"In Big Bear's Camp." We have been sent a copy of a little book which gives a thrilling account of the life and adventures of Theresa Gowalock and Theresa Delancy who were compelled to spend two months in Big Bear's camp during the late rebellion. No one can read this volume without a feeling of pain as he thinks of the cruel massacre of the husbands of those brave women, along with their companions. The sad story of those unfortunate women is plainly told, and the reader can form a good idea of the horrible traits of the deluded savages of the North-West.

Serious Accident. Dr. T. V. Law of Detroit, brother of Mr. I. E. Law, of this village, met with an accident on Friday evening, the 30th ult. Although serious it might have been much more so. On account of the unfavorable weather no doubt many were prevented from being present, still the number of entries was not far behind any former year, while the work done was of a very superior quality. A large number of spectators were present, though the rain came down in torrents towards the finish. Some were kept in good heart by Frank Huff's coffee (?) which had a very spirited effect on them. Tea was provided for the judges, directors, plowmen and many others, and reflected great credit on the hostess, Mrs. Bowes. The judges for the 1st and 2nd classes were P. Frank, Weston; T. Cucumbers and melons are forbidden fruit to many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping &c. These persons are not aware that they can indulge to their hearts content if they have on hand a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, a medicine that will give immediate relief, and is a sure cure for all summer complaints.

Pleasant as syrup; nothing equals it as a worm medicine; the name is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. The great-worm-destroyer of the age.
