ON A TOUR.

We did little business at La Cloche, very few Indians were there, though it was pay day, but there were cogent reasons for their absence. La Cloche is a Hudson Bay Co's post, and they have their own store, and the Indians would be expected to spend freely there when they were paid in the building, though they are very dear in such stores, besides they have nine accounts against some of the Indians, and how could they get out of paying them there; some of the traders, too, may have "skudgeon"—whiskey—along, but they dare not sell it there, so for all these reasons we expect to find most of the Indians of this region at their own village of Sugamug. I have omitted Indian names before; I mention this one as an example of the music or smoothness (!) of their names, as Longfellow did in his "Hiawatha." There are a few musical names, though, in Indian nomenclature, and Longfellow has monopolized them. I hardly think he could have made much use of Wabyyig and Wikwemikongsing. There must be a great similarity among all Indian tongues for the scene of Hiawatha is laid in Wisconsin or Minnesota, nearly all the names of things used in that famous Indian legend, are the same as those used here; here is built the "swift Cheemaun for sailing, Keewaydin, the north-west wind, is the home wind still, the Mushemokwa—Great Bear—is hunted as of yore, a mild reverence is still paid to Osseo—Evening star—
"Star of evening, star of woman,
Star of tenderness and passion," and almost everybody knows that this island was the home of Gitche—Manitou—the Great Spirit.

We made a short stay at La Cloche; I would like to have remained longer. Everything is neat about the H. B. Post, tidy white buildings, the beautiful rushing little river, tumbling over the rocks is spanned by a neat bridge, and high above us towered the highest peaks of the La Cloche Mts. It was a pretty sight as we moved out of La Cloche that evening, the little fleet going slowly out of the river and out of the bay a large canoe containing eight men and two women, all paddling, shot quickly by us, and while our sails flap almost idly our crews indulge in music, and sound of violin, cornet, fife and mouth-organ mingle harmoniously together, and float over the quiet waters.

After hunting our way among innumerable islands, and 'poling' through narrow channels, we reach Sugamug, late at night; some of the boats lost their way and had to be shouted in after midnight. Here we remain all next day and night, for there is a strong head-wind. Trade is slow next day, we wonder how it is, till one 'honest Injun' tells us that most of the village were on a terrible spree the night before, and were not up yet. It was only too true. Two half breeds had run a little boat in our company from Little Current, but we did not notice that they did not stop at La Cloche: they had gone on to Sugamug with their cargo, with what results we saw the next morning; they had only whiskey. Late in the forenoon the natives began to turn out, but not for dry goods, only skudgeon is in demand for a while; old, half-dressed, wretched looking men stagger about from boat to boat in search of it, the old blind chief is led down to one of the boats and becomes so drunk he has to be carried away; the young chief, a pleasant looking, active fellow, is drunk all day, and such swearing, all the English some of them know is 'cuss' words, and they make use of them with a liberality that is shocking to hear, but poor fellows, they hardly know what they are saying, they have no such words in their own tongue; so it is a high carnival of whiskey and swearing nearly all day. One of the regular traders has a barrel of whiskey, labelled 'pork' to avoid suspicion, but the agent has gone now, and there is no danger, so the bottled beverage is sold openly—bottles containing about a pint of 'stingo' sell readily at one dollar each.

AURORA.
From our own Correspondent.
A lively cricket match was played here on Saturday, between the Toronto club and the Aurora boys, resulting in favor of the home team by 47 runs and one innings.

A sad accident occurred on Monday evening, which will no doubt prove fatal. A lad named Nixon, while fooling with a revolver, discharged its contents into his body. The doctor has so far failed to find the location of the ball.
John A. Macdonald, of the "Queen's" was kicked in the breast by one of the stallions. He is slowly recovering.
Times are dull. Most of the clerks and merchants may be seen sitting under the awnings of the stores, smoking and wiping their faces.

LACROSSE MATCH.

Victory for the Young Canadians.

They Retain the Western Championship
The much talked of match, between the Young Canadians and Excelsiors of Brampton, for the Western Championship, was played on the Fair Ground at Richmond Hill, on Friday, August 15th and resulted in a complete victory for the home team by three straight games, thus retaining the Gold Medal and the Championship.

The following are the names and positions of the teams.
Young Canadians—J. McCopaghy, goal; W. E. Wiley, point; S. Mager, cover-point; T. Young, J. Piper, C. Skeele, defence field; F. Powell, centre; A. Pugsley, G. Derry, B. Brown, home field; S. S. Searle, cover-point home; C. Savage, point home.

Excelsiors—F. Manning, goal; F. Lowes, point; J. G. Roberts, cover-point; R. Blair, F. Main, E. Fallis, defence field; E. Joyce, centre; B. Nichol, T. Peaker, T. Lowes, home field; S. Charters, cover-point home; T. Ballentyne, point home.
Some of the players from Brampton, and several of their admirers arrived in the village the previous evening, anxious to spy out the land and to make preparations for the reception of their friends.

