

Presentation.

We publish below the address presented to Dr. Grant, Woodbridge, previous to his departure from that place a few weeks ago.

To Donald J. Grant Esq., M. D.; C. M. DEAR DOCTOR.—It is with feelings of the deepest regard mingled with sorrow that we have met to bid you, Mrs. Grant, and family, adieu, ere you remove from our midst of regard on account of our estimation of you as a man, a neighbor, a physician, and a Christian; and of sorrow at the prospect of our losing your companionship and of your relinquishing your citizenship with us in this world of grief and ever varying vicissitudes.

For about ten years your home has been amongst us and your interests have been more or less intermingled with ours. We have been, while thus associated, gradually developing some of the traits of character which are peculiar to us individually, and we hope and trust that our having come into contact as neighbors, as friends and especially as Christians may have been for the benefit of all of us and may redound to the glory of our Lord and Master whose work you have been instrumental in advancing to a considerable extent in this locality. Through your untiring exertions, the erection of the church, in this place, of which you are a member is greatly due, for which those of us who are members of that church will ever feel grateful to you when you are gone, and for which those of us who belong to other churches think none the less of you, but in it, and in your unremitting attention as an official of the Bible Society have reason to admire your zeal for the work of the Master.

Those of us who have had occasion to employ you professionally take this opportunity of manifesting our appreciation of your ability as a physician and surgeon and those of us who are your professional brethren desire to express our confidence in your medical and surgical skill, and we all unite in rendering to Mrs. Grant our expressions of the respect we entertain for her, and sincerely wish you both and all the members of your family, health, happiness and prosperity wherever your lot may be cast and as a token of our feelings we now present you with this water pitcher for yourself, and this tray for Mrs. Grant, and which, we hope will be pleasant souvenirs of your sojourn with us.

Signed on behalf of the givers.

P. D. McLEAN, M. D. Chairman.

J. ORLANDO ORR, M. D. Secretary.

The Dr. replied in appropriate and feeling terms, but space will not permit its insertion.

SPRINGHILL.

From Our Owa Correspondent.

The Literary and Debating Club of Springhill is still in a progressive state. On Monday evening the Club met in due form, President Lloyd in the chair. Subject for debate:—"Resolved, that the rudiments of individual character are discernible in childhood." Chairman for debate, Wm. Fisher; Captain for affirmative, J. T. Saigeon; negative, O. C. Timan. After much light had been thrown on the subject by both sides of the house, the chairman gave decision in favor of the negative. The Club then adjourned to meet on Saturday evening, May 23rd.

Mr. J. Irwin is improving his lot by building a stable thereon.

The new Cheese Factory is to commence business on Monday, May 25th. Mr. Norman has erected a fine building, and no doubt many of the farmers will take advantage of it.

J. H. Ross is building R. Thompson a screw stump machine. Mr. Thompson will soon be able to draw stumps of any dimensions.

On Saturday, May 16th, G. Wilkinson and W. Tinlan, of Aurora, drove down to Springhill to pitch a few games of Quoits with J. W. Crossley and T. Butt. J. W. Crossley won two out of three games with G. Wilkinson; W. Tinlan was too much of a quoter for T. Butt. These parties intend to practice weekly, one week in Aurora and the next in Springhill.

Much distress and sickness in children is caused by worms. Mother Graves' Worm exterminator gives relief by removing the cause.

THE IMPROVED PORCELAIN CHURN !

We offer This Churn solely on its merits, knowing that wherever it goes it will make a clean record.

