Mendacious and Cowardly

is the trick by which the Canada Life Assurance Company endeavors to show its "surpassing advantages" in the following terms:—
"Percentage of total cash profits given by each company to the premiums paid to each, during the years 1870 to 1886, inclusive:—
Canada Life.....36.5 per cent.
Mutual Life of New York.....22.6 per cent.
New York Life.....18.9 per cent.
Ontario Mutual.....14.2 per cent."
The dabbler in comparisons has herein far surpassed himself. We challenge him to support his figures by Government returns. Even if correct, the comparison is the device of a trickster, intended to deceive and not to instruct.
Observe and note how it is done:—
The Canada Life began business in 1847 and in 1870 was in its 23rd year, having many of its 10, 15 and 20 payment life policies fully paid up and yielding annuities, while the profits or surplus on its older life policies were or should have been nearly or quite eighty per cent. of the premiums. This was a favorable point at which to begin a comparison with a company just writing its first policy. The intelligent public will not fail to appreciate herein the surpassing dishonesty of the company which makes so glaring an exhibition of itself!
Now, if the Canada Life will compare their percentage of surplus during their first seventeen years of business with ours DURING A LIKE PERIOD, or if they will compare results under similar policies during the years 1870 to 1886 inclusive, we will guarantee to make them tired of the comparison business. What have they to say? THE ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE.
