Jackson, Reeve of Newmarket and Mr. J. Richardson Reeve of Scarborough. Mr. Lawrence acted for the village and Mr. Miller for the outsiders. The arbitrators reserved their decision until to-morrow (Friday) but, judging from the evidence given pro and con, we presume the Union will be maintained with a probable recommendation to allow two or three families in the outskirts of the sections to unite with other schools if they feel desirous of doing so.

Flowing Well.
 Nothing daunted by Mr. Trench's experience in sinking Artesian wells Messrs Newton Bros. of the Elgin Mills Tannery, engaged Mr. H. Miller and commenced boring towards the centre of the earth. East York Nomination.
 Nomination for Candidates for the Local Legislature was held in Markham village last Tuesday. The large Town Hall was well filled. Mr. Vanzant, the Returning Officer, received nominations between 12 and 1 o'clock. Mr. Richardson, seconded by Mr. John Lane, nominated Mr. G. B. Smith. Mr. E. Eckardt, seconded by Mr. Horsey, nominated Mr. H. P. Crosby. Mr. Lane, Mr. Richardson and Mr. Flint were also nominated, but after making excellent speeches in each case, retired in favor of Mr. Smith. The last named speaker, after laying down his platform, asked Mr. Crosby to state his views on certain points. Mr. Crosby, on coming forward, said that he had come out as a local candidate, unsolicited by any person or party. He became greatly confused when asked if he endorsed the platform of the so-called Independent Club of East York, as stated by them in the Markham Sun. He did not feel disposed to give an intelligible answer. Mr. Smith showed their address to be false and asked Mr. Horsey, their President, to come forward and defend what was written over his signature. But he declined in a cowardly manner amidst the jeers of the assembly. The best of order prevailed.