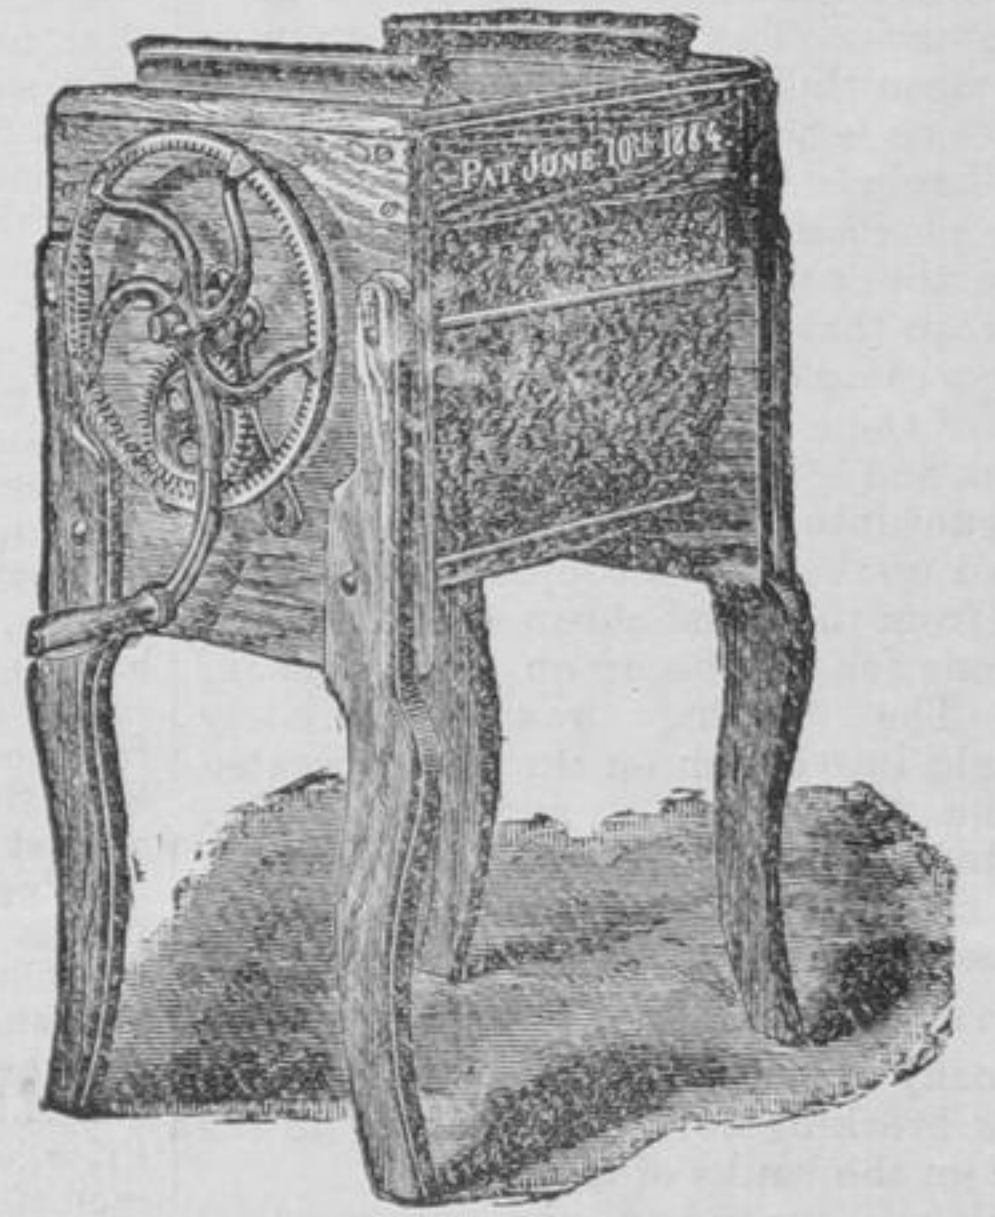

The following are a few of the many advantages conceded to the Porcelain Churn by all who have used it: Its great advantage over all others, being made of Agate Iron, which presents a surface the same as your porcelainware dishes, will not break or scale off, will not rust or corrode, is impervious to heat or cold, does not shrink, swell or leak, nor take in or absorb any of the acids of cream, and consequently is as easily kept clean as a china bowl; it is a great saver of labor and so light-tuning that a child can work it; the quality and quantity of butter made; the ease of removing the butter and cleaning the churn.

Buy a Porcelain Churn if you want the Best. Call and see them.
