RICHMOND HILL, FRIDAY, March 30, '88

AT HOME.

.... The snow shovel will soon have a rest.
 Aurora almost had a big blaze on Sunday.
 The Measles are diminishing in Markham.
 Another large tank is being sunk on Arnold St.
 North York Spring Show at Newmarket, April the 25th.
 Horses have taken to breaking corporation lamps at Aurora.
 The Jubilee Singers will give a Concert in Thornhill to-night.
 The streets in Toronto were almost navigable on Saturday and Sunday.
 Toronto has had just an average of one fire per day during March.
 Report saith that the Salvation Army will visit Richmond Hill next week.
 Eggs have had a downward tendency during the past week, especially on Easter Sunday.
 The tank on the corner of Richmond and Yonge Sts. has been christened "the martyrs well."

School Opening.

The High and Public Schools here will re-open on Monday, after Easter Holidays. No doubt the teachers as well as the pupils will feel recuperated after a weeks rest.

Suffocated by Gas.

Four French-Canadians were found insensible in their room at the St. James Hotel, in Toronto, on Monday morning. They had turned off the gas improperly. It was with difficulty they were resuscitated. They were strangers in the city.

The Big Blow.

The New York Independent says: Wiggins did not go to Halifax to see the big blow, but he went that Halifax might see the big blow" Halifax, however, did not see either the wind or the windbag as Wiggins concluded to stay at home.

A Scalded Arm.

Mr. Geo. Trench, engineer in Trench's Steam Works, got his arm scalded on Saturday causing him intense pain. They had been fixing the pump when a tap had been accidentally left open, and in his efforts to close it the hot water from the boiler spurted on his arm.

Bible Society Meeting.

Richmond Hill Branch Bible Society will hold their Annual Meeting on Monday evening April 9th, at 7.30 o'clock in the Methodist Church School Room. Addresses by the Rev. J. G. Manly agent of the Society, and the resident ministers; a large attendance is requested. Collection at the close.

To Make Wood Go a Long Way.

An exchange gives the following receipt for making wood go a long way: "Leave it out doors." A resident of Richmond Hill, having tried this plan finds it to accomplish all that is claimed for it. Having left his wood out doors he found during the past few weeks that a good deal went so far that it has not returned, and steps may be taken to determine the question, "If not why not."

Division Court.

Court was held here on Thursday of last week, deputy Judge O'Sullivan, presided. A number of important cases were disposed of, one of the most important of which was Law vs Morden, in which the plaintiff received $20, and paid his own costs. The Court was held in the new court room in Lorne Hall.

Richmond Hill Postal Delivery.

We are pleased to inform our subscribers outside of the village who receive their mail at Richmond Hill Post Office that we can again deliver the LIBERAL to them through the Post Office. Any therefore who find it inconvenient to call at this Office for the LIBERAL please inform us next time you call and we will place you on the Post Office list.

Disgraceful Sidewalks.

During the past few weeks the sidewalks in our village have been in a disgraceful condition. After storms in many places they were not shovelled at all and in others just a walk wide enough for one to pass through. When it thaws the walks in many places are flooded with water or several inches deep with slush. There is some loud complaining and the matter should be looked after. What are our village fathers thinking about?

The Ball Jubilee Singers.

The Ball Family of Jubilee singers gave a successful series of Sacred Concerts in the Methodist Churches on this circuit as follows: Monday night at Maple; Tuesday at Edgely; Wednesday at Richmond Hill; last night at Victoria Square. On each occasion there were crowded houses and the audiences were delighted with their singing, which was of the regular Jubilee or plantation style and was repeatedly encored. They would receive a hearty welcome where they to visit this vicinity again.

Almost Serious.

On Saturday the Patterson Agricultural Works had a narrow escape from the devouring flames. In tempering the teeth for their famous Spring Tooth Harrows a large vat of oil is used in which the teeth are dipped. This took fire from the heat of the steel, and the blaze was soon communicated, by means of a wooden pipe, to the roof, where for a time it was thought the whole works would fall a prey to the raging element. The men, however, went to work with an energy which did them credit, and soon had entirely subdued the flames. The damage will not be very heavy.

To Publishers and Editors.

Many Newspapers and Magazines have been established in the United States and Canada within the last two years, the names of which do not appear in any Newspaper Directory or Catalogue. The publishers and editors of such are invited to send copies and a full description of their respective publications to the Editor of Hubbard's Newspaper and Bank Directory of the World, New Haven, Conn., U. S. A., that they may be properly catalogued and described in the forthcoming edition of that work for 1883. Editors who kindly give this notice an insertion in their columns will confer a favor upon the Press of America.

Literary and Musical Society.

On Tuesday evening the members of the Presbyterian Musical and Literary Society held their last meeting for the season. The discussion on the subject "Resolved that it would be for the benefit of society that Woman should have an equal chance with man in the pursuits of life" was an exceedingly animated and lively one. Excellent arguments were advanced on both sides. The Chairman, the Rev. I. Campbell, in summing up, gave a definite opinion in favor of the Negative, but on its being left to the audience the decision was given in favor of the Affirmative, by a majority of two or three votes.

Pushing Business.

As will be seen by reference to another column, the advertisement of the old and reliable Cambridgeshire Clothing House, 86 Yonge St., Toronto, again appears on our pages. Though the business has changed hands it is still in the first ranks of the clothing trade, and in order to still farther establish itself it feels the necessity of being represented through the columns of THE LIBERAL, which is fast becoming recognised by the business men of Toronto as one of the best advertising mediums in the county. Any persons requiring neat and stylish garments could not do better than give Mr. Holtby, the genial manager, a call, and Mr. John D. Coulter, formerly of this village, will give them perfect fits every time. Mr. Coulter has charge of the tailoring department.

