A trip to Ottawa.

The Young Canadian Lacrosse Club went to Ottawa on the 24th of May, and crossed sticks with the Capitals of that city. After playing two hours and a half the home team were declared the winners of the match having taken three straight games. By all accounts our boys gave the eastern club a hard fight. The Ottawa correspondent to the Globe said they possessed an almost impregnable defence and that in scrimmages and quick team play they were superior to the Capitals. After visiting the Parliament buildings and other places of interest the Hill team started for home well satisfied with their trip.

East York.

The Board of License Commissioners for East York met at the Tremont House, Markham, on Thursday May 19th at 10 o'clock a. m. Present: Messrs. McCaffrey, Rennie, Brown, and also the Inspector, James Eckardt. Minutes of last meeting read, amended and approved. Wm. Perry was heard in regard to making some alterations about his Hotel, when the Board granted him License subject to the approval of the Inspector when the repairs are done. O. Hemmingway was given an extension of 3 months to get out of the business. R. H. Crew of Norway was refused License. Distribution papers No. 1 and 2 were then signed and the Board adjourned to meet at call of the chairman.

At the Methodist Church.

When the unfavorable state of the weather is taken into consideration the ladies and friends of the Methodist Church should feel well satisfied with the result of the day's proceedings on the Queen's Birth-day. Early in the forenoon they displayed a conspicuous motto "meals at all hours" across the street in front of the church, and extensive preparations were made for their usual dinner and tea. The excellent spread proved that the ladies of the congregation well maintained their reputation in the culinary department. Though the crowd was not nearly so great as in former years the tables were well patronized. As was to have been expected the concert in the evening drew a good house, and those who were present enjoyed a rich treat. The Melian quartette, of Detroit, appeared several times in each part of the programme and were heartily applauded after every selection. The performers all possess excellent voices which blend well together, and the pieces which they sang were of a high class of music. Miss Corlett gave several solos which were well received. The audience were so delighted with "The Miller and the Maid" that they gave her a hearty encore, to which she responded in a graceful manner. But the evening's performance would not have been complete had it not been for the part taken by Mr. J. Churehill Arledge, of Toronto, the celebrated solo flautist. His selections and the able manner in which they were executed are worthy of special mention. Without any apparent effort he brings the most melodious tones from his instrument, no matter how difficult the passage may be. Perhaps his music was enjoyed the more as the flute is seldom heard on a Richmond Hill platform, but outside of the rarity his execution was most brilliant, and his ability cannot fail to charm any audience. Mrs. H. M. Blight acted as accompanist during the evening and gave admirable satisfaction. The total receipts for the dinner, tea and concert will exceed $220, which, however, will be greatly lessened by the expense incurred.

Saturday's Match.

On Saturday last the championship series of lacrosse matches under the new association rules was opened by a contest here between the Young Canadians and the Ontarios of Toronto. The day was exceedingly fine, and the spectators present seemed to thoroughly enjoy the play which was exciting from beginning to end. As the regular suits of each club were the same color, the Ontarios, to ensure recognition of their men wore shirts striped with blue and white, whilst the Y. C.'s appeared as heretofore in their neat suits of gray. When the visitors took their places on the field it was seen that they were considerably heavier than their opponents. The position of the teams was as follows—Ontarios:—Goal, P. Small; point, D. Small; cover point, MacPherson; defence field, Watts, G. M. Rose, W. Simpson; centre, F. W. Rose; home field, R. Cheney, W. D. Woods, E. H. Gerry; outside home, E. McCormick; inside home, J. Patterson; captain D. A. Rose. Richmond Hill:—Goal, McConaghy; point, Mager; cover point, Cahill; defence field, Young, Wiley, Sliter; centre, Powell; home field, Piper, Searle, Pugsley; outside home, Palmer; inside home, Simpson; captain, Savage. The ball was faced at 5 mins. to 4, and after playing for about an hour and a half the match was won by the Ontarios, they having scored four games in succession. The home team held their opponents well but several of them who had taken very little practice this season weakened before the end of the match. Unfortunately for the honor of the national game a dispute arose while the match was in progress between two of the opposing players, who, after exchanging a few blows were ruled off the field for the rest of the day. The umpires were Messrs. Ryan and — of Toronto, and Mr. McCaffrey, of Toronto, acted as referee. After the match the usual cheers were given for each team, and the players and spectators left the field.

