TORONTO, Aug. 28, 1890.

A LITTLE money brings A much in dress goods these days. We've made the low prices that'll continue until the counters are cleared. "Summer's going"—that's the watchword. And everything belonging to summer must march quick with it.

All wool plaids double width.
Plain beige " " " Fancy lustrés, " " "
And plain wool foules, with fancy border have been selling for three weeks past at the uniform price of 25c., and they are but an instance to set you thinking. There's a succession of bargain interests in every corner of the stocks.

Wall papers! We're not neglecting them even through these "dog days." Fine paper hanging and good paper hangers are at your service at any and all times.

It's the same old story—our facilities for buying wall paper in large quantities enable us to sell at about one-half the usual prices. After a while you'll fully realise the advantages of big storekeeping.

American gold papers.
Embossed gold papers.
Ingrain paper, plain, solid colors.
American Mikados (mica fini-h), with ceiling decorations to suit papers. Samples mailed free to out-of-town customers, who write intelligently as to what's wanted, describing rooms to be papered and effect desired.

We're not stinting the skill that goes into our baby carriages. The best part of our trade rests on that.

We handle no carriages that are only made to sell and wear out. Designs, upholstering and workmanship are the best we can lay hands on.
Mothers can rest assured of getting the most stylish baby coach for least money right here.

How much? $2 go to $22 50 with individual parts adjusted to your liking.

A postal card is enough to bring all the facilities of the store to your home, just as much as though we were located in your town.
Think of a clerk—educated to know fashion changes, merchandise, qualities, styles and colors—being at your beck and call whenever you wish.
That's shopping by mail. Samples of any kind of mailable merchandise can be had for the asking.
N. B.—In writing be careful to address your letters plainly—190 Yonge Street, or, if here in person, have a care that you get into the right store. 190 is the number, and T. Eaton & Co. the name.

T. EATON & CO.,
Yonge & Queen Sts. Toronto
The largest and best appointed Dry Goods House in the Dominion. 3 acres of selling space over 50 different departments.

August 28th, 1890.

If you take the elevator to third floor you'll find the carpet room to be in keeping with the rest of the store. Roomy, bright and filled with new goods. We've passed into stock already over a hundred bales of new carpets, mostly Tapestry, prices from 35 to 75c. a yard. Some decidedly new designs and colors amongst them. The Brussels have been replenished by a dozen bales of new things.

It'll pay you to walk down the elevator and to pass through the mantle department en route. Any few odd summer mantles or wraps that are left are offered at about half, because we're thinking of fall and winter goods now. Sixty cases of ladies' and children's coats take a lot off marking off and getting ready for you. We're more than half through the work, and we're ready to show you some of the handsomest coats and cloaks that were ever opened in Canada.

THE NEW MAMMOTH,

Canadian from 'Way Back.
HIS PEOPLE DON'T WANT ANNEXATION, BUT SIMPLY COMMERCIAL FREEDOM.

The growing Canadian city of Toronto has determined upon having improved street car facilities, and with that end in view has instructed the deputation to visit the United States and inspect the various systems, electric and otherwise, and report thereon. The three gentlemen of the party, Messrs. Frank Denton, Charles Sprout and Miles Vokes, are now at the Tremont House. Mr. Denton, who is one of the corporation council and a representative citizen, in speaking to a Post reporter of the visit, stated, by way of illustrating the virtues of his city, that no street cars are allowed to run on the Sabbath. But they are bound to have the best thing going on week days.

In regard to annexation, Mr. Denton said that not one person in fifty in the Province of Ontario (which ranks highest intellectually of any in the Dominion) favors the idea. The British connection doubtless had been strengthened by the firm stand of the home government in the Behring Sea matter, not, however, that the bonds of union needed any stiffening, for the Canadian people are always intensely loyal. Mr. Blaine's policy was regarded as dictated by political expediency, and as in the nature of a "bluff."

"Would Canada," asked the reporter, "if cast loose by the empire, ally herself to the United States?"

"No, not at all. The people are sensitive and independent, and would work out a destiny alone."

"If Canada had not had the moral aid, if needed, the physical support of Great Britain, and had been threatened with invasion and conquest by the United States, would she have submitted without a struggle?"

"No, we would have fought," quickly replied he from the land of the beaver.
"But would it not have been a hopeless struggle?"

"Well, I don't know about that. We are over 4,000,000 people."

"It is quite commonly believed in the United States that Canadians are aching to come into the Union."

"That is a wholesale misrepresentation.
What the people want is simply commercial freedom."—Boston Post.

Laskay
A runaway is just the rage in town Jno. Stephenson and Doc. Gordon, of this place, were up to Malcolm Mc-Callum's, of "Long Lane View," on an evening's visit last Saturday, and on their return they just nicely reached the cessation when the bolt dropped out of the shaft-eye and the shaft's dropping on the pony's heels, it took fright, and gave a few wicked jumps, drawing the democrawith one side of the shafts and whirling it from one side of the road to the other.
The gentlemen became a little frightened and wondered which side of the rig they would leap for escape, but the thought had no sooner come into their minds, when they both landed out in the ditch on their heads, hurting themselves but very little. The Doc. I believe came off the worst of the two, he getting his hand badly bruised and losing his hat in the bitgain, which he did not find till the next morning. The pony was captured at the Laskay post office, and went through its excitement without even a scratch.

H. E. Teasdale, accompanied by J. M.
O'Brien, went to the city last week to purchase a top for his buggy. The villagers are asking was it pink, white or blue.

John Sinclair, who has had an attack of his old complaint (pleurisy), is getting quite smart again.

Mr. John Muckle is spending his vacation at Mr. Cairns'.
Among the visitors this week are—
Mr. and Mrs. Ryan at the Mayor's; Robt.
Wiles at Mr. Gordon's; Mrs. J. Young at Mr. O'Brien's.

Miss Bella Sinclair is visiting friends in Toronto.
Mr. Ferrier and family are rusticing in Belwood.

John Ireland is spending this week at "Edgewood Home."
More rain, more rest, is the cry at present.

(Too late for last week.)

The Stephenson Bros. are busy conveying cedar to repair their mill-dam, which took refuge in the flood on the 5th of June, and hope that they will make a complete job of it. Malcolm McCallum, the magistrate of Strange, has been employed to oversee the structure. Keep your eyes open, Mac.

Mr. James Gordon, who has been lying ill for some time from a serious attack of cholera morbus, is getting quite smart again.

Mr. Fred Bryant, foreman of Samuel Carson's carriage works of this place, has changed his occupation and commenced dealing in pears and apples. We wish him success.

Rev. W. F. Ferrier and family are away visiting friends in Belwood, and during his absence last Sunday Rev. J.
W. Harvey occupied the pulpit and gave an excellent sermon. It being a fine and favorable night a large gathering assembled to hear him.

Among those visiting in town are:— Mr. Padget at Mr. Hamilton's; M. Patton at Mrs. Hollingshead's; Mrs. Cairns at Mr. Watson's; Mrs. Oldum at Mr.
Woods'.

What the people want to know:— Is W. A. Harvey a prof. of shorthand?
What Mr. Elder and Spurgeon were doing at Luc's Erin on Sunday?

Did Fred Bryant ever get left?

Where was Herbert the Great on Saturday night?

Did the Mayor of Strange deliver his proposed lecture in Dufferin Hall?

If this wet weather is going to continue?

It would appear from town talk that Mr. Dilworth, the Toronto Druggist, is the only man that can furnish a suitable and rapid cure for the La Grippe or Influenza. Don't fail to call and see him when visiting the city and be convinced.
