold as high as $9 a cord at Emerson.

Over thirty mining companies are likely to be engaged in gold mining operations in the North-west before the close of the present year.

The question of the location of the C. P. R. bridge across the Red River at Emerson, is not definitely settled, but is in a fair way of being so.

It is reported, although not generally believed, that a branch bank will be opened shortly at Rat Portage. It is now an absolute necessity.

J. H. Kenning, Inspector of Inland Revenue, was in West Lynne on Friday, accompanied by Frank Bonletter, who succeeds J. Henry at that place.

P. Killer, a former resident of Emerson, has returned to fill the position of book-keeper for J. Robinson, who recently purchased the business of Ashdown & Co. in Emerson.

The Minnedosa Star is confident the Portage, Westborne and N. W. Railway will reach that place by the 1st of June, as the intention of the new company is to push the road 300 or 400 miles during the coming season.

It is reported that the Dominion Government will next season erect a new post-office and custom house in Winnipeg. The post office will cost $120,000, and will be put up on the present stand. The new custom house will cost over $100,000.

Considerable change is being made in the freight offices of the C. P. R. at Brandon. They are being enlarged, as the present accommodation is far too limited for the number of clerks required to do the work.

Mr. J. S. Armitage has closed a contract with parties in Winnipeg, to deliver either at Minnedosa or Brandon 30,000 ties. Messrs. John and Alexander Cameron have left with their gangs for Mr. Armitage's limits for the purpose of erecting shanties and stables.

There have been some statements circulated recently that the movers in the E. & N. W. railway charter were actuated by personal motives, and that now their enthusiasm is very low. The fact that the line is now superfluous will account better for the present apathy.

News has been received by the Indian Department of the destruction by fire at the Piegan reservation, near Fort MacLeod, of the building in which the Indian supplies were stored, with a loss of seven hundred sacks of flour. The Indians will not suffer seriously, as they have surplus potatoes equivalent to the flour destroyed.

Mr. J. Heney, Inland Revenue officer at West Lynne, leaves for Winnipeg on Monday next to take a position in the head office. The Times says: Since Mr. Heney's short stay with us he has by his genial manners attracted a number of warm friends towards him, who deeply regret his departure from among us.

A young man by the name of McLean, left his home, near Newdale, several weeks ago to go to Portage la Prairie, intending to be absent but a few days, since then nothing has been heard of him. His father telegraphed to the Portage and received an answer stating that his son had not been seen in that place. His parents are very anxious as to his whereabouts.

The Brandon Club has got into temporary trouble, and a number of parties with claims against the proprietors, are pressing for payment; the money, however, will be forthcoming, as one of the owners is wealthy and intends sparing no pains in making the institution a success. At the present time, however, the merchants seem somewhat uneasy on account of the large amount of the liabilities. Several Winnipeg wine dealers are interested to a considerable extent.

The fact that the Souris and Rocky Mountain Railroad are to push their line through Auburn early in the spring has already induced many to invest in lots for building purposes. This town site is situated on section twenty seven, township twelve, range fifteen, being about the centre of the fine farming district known as the Big Plain. Messrs. Koris brothers now have their large grist mill running night and day, and under the able management of Mr. Robinson are turning out some of the best flour in the country. There are now two general stores here, Mr. Muckle having moved his business from Crexford.

The Perturbed Thermometer.

A Thermometer was observed in a State of Excessive Agitation. "Why, my friend," inquired the Eight-day Clock, "why are you so Perturbed?" "Because," replied the thermometer, "I apprehend that I am no longer Capable of Performing my Functions. At the present Moment I am Registering forty degrees above Zero, when I should be Several degrees Below." "Oh, no, I guess Not," said the Eight-day Clock. "Yes, I am Confident of it," persisted the Thermometer, "for from my Position in the Window I just Overheard a policeman Decline Drink, and it must be a Cold Day when such a Phenomenon Occurs."

"Oo."

The conversation relates to a plaid hanging at the shop door. Customer (inquiring of the material)—"Oo?" Shopkeeper—"Ay, oo, (yes; of wool.) Customer—"A'oo?" Shopkeeper—"Ay, a' oo, (yes; all wool.) Customer—"A' ae oo?" Shopkeeper—"Ay, a' ae oo, (yes; all the same wool.) Shopkeeper—"Ay, a' ae oo, (yes; all the same wool.)"—Dean Ramsey.

ALL IN JEST.

The question which excites the drivers of public carriages is: "Does a hack or a coupe best?"

A trapeze performer is at the height of his popularity when his head touches the circus canvas at the top.

To stand on one's head is the most difficult feat one can perform on ice, and yet the new skater always tries to do it.

If you can't trust a man for the full amount let him skip. This trying to get an average on honesty has always been a failure.

Everybody goes to Saratoga to drink the water, but that doesn't explain why bartenders there are paid $200 a month, and it is hard to get them at that.

"What can I do for you to induce you to go to bed now?" asked a mamma of her 5-year old boy. "You can let me stay up a little longer," was the youngster's response.

A philosopher says: "In the economy of nature nothing is lost. The inside of an orange may refresh one man, while the outside of the same fruit may serve as a medium for breaking another man's leg."

We are told that "a seismologist is a man who investigates earthquakes for the purpose of ascertaining the laws that govern them." Think of that, my boy! When you tell the bartender to mix you an earthquake you're a seismologist.

Queen's county, New York, is afflicted with blind hogs. We are not informed whether they are of the same breed which are to be found in horse-cars, but probably they are not, as these latter are blind only when somebody wants one of the two or three seats they are occupying so artistically.

In some of the mining towns of Nevada a common house cat sells for $10 in gold, and the supply is always short. A Nevada man who would bootjack a cat would not be allowed to live twenty-four hours. But it doesn't do any good to post a notice to this effect in a back-yard, as cats can't read.