Anniversary Sermons.

Two able sermons were delivered in the Methodist church by the Rev. Peter Addison last sabbath, that day being the anniversary of the laying of the corner stone. In the morning he preached from the text, "Endeavoring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace," Ephesians 4th Chap., 3rd verse. In the evening the text was taken from Luke, 19th Chap., verse 10, "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." In the morning the Rev. gentleman showed the difference between unity and uniformity. He said there was room for all denominations and that he would not exterminate another sect differing from his own, if he had the power, because there was a grand unity in all the Christian churches—salvation by Christ—a great diversity of thought but one foundation and the ultimatum of their christianity was salvation by faith. In speaking of the fruits of the spirit he said that in all churches they were wonderfully alike yet it was possible to differ brotherly, that man's bearing toward his fellow would make this world a happy one if it was governed by love, for man's spirit and God's spirit would then be in unity. "God is love." The Subject in the evening was the "Lostness of man" and "the mission of Jesus to lost man." He said that man had lost his latitude and his longitude, that when a man was lost there was no destination, no progress, that man's sincerity was not sufficient for his salvation if it was on a wrong foundation, that human intellect must approximate to the divine that there was a time when God crossed the line and man talked with his Maker but man fell, he hid himself, there was no ready response to the voice of the Creator, the root of the difficulty was disobedience. When Christ came God and man met on a common plain; the words and deeds of Jesus had stirred the nation and it followed him in the crowd. Zachens & Jesus are distinguished each seeking the other. Conversion opens up to man a new world of thought and purpose; when God meets man he meets him with a flood of light and that light floods the soul. All this could be done by the power of God without asking, but man must ask to obtain. All have tried to better themselves, but a moral reformation without Christ is a failure. Christ's way is through the judgment and not through the feelings when every struggle a man makes is always upward. In his exhortation the Rev. gentleman hoped that if his hearers forgot the whole of the sermon they would not forget the Text.

At the Presbyterian Church.

Although the elements seemed to have conspired to render the day unfavorable for the gathering in our village of a large number of people to celebrate the birthday of her majesty the Queen yet as the hours for dinner and tea arrived many were seen wending their way towards the Presbyterian Church to participate in the good things provided by the ladies. No trumpet was required to attract the passer-by for those who have been present on previous occasions will willingly accord to the ladies the palm which is the just reward of their efforts. Home Rule has been secured by honorable principles. The Ladies took this early opportunity of thanking the public for their patronage and assure them that the confidence which is placed in them will be a stimulus on future occasions. According to announcement the usual Concert was held in the evening. It was feared at first that the inclemency of the weather would prevent many from being present and doubtless it did. However the doors had not long been open before it became evident that an agreeable surprise was in store for any in whose minds forebodings of failure had entered. Sometime before the concert commenced the building was comfortably filled and it may be safely said that few were present who were not fully satisfied with the talent which had been secured for that occasion. The most perfect order prevailed; not a single interruption occurred to mar the harmony of the proceedings. Rev. Mr. Cameron, in a few appropriate words, introduced the vocals to the audience. A hearty welcome was given them, and throughout the performance rounds of applause bore testimony to the influence of musical art on the feelings of people. The selections were of an appropriate character, and rendered in a manner which gave proof of natural ability and high culture on the part of the singers. Mrs. Martin-Murphy has a fine soprano voice; she sings without any effort what ever, and met with a hearty encore in her solo, "I will Extol Thee." Miss L. Kraft has a pleasing appearance, and won a warm place in the affections of the people of our village. Her solos, "The Children's Home," and "O Rest in the Lord," met with spontaneous and enthusiastic applause. The audience would be content only with her reappearance. Mr. Geo. Clark was given a rapturous reception, and should that talented singer ever again visit our village he will prove a drawing card. In his solo, "Far Away," as an encore, he excelled himself; a burst of applause was accorded his efforts. The duet, "Excelsior," by Messrs. Clark and Wodell, is particularly worthy of mention, the sweet, clear voice of the tenor blending in unison with the rich, full tones of the bass. They received a hearty encore. Mr. Harris, as an accompanist and solo pianist, proved himself an accomplished master of the piano. The piano used was secured from Mr. Lush and gave good satisfaction. The result of the day was generally satisfactory to the ladies of the church. Notwithstanding the heavy expense incurred in securing the services of the distinguished vocalists, about ninety dollars was cleared.
