HARD TO PLEASE.

In 1886 when Mr. Mercier gained a victory at the polls the Conservative newspapers pointed out that Mr. Mowat and the Reform party were in league with the Quebec premier, as the latter had received congratulations from them on his success over his opponents. They said that the policy of the one was the complement of the other, and that Mowat was the sworn friend of Mercier. In fact any proposition brought forward by one premier would, they contended, be supported by the other.

The Empire a few days ago reiterates the same statements, but in the same article makes out that Mr. Mowat is now nothing better than a coward. And why is he said to be "cowardly and contemptible?" Because so far as can be learned "no telegram or congratulation to Mr. Mercier from the Premier of Ontario has yet been published." Four years ago Mr. Mowat was branded as a scoundrel as it was said he congratulated Mr. Mercier on his victory. Now he is sneered at as a coward because he has forwarded no congratulations.

The Empire seems to be in about the same mood as the man who resolved on thrashing his wife when he went home. Said he "if she has kept a fire on I'll thrash her. If she has let the fire go out, I'll thrash her. Blowed, if I don't thrash her anyhow."

EAST YORK CONSERVATIVES.

The somewhat stormy meeting of the East York Conservatives, held at Unionville on Wednesday of last week, shows that the breach in their ranks is not growing narrower. They have made many attempts to place a candidate in the field for the next election for the House of Commons, but so far have been unsuccessful. At a meeting held a few months ago Ald. E. A. Macdonald was nominated to contest the Riding. Since that time he has addressed the electors in different parts of the constituency on his own behalf, but when on Wednesday the chairman asked if the minutes of last meeting were correct they refused to confirm that part which gave Mr. Macdonald the nomination. It will be remembered that the meeting proper broke up in confusion, and that after the chairman had left his place, the meeting was re-organized, a new chairman appointed, and the self-assumed nomination took place.

What the end will be it is difficult to predict, but one thing is certain Mr. Macdonald is not a man to be daunted merely by a few raps on the knuckles. He worked and spoke for Mr. Gibson in the recent local contest, and feels that his chances for conservative standard-bearer are as good as any man's in the riding.

"SMALL POTATOES."

The York Herald last week contained the following:—"Small Potatoes.—We have been creditably informed that a printed circular was issued from the Head Quarters of Dr. Gilmour, just previous to the last local election, to which was attached the name of N. C. Wallace, the purpose of which circular was to induce the friends of that gentleman to vote for 'truth and righteousness' in the person of the doctor."

We are not in a position to contradict the statement but venture to say it is a pure fabrication. Such a transaction would be not only dishonorable but foolish on the part of Dr. Gilmour. He has proved himself to be an honorable opponent and we have yet to learn of him being mixed up in silly games of chance in connection with Mr. N. C. Wallace. We would not be surprised if the Herald is called upon to name its "creditable" authority, in which case it could scarcely refuse, if Dr. Gilmour denies the charge. Mr. Clendenan was defeated fairly, and no number of excuses can help him. If his so-called friends are discreet they will let bygones be by-gones.
