"A Walk Through Rome."

As will be seen by Posters, the Rev. Hugh Rose, of Elora, (late of Manchester, England) will deliver his celebrated lecture on the above subject, in the Presbyterian Church, on Friday evening, Feb. 13th. The Vatican of Rome, the Obelisks, Catacombs, &c., will be illustrated by Scioptron views. We have no doubt this lecture will prove both interesting and instructive, as the lecturer is spoken of in the highest terms of praise wherever he has taken the platform. Previous to the lecture, a tea will be given in the school room of the Church from 5 to 7:30. Lecture to commence at 8. Admission, 25 cents; Children, 15 cents. Proceeds to be devoted to the Sabbath School Fund. In relation to the Lecturer's popularity, we clip the following from the Guelph Mercury:—"On Thursday evening last the Rev. Hugh Rose, of Knox Church, Elora, delivered a lecture on the "Massacre of St. Bartholemew, its cause and results." The Rev. gentleman, who has had large experience on the lecture platform, and is a gentleman of high intellectual culture, kept the rapt attention of his audience for about an hour and three-quarters, and many wished that time had permitted him to go still further in his interesting resume of modern French History. It is hoped that at some future time he will resume his subject and give a fuller account of the French Revolution and Communism. The net receipts handed over to the Mechanics' Institute, amounted to about $17."

Village Council.

The Council met on Feb. 5th, 1885. The Reeve in the chair. Councillors present, Messrs. McConaghy, Powell, Redditt and Savage. The minutes of 19th of Jan. read and approved. The Clerk read a printed communication from the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, dated 20th of Jan., 1885. Mr. Redditt moved, seconded by Mr. McConaghy, that the council re-appoint Dr. W. J. Wilson, J. K. Falconbridge, Esq., and Mr. Henry Miller, with the Reeve and Village Clerk, to compose the Local Board of Health of the village for the current year, and that Dr. W. J. Wilson be the Medical Health Officer of the Board.—Carried. The following accounts were read and ordered to be paid: M. H. Keffler, printing and binding receipts, $9.00; A. J. Rupert, coal for Fire Department, $12.75. An account from the Methodist Church was read; when Mr. Redditt moved, seconded by Mr. Powell, that a committee composed of the mover, the Reeve and Mr. McConaghy, to wait upon the trustees of the Methodist Church in reference to the said account, and report to the Council.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Savage, seconded by Mr. Redditt, that the committee on streets, sidewalks and public park is hereby authorized to procure material necessary for drainage of the park, and lumber for the sidewalks.—Carried. Mr. Redditt moved, seconded by Mr. McConaghy, that the mover, the Reeve and Mr. Savage are hereby appointed a committee to procure sufficient gravel to repair Markham St.—Carried. The Council adjourned to meet on Monday, the 2nd March next, at 8 p.m. M. TREFY, Clerk.

JEFFERSON.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Since I last wrote, the weather has been so extremely cold that almost every person in the Burgh has been bitten by the frost, some having their noses, and others their cheeks frozen.

The main topic for conversation for some time has been about the Thornhill tragedy, the old advising the young to be aware of cards, and the key to destruction generally called whisky.

As our Burgh is located in a very healthy locality, and so well elevated by nature, that we catch all invigorating breezes that pass this way, it is seldom we have to complain of sickness, but last week Mr. T. Mortson's youngest son has been very low with congestion of the lungs, brought on by a severe cold, but he is slowly recovering.

The funeral of the late D. McGilvray took place on Wednesday, 4th inst., and his remains were followed to the grave by a large circle of his sorrowing relatives and acquaintances. Deceased was a general favorite in this locality, and many will regret to hear of his sudden demise.

Miss Jennie and Miss Sarah Gorman of this place, left last week for a visit among their friends in Whitby.

No one buys a "Pig in a Poke"—in other words purchases on mere guess-work—who buys for his or her relief Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. The fact is too well known to leave room for any peradventure that it is a sovereign curative for Indigestion, Costiveness, Impurities of the Blood, Kidney and Female troubles, and other infirmities.

Wedding Bells.

On Tuesday last, the marriage of Mr. Jno. Morgan and Miss Jessie Nicholls took place at the residence of the bride's mother in Richmond Hill. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Barker, at 3 p. m. Quite a large number of invited guests, principally relatives of the bride and groom, assembled to witness the happy event. Among the guests were the following: Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Piper, of Toronto; Messrs. Fletcher and Sam. Morgan, of L'Amaraux; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Robinson and son, of Peterboro'; Mr. and Mrs. John Bell, of L'Amaraux; Mr. and Mrs. D. Boyle, of Langstaff; Mrs. Nicholls, of Aurora; Miss Aggie Watson, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Savage, Mrs. Wm. Sheppard, Mrs. N. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Trench, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Marsh, and Miss Louie Wright, of Richmond Hill.

At the conclusion of the repast, which was the most sumptuous that could be prepared, many toasts were drunk and responded to in the most happy manner. "The Bride" was proposed by Mr. E. S. Piper, brother-in-law of the groom, and was responded to by the groom. Mr. W. Trench proposed the "Hostess," to which her son responded. "The Ladies" was next proposed and was responded to by Messrs. P. G. Savage, Fletcher Morgan, Sam. Morgan, Jno. Bell, and D. Boyle. The bride and groom were addressed by Rev. W. R. Barker and Mr. Robt. Marsh, who severally gave some kindly advice regarding the future.