Fuller Wenham is a very objectionable person. They were talking in his presence of a septuagenarian millionaire. "The state of his health," said one of his nearest and dearest relations, "causes us all the gravest anxiety." "Probably," remarked Fuller Wenham, "but the state of his illness wouldn't."

A street railroad convention has recently been held in Boston. It was not decided whether conductors should continue to gaze at the blue vault of heaven when a man is hastening along through mud two feet deep to catch the car. But the conclusion was arrived at that under no circumstances should a car carry more than 141 passengers at the same time, or stop for any one to get off unless the track was blocked by a freight car.

The old French banker, Pont, was by no means lacking in presence of mind, as indicated by the following anecdote. Once upon a time, in a crowded church, he felt someone brush against him and then missed his watch. Knowing that the thief could not be gone very far, he contented himself by remarking aloud: "Well if that isn't the first time I ever knew one of our fellows to rob another one of the gang." His confidence was not misplaced, for as he was going out a well-dressed gentleman slipped the timepiece into his hand, with the words: "Excuse me, sir! I didn't know you belonged to the perfesh!"

A hunter fired at a bird as it flew over the door-yard of an Arkansas residence. A boy that was playing around was struck by a couple of shot, and his cries brought his father to the scene. "What have you done?" he demanded of the hunter, drawing a revolver. "I ber ten thousands pardons," exclaimed the hunter. "In my eagerness to secure the bird I fired thoughtlessly, and I fear I have seriously wounded your son." "Sou!" said the old man. "I thought you had hit my dog. Mind how you shoot around here, for if you put a shot into that dog I'll cut off both your ears."

Stock Company Wanted.

He sat behind a show-window full of specimens of silver ore and received his first customer with a bland smile.

"Is that silver ore?" asked the man.

"Of course."

"Any silver in it?"

"Certainly."

"Dig it up around Toledo here?"

"No, sir; those specimens came from Colorado."

"Buy 'em of some quarry?"

"They came from my mine, sir."

"Any more left?"

"Thousands of tons."

"Going to use 'em to pave streets?"

"No, sir; I am here to sell stock in the mine."

"Is the ore worth anything?"

"It assays at $1,200 to the ton."

"Only $1,200?"

"Only? Why it is the richest mine in Colorado."

"What's the whole mine worth?"

"At least $1,000,000."

"Is that all? I did think of investing, but I don't care for small speculations. If you want a dollar bill for those specimens I'll send a boy and a cart around here. Reckon they might come handy for chinking up the smoke-house or throwing at cats."

Delicate Charity.

Dr. Romances, of England, tells a charming story of the father of the late Charles Darwin. For the benefit of the district in which he lived, Dr. Darwin offered to dispense medicines gratis to any one who applied and was not able to pay. He was surprised to find that very few of the sick poor availed themselves of his offer, and, guessing that the reason must have been a dislike to become a recipient of charity, he devised a plan to neutralize the feeling. Whenever any poor persons applied for medical aid, he told them that he would supply the medicine, but they must pay for the bottles. This little distinction made all the difference, and ever afterwards the poor used to flock to the doctor's house for relief as a matter of right.

Every sensible man in Chicago who has seen Mrs. Langtry has gone home and said to his wife: "Well, well; it she's good-looking I wonder what they'd call you?" Some wives take it as a compliment.

"Accept our Gratitude."

Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—Your "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured my boy of a fever sore of two years' standing. Please accept our gratitude.

Yours truly, HENRY WHITING, Boston, Mass.

The true test of civilization is not the census, nor the size of cities, nor the crops—no, but the kind of man the country turns out.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is not extolled as a "cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent specific in those chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. Particulars in Dr. Pierce's pamphlet treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women, 96 pages, sent for three stamps. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

The bare is usually considered a harmless creature; or of that class of irrational bipeds who hurt only themselves.

Dr. Pierce's "Pellets"—little liver pills (sugr-coated)—purify the blood, speedily correct all disorders of the liver, stomach, and bowels. By druggists.

God's livery is a very plain one; but its wearers have good reason to be content. If it have not so much gold lace about it as Satan's, it keeps out foul weather better, and is besides a great deal cheaper.

Immense demand for Vegetine

We are not at all surprised to learn that the demand of the people everywhere for that famous medicine, Vegetine, is constantly becoming more and more extended. It has long been in demand all over our own country, and had some time ago made its way into various foreign lands. At the present time the esteemed proprietor, Mr. H. R. Stevens, of Boston, is sending it to order to some of the remotest foreign countries; and it seems now evident that Vegetine is to become a universal medicine. It is a "patent medicine," but it has gained its fame and made its way everywhere on its own intrinsic merits. Such were the unmistakable and undeniable results of the use of this astonishing, and, at this day, world-renowned medicine, in speedily effecting cures of the very numerous diseases or ills for which it was declared to be a remedy, that people everywhere were open and decided in expressing their opinion that this "patent medicine" must not only be ranked equal with, but altogether superior to, all the regular "doctors' stuff" that had ever been given in sickness.

There was and there could be no dispute about the astonishing cures effected by the medicine. The doctors could not deny them. Moreover, testimonial letters from perfectly well-known persons in high standing and of undoubted character and veracity began to pour in upon Mr. H. R. Stevens, the proprietor, in abundance, declaring, and often with the deepest gratitude, the surprising cures wrought by the great medicine.

Such testimonials have continued to flow in upon Mr. Stevens, from first to last, until he has had enough to make volumes were he to print them all. But he don't publish even in the newspapers, only a small fraction of them. Is it any wonder, then, that the sale of Vegetine is now increasing at a surprising rapid rate?—Providence (R. I.) Gazette.
