Firemen's Concert.

For several years past, New Year's has been a red letter day for the Firemen of Richmond Hill, and the last festive Anniversary was no exception to preceding years. Shortly after six o'clock in the evening, a company of Musketeers, selected from the most martial looking of our Fire Brigade, was formed by Captain Jas. McConnell, who The Cheap Cash House are still | might have felt proud of their gallant bearing, and majestic appearance on the field of battle. Having formed his men in line at the Arsenal, they marched through the village and halted in front of the Fire Hall, where they discharged a volley of five rounds. Here, they were joined by the Hook and Ladder Department, the Hose Reel Depart ment, and the remainder of the company, who manned the engine. Many of the firemen were neatly equipped in uniform the engine and fire appliances were nicely decorated, and the whole procession, as it marched along the street, followed by a long train of people, headed by the Baud, and discharging rockets along the way, presented a grand display to the on-lookers on either side. The Entertainment in the Temperance Hall followed immediately after the torchlight procession, and was presided over by Mr. J. H. Sanderson, Captain of the Brigade. The performance was somewhat novel, and consisted of two parts, the first scene representing The Captain's home, and by the elegant scenery painted specially for the occasion by Mr. W. A. Sanderson, a cosy home was depicted. The performers were supposed to be paying the captain a friendly visit and giving him an evening's entertainment. Miss Bertha Wilson gave a couple of recitations, entitled " How they saved St. Michael's," and "Flying Jim's last leap," both being very appropriate for a firemen's concert. Miss Bertha, who is always welcomed on a Richmond Hill platform, rendered her selections in an almost perfect manner, and greatly surpassed any of her previous efforts. Mr. L. Bailey favored the audience with two recitations. Miss Florence and Master Willie Bailey delighted the audience with their step dancing, which they executed in the happiest manner. Mr. S. Agar gave a reading which was the cause of much laughter and brought forth frequent bursts of applause. Quartettes were given by Messra J. H. Sanderson, W. Storey, G. Derry and W. Atkinson, Mrs. G Derry presiding at the piano. The second part of the programme consisted of a drama entitled "The Irish Tutor," a popular farce written -Reeve, T. Porter; 1st Deputy, Wm.Cook; by the Right Honorable the Earl of Glengall. The principal character, Terry O'Rourke, (alias Dr. O'Toole) was taken by Mr. S. Agar, whose rich Irish brogue, exquisite humor, and admirable acting won for him much praise from all parts of the house. V. A. Sanderson as Mr. Tillwell, L. Bailey as Dr. Flail, E. Snider as Charles, Miss Bertha Wilson as Mary, and Miss Maggie Kellar as Rosa, completed the cast of character and sustained their parts with much credit. The audience dispersed in the best of spirits, feeling that the Fire Brigade had fully retrieved their reputation in the way of entertainments. Proceeds over $50.
