A Good Price.

Messrs. W. & A. Wright, two miles north of this village, sold a horse to Mr. Murray of Toronto, for the handsome sum of $250. It took first prize at the Richmond Hill Fair on May 24th, in the saddle class.

Monthly Fair.

On Wednesday, the Monthly Fair was held in Richmond Hill. A large number of buyers were on hand from Toronto and other places. The largest and best collection of cattle that has ever been brought to the fair, was on the ground.

Value in Groceries at the Concrete House better than the best.

Richmond Lodge, No. 23 G. B. C., met in Masonic Hall, Richmond Hill, on Monday evening, June 2nd, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: W. Bro. A. J. Rupert, W. M.; Bro. M. Fierheller, S. W.; Bro. P. G. Savage, J. W.; W. Bro. A. L. Steele, Chaplain; Bro. W. Trench, Treas.; Bro. H. A. Nichols, Sec.; Bro. N. Davis was appointed Tyler.

Annual Pic-Nic.

The North York Reform Association, will hold their annual pic-nic on Wednesday, June 11th, 1884, in the beautiful grove belonging to Brooke Howard, Esq. Addresses will be delivered by the Hon. Ed. Blake, M. P.; Dr. Landerkin, M. P., and one or more members of the Ontario Government, the two members of the Riding, and other prominent men. A cordial invitation is extended to all, independent of political views.

Every body should get some of the 10 ct. Grey Cotton at the Concrete.

The Semi-Centennial.

Extensive preparations are being made by the Executive Committee, for the holding of the Semi-Centennial Celebration of the incorporation of the City of Toronto, from June 30th till July 5th. Each day of the week is to be set apart for certain special performances, and programmes have been arranged, so that visitors may have choice of days. It is an interesting picture to look at Toronto at present, and contrast it with what it was fifty years ago.

Nuptials.

Of all months in the year, June appears to be the favorite for marriage. We are happy to record this week the union of Mr. Isaac Crosby, of this place, and Miss Kate Hutchinson, of Aurora. The happy event took place at her father's residence yesterday, June 4th. A large number of relatives of both families attended the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. E. Sanderson of the C. M. Church, Aurora. Many costly gifts were presented to the bride, who is a general favorite with her relatives and friends. The married couple took the train en route for New York, and other American cities, where they intend spending a few weeks. We extend to them our hearty congratulations, and feel confident the residents of Richmond Hill will join with us in wishing them a bright future of happiness and prosperity.

Picturesque Canada.

The genial agent was around on Tuesday, delivering Nos. 31 & 32 of this well known work, and, as usual, left a couple of numbers for us at THE LIBERAL office. We would wish it to be distinctly understood, however, that we have not offered our volumes for sale. Just think of it, only four more numbers and the work will be completed. We venture to say that, in many cases, these books are welcomed about as much as "Poems and Pen-pictures" by "The Traveller with his Valise."

Best value in the country in all lines of Dry Goods at the Concrete.

Temperance Meeting.

The adjourned meeting was held in the Temperance Hall, on Monday evening, for the purpose of electing officers for the Municipality of Richmond Hill, for the submission of the Scott Act, if such be decided at the meeting to be held in Aurora today. On motion of Mr. R. E. Law, seconded by Mr. J. H. Sanderson, Mr. J. A. E. Switzer was elected president. Mr. Wm. Storey was elected secretary, and Mr. W. T. A. Cook assistant secretary. The meeting adjourned after tendering a vote of thanks to the late president and secretary pro tem.—Dr. Wilson and Mr. R. E. Law.

The Millinery turned out by the Concrete is ahead of any thing in style and value.

Narrow Escape.

Last Friday evening, an accident occurred at Wilson's mill pond, which might have resulted more seriously. About 4 o'clock, Master Ross, Haffey, Miss Eva Wiley, Miss Lou, McLellan and other High School pupils, proceeded to the pond, bent on an excursion. Those mentioned above, securing a boat, got into it and started across the water. They had not gone far, till it was found that the boat was filling with water, when they struck for the shore. Miss Eva getting somewhat excited, got into the water where she must have been 8 or 10 ft. deep, and immediately sank to the bottom. When she rose to the surface, Ross, with great presence of mind, backed up with an equal amount of courage, sprang into the pond, and held his charge above water till aid was rendered from other quarters. The young lady could not speak for some time, but soon resuscitated, the only trace now left of the adventure being a slight cold. We are glad the incident was not more serious, and congratulate Ross on his courageous act, which no doubt will be long remembered by the occupants of the boat.

The Lone Fishermen.

The following dialogue, between two of our well known fishermen, was overheard on St. George's lake on Tuesday afternoon:—

Jack—Well, Jim, I think we might as well gather up our fishing tackle and start for home; the luck seems to be against us this year.

Jim—O don't get discouraged, Jack, the day is fresh, and we may have some good sport yet. See here, I have got several fine perch, as long as your finger.

Jack—Well, I'm getting sick and tired of the whole business. This is the fourteenth day we've been out, and nothing to show for it, and I can't go on the street but somebody is shouting "When are you going to fetch us those fish," besides my old Governor is beginning to kick like thunder, and I even had to make up a lie to get away today.

Jim—Well that's so Jack, it is discouraging, but—

Jack—Hold on Jim! I think I got a bite! Yes, I'm sure of it. Heavens! What is it! Look how he pulls.

Jim—You've got him, Jack, this time. Let him play with the hook a while. He may break the line.

Jack—Is't he a whopper. By Jove, I wish Dick was here. Now Jim, when I draw him up you grab him! He's a ten pounder.

Jim—All right Jack, I'm your man, we'll go shares with the brute! Won't we?

Jack—Quick now, or he'll be away. See how he is dragging the boat—He's gone, hook and all! Oh Jim, why didn't you snatch him? Well that settles my fishing for all time to come. Blast those fish-books.

And the following words were heard to ripple over the clear still water:—

"Jimmie," at length he murmured low,
 And went like childhood then—
 Talk not of grief till thou hast seen
 The tears of fishermen.—

He thought of all his blighted hopes,
 (You should have seen that frown).
 He hung the fish pole from his hand,
 And in the boat sat down.