The day was extremely warm and dusty, notwithstanding which, about 1200 people congregated to see the sport. The Grand Stand erected for the occasion was crowded, principally by ladies, who in their gay attire, presented a handsome appearance, and lovers of the fair sex were amply rewarded for their admission fee before the match commenced. After some minor disputes were settled and the umpires appointed—Messrs. Hull and Clark of Toronto—the referee, Mr. D. A. Rose called time and the two clubs formed into line opposite each other. Seldom have spectators had the privilege of gazing on two finer looking teams, and a stranger would scarcely have known which side to have selected for the victors, although the visitors were much heavier than their opponents.

FIRST GAME—The ball was faced at 2.45, the home team playing down the slope. One of the Young Canadians got the rubber and immediately sent it down near the visitors' flags, but it was speedily returned and accidentally thrown over the fence by an Excelsior. The ball being again faced off and tossed down grade was caught by Savage who made a throw on the flags, but the shot went wide. The ball was now tossed up and down for a short time, and after some brilliant play on both sides, Savage made another fine shot sending it through the goal and scoring the first game for the home team, time, 20 minutes.

Great applause followed from those interested in the Richmond Hill club, but the friends of the Brampton team, nothing daunted, were still prepared to back their men for any amount.

SECOND GAME—After a few minutes' rest, the second game was started. F. Powell drew the rubber and sent it flying eastward. Down the field again it sped, where a sharp tussle took place between Young and Lowes, the latter going suddenly through the board fence; but the ball was on the opposite side, and was soon hovering over the visitors' goal. Here was shown the finest play during the afternoon, the sphere being thrown again and again with wonderful accuracy on the flags by Pugsley, Skeele, and Searle, the latter especially exercising perfect judgment his play and movements being simply grand. Again and again were the formidable attacks nobly repulsed by F. Lowes, Roberts, Blair and Main, until Searle passed the ball to Savage, who by a quick throw, slipped it through and counted one more game, time, 17 minutes.

It was now apparent that the Young Canadians would be the victors, and that the winning of the third game, barring accidents, would be only a matter of time. But the Excelsiors still seemed determined, whilst their backers looked as if the whole affair was wrapped in mystery.

THIRD GAME—The third game, which was destined to be the last, was commenced without much delay, Powell again pulling the ball from Joyce, but before the centres rightly knew where it was, Derry had stolen down and secured it for himself, immediately sending it spinning on the home flags. But here it did not remain long as Roberts had captured it, and showed some fine skill as a lacrosse player, and almost succeeded in winning a game. This was the only time during the match that the Young Canadians appeared to be in danger, but the fear was soon relieved by McCopaghy, who made magnificent play all through the contest. At length, after 12 minutes play, Mager, who had been showing good work, got the ball and gave it to Searle, who passed it to Savage; he in turn sent it whizzing between the stakes, thus terminating the struggle, and retaining for Richmond Hill the proud title of the Champions of Western Ontario.

The excitement was now intense, and many were the congratulations the victorious team received on defeating a club with such a brilliant record as Brampton possessed. The visitors played a good game, but in many cases showed over-confidence in their powers, and failed in measuring the strength of their opponents, besides which, their Goal-keeper was unfit for his position.

Most of the western crowd left the village on the 6 o'clock bus, and were loudly cheered on their departure. In the evening, a torch-light procession was formed in honor of the event, and after marching through the village, headed by the band, an invitation was extended to retire to the Temperance Hall, where the ladies had provided an enticing supper. The lacrosse boys will long remember with pride, the excitement raised on their behalf. The proceeds at the gate amounted to about $150.

HEADFORD.

From Our Own Correspondent.
On Saturday evening last our little village was thrown into great excitement at the announcement of the drowning of a young man named Abraham Bettes. It appears he had gone in for a bath, and had got beyond his depth, when as is supposed, he took camp, and immediately, in the sight of nearly all who were assembled on the bank, went down to his watery grave. Everything in the way of assistance was done, and when his body was found all signs of life had disappeared. The young man had lived in this country a little over two months and at the time of the drowning was in the employ of Mr. Jonah Leek. We believe that only two weeks ago he went to Toronto, and there paid almost the last cent he had, for tickets to bring his wife and family of three children to Canada, expecting her to sail about the 28th of this month. He was a young man of excellent moral character and possessed wonderful ambition and willingness to do his duty. His prospects were bright and he was constantly "building castles" for his future success and happiness. The news of his sad misfortune will, no doubt, be something dreadful to his wife, as she expected ere long to unite with him, her labors for their prosperity. His remains were followed to the Headford burying-ground by a large number of people on Sunday afternoon, Revs. Booth and Totten being ministers for the occasion.

A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes: "For weeks I was troubled with a swollen ankle, which caused me much pain and annoyance. Mr. Maybee, of this place, recommended Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for it. I tried it, and before one bottle was used, I was cured. It is an article of great value." Beware of Electric or Electron Oils, as they are imitations of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.