The bride was dressed in rich Silver Grey Satin trimmed with Garnet Velvet and Spanish lace. The bridesmaid, Miss Emily Morgan, sister of the groom was dressed in an elegant brown Garnet Silk.

The presents were numerous and costly, and consisted of the following: A Gold Watch and Chain, by the groom; a large Family Bible, by the father and mother of the groom; a beautiful Silver Card Receiver, by the bride's maid; a Silver Breakfast Cruet, by the brother of the bride; a set of Solid Silver Tea Spoons, by the mother of the bride; a small Bible and an Address, from her Sabbath School Class, St. Mary's Church; Silver Tea Tray, Silver Cake Basket, a Revolving Fruit Dish on a Silver Stand, Silver Dinner Cruet, Silver Bouquet Holder, a small Silver Card Receiver mounted with Gold, Silver Tea Set, Silver Revolving Butter Cooler, two beautiful Toilet Sets, pair of Vases, a handsome Water Pitcher, Silver Butter Cooler, Handsome Cabinet Case, Lace Tidy, and a beautiful volume "Bible Lilies," besides other costly presents.

The bride and groom departed to Toronto and thence to the Southern States, where they purpose spending a few weeks, previous to taking up their residence at "Fairview Farm," Willowdale. The customary boots, shoes and rice followed the happy couple on their departure.

Miss Nicholls will be greatly missed in this place, as her courteous demeanor endeared her to all, and she was ever willing to aid in any undertaking for the benefit of the village. We extend to the happy couple our sincere wishes for their future happiness.

The people of this country have spoken. They declare by their patronage of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, that they believe it to be an article of genuine merit, adapted to the cure of rheumatism, as well as relieves the pains of fractures and dislocations, external injuries, corns, bunions, piles and other maladies.

Funeral of the late John Arnold.

The funeral of the late John R. Arnold took place from his home on Saturday, at 3 p. m. A large concourse of people assembled to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed, and to exhibit their sympathy for the bereaved family and almost heart broken mother.

His body was placed in a very handsome and costly coffin, having two beautiful crown wreaths of flowers upon the lid, one at the head and the other at the foot. The one at the foot enclosed a monogram bearing the following inscription: "No Cross—No Crown" The one at the head had a bar across the centre upon which rested the word, "Rest," of purple letters. A short service was conducted in the house by Rev. Mr. Bates. The following portions of Scripture were read: 39th Psalm, and 20th Chapter of Romans, beginning at the 12th verse. After prayer the proceedings were brought to a close by singing that beautiful and favorite hymn, "Nearer my God to Thee." It was a very solemn and impressive time as these words were being sung. The body was placed in the vault in Thornhill cemetery, prior to its being removed to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain.

Thornhill Tragedy.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Dr. Bull, Coroner in and for the County of York, held an inquest on the body of John R. Arnold, on Thursday, Feb. 5th, 1885, at Simon's hotel.

Mr. N. Murphy appeared for the prisoners, and High Constable Jones examined witnesses on behalf of the crown.

The following is the post mortem:—We, the undersigned qualified medical practitioners, residing and practising in Thornhill, have made a post mortem examination of the body of John R. Arnold and found as follows: On the face three bruises, one across the nose, one on the left cheek, and the other on the right side of face. A wound on the left side of the head, two inches above the ear, and slightly in front of the ear, very much contused. The direction of the wound was upwards and backwards towards the median line. At the median line, and one inch from the inner surface of the skull we found a lump of lead very irregular in shape, supposed to have been a bullet. A second and smaller piece of lead was found a short distance from the external wound, supposed to have separated from the former piece. We found the middle and anterior meningeal arteries severed at their bifurcation. We found the organs of the chest and abdomen in a healthy condition. We consider the wound found in the brain was the cause of death. There was great extravasation of blood throughout the whole brain.

George Langstaff, M. D.
David A. Nelles, M. D.

I may remark that the evidence given at the inquest was very similar to that contained in the columns of your paper of last week. All the witnesses examined before Magistrate Chapman were re-examined, but nothing new was elicited.

Mr. Seager, sworn: Testified to a couple of shots being fired after prisoner left Simon's and were going towards the 2nd Concession. He would not swear by whom the shots were fired. This goes to prove that there must have been more than one revolver, as the one in possession of Constable Webster has but one cartridge discharged. He also bore testimony to the dark lantern, fuse and other tools found, but could not swear positively that they belonged to the prisoners.

Dr. Nelles was sworn and questioned with regard to the wounds and bruises received by Arnold. He was also cross examined by Mr. Murphy, (acting in defence of the prisoners) but nothing was elicited to go towards showing that the deceased came by his death in any other way than from a pistol shot. The bruises were only slight and therefore could not result in any way in causing death.

Dr. Langstaff was also sworn, and said that he corroborated Dr. Nelles' evidence in every particular.

After the examination was concluded the room was cleared of the throng of people and the Coroner summed up the evidence given, and presented his charge to the jury. After deliberating about an hour and a half the jury returned the following verdict, which we think met with the hearty approval of the people:—That James Stewart, wilfully and feloniously and with malice aforethought, did kill and murder the said John R. Arnold, and that Wesley feloniously aided and abetted him in the crime.

The prisoners were then remanded to gaol to stand their trial at the Assizes.