Lacrosse Concert.

The Lacrosse Concert in the Masonic Hall on Good Friday evening, was a decided success. The programme was an unusually good one, and rendered in first class style in every part. Among the performers were Mrs. Johns, of Thornhill, Miss Willis, of Aurora, Mr. Stewart, Woodbridge, Misses Coulter, Wilson, and Nicholls and Messrs Sanderson and Hume and the Glee Club of Richmond Hill. But the attraction and star of the evening was Mrs. Bradley, of Toronto. Her selections were charming, and her voice is equalled by few singers in Canada. She more than delighted the audience and was frequently encored. There was an excellent house. Dr. Wilson presided. The Club realized over $20 after all costs were paid.

Walked Away.

A few evenings ago Rev. W. J. Barkwell, B. A. called at the LIBERAL office on business, blanketing, and, as he supposed trying his horse. After attending to his business which took fifteen or twenty minutes, on going to the door what was his surprise to find his horse gone. Thinking some person had taken the horse to the stable of some friend he proceeded to find it, but a diligent search failed to reveal its whereabouts. The Rev. gentleman concluded it had got loose and made its way to Maple. After starting in pursuit he was informed that his horse was caught walking along the street in the village and was tied in the shed at the Palmer House. He thinks he must have forgotten to tie it.

Essays and Prizes.

Last Sunday the Essays written for the prizes offered by Mrs. Addison, to the Scholars of the Methodist Sunday School here, were read and the prizes awarded.

The subject was that portion of our Saviour's life from the time of the institution of the Last Supper to the Ascension. The Essays, of which there were quite a number, were very creditable to the authors, and were submitted to the criticism of the Rev. J. Dick, P. Patterson, Esq., and Dr. Wilson, who were required to act as Judges. The first prize for the girls was awarded to Miss Lena Wiley. For the second two were equally good by Miss Minnie Harvey, and Miss Mary Miller. To each was awarded an excellent Bible. The first prize for boys, a Casquet of Poems was carried off by Master Charles Storey, and second a bible, by Master Alexander Macdonald. The books were presented to the successful competitors by the Superintendent, Mr. Conger, of Patterson, and the Editor of the LIBERAL. A large number of parents and friends were present. The proceedings were enlivened by singing appropriate Hymns and will long be remembered by the Scholars.

A Costly Pleasure Drive.

Rumor saith that a respectable gentleman of our village, whose name we will withhold, decided on having a pleasure drive on Sunday afternoon, and to that end engaged the very best livery rig the place could afford. After treating a respectable young lady to a drive he visited a western suburb near the railway station, where the laws of God and man are alike a dead letter, and Sunday is one of the seven days of the week. Here his sails caught too much wind and when he got back to Richmond Hill, about 9 p. m. he was seen to drive on northward, but had not reached the limits of the corporation when by some means the horse, cutter and contents were in a heap in the ditch. Some young people who happened to be enjoying the evening hearing the fuss went to his assistance, and helped to extricate him from his difficulty. The young man, with difficulty got the man the horse and the rig to a hotel in the village by taking each separately. The horse was somewhat injured and the rig almost demolished. It will cost him something for repairs to the rig but still more to repair his character. Such occurrences in a place like Richmond Hill, and by men from whom we might expect better are simply disgraceful.

About Country Newspapers.

An exchange hits the nail on the head in the following: It is absurd for the residents of rural municipalities to suppose that because they get large city weeklies for the same money that they pay for a good local paper, that they receive more value for their money. This is a mistaken idea. Any man who takes the least interest in the affairs of his township or county, if he can afford only one paper, should take the one published in his own county. The local paper furnishes its readers with the news of the entire district, market reports, agricultural news; county, town and township council reports; accounts of agricultural societies and shows; and local news generally, none of which the city papers can pretend to do. It will thus be seen that neither the Globe, Mail, or any other city weekly can supply the places of the local paper, glib-tongued agents to the contrary notwithstanding. To which do the people look when there is some local scheme to be advocated? Do they run to the city papers? No; for they know it would be of no use to do so. Then the country press should let those who take a city weekly in preference to a local paper go to the city editors for any favors they may ask. A good live paper is the best institution any town can possess.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride have been spending the Easter holidays with their friends at Owen Sound.

Capt. and Mrs. McConnell are away west attending the funeral of Mrs. McConnell's brother who died suddenly.

Miss Keefer, of Trenton, and Miss Harris, of Dundalk, took the opportunity afforded by Easter vacation of visiting their friends here.

Miss Brown, Artist, who conducted classes here in painting, drawing, &c., two years ago, has been spending a few days visiting friends in this place.

Messrs. McMahon, Principal of the Public School, and Watson, Assistant High School Teacher, have been visiting friends at a distance during the holidays.

Mr. R. H. Lymburner and his eldest son, Harry, started for Manitoba on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Morgan, of Thornhill, and Mr. Vantassel and family accompanied them.

Miss Turnbull, came to spend a short time visiting her sister, Mrs. Capt. McConnell, but got a telegram shortly after arriving that her brother was very ill. He died shortly after she reached him.

Mr. Keefer, member of the House of Commons for Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, has been visiting his friends here during the Easter vacation of Parliament. Mr. Keefer is one of Mr. Blake's staunchest supporters and a prominent Reformer in the maritime peninsula.
