Two Cases.

Mr. B. Redditt, J. P., had an unpleasant duty to perform on Saturday. Two cases were heard by him. The first was laid by Miller against Brownlee, charging the latter with assault. The other was preferred by Brownlee, charging Miller with using abusive and profane language. In each case the magistrate made a fine of $2 and costs. The evidence of those who witnessed the occurrences went to show that Miller made an unprovoked attack on Brownlee, in Sanderson's drug store, and that Brownlee assaulted Miller by shoving him with his hand.

Little Annie Rooney everybody sings, but Little bit of money buys a sight of things, is sung only by those who make their purchases at the Concrete.

What the Commission Cost The Times The Parnellite business has cost the Times £180,000. That is the exact figure, everything included, and it has been paid by the shareholders of the paper foregoing their dividends for last year, and for the first six months of this year. The Walters, however are not losers to the extent commonly supposed, for John Walters stands towards the paper in a two-fold capacity. He is owner of sixteen shares out of sixty, and the dividend on each share for 1889 was £3,000. Therefore John Walters' loss, was for his system fore John Walters' loss was, on his sixteen shares, £48,000. But he is also printer of the Times; and this printing business is kept separate from the publishing. He supplies paper, ink, printing, &c., and the profits thereon belong exclusively to him. On these he lost nothing, for it was decided that the printer of the paper could not be called upon to bear any share in the general losses accruing to the publishing department. The whole of the £180,000 has now been paid off, and, as the circulation of the paper and its receipts for advertisements have increased it is reckoned that a dividend of £2,000 will be paid per share at the close of this year.— Coleraine (Ircland) Constitutional, October, 4,

Temperance Lectures.

As announced last week Mr. Greathead, late of England, who is working in conjunction with the managers of the Canada Citizen, gave two lectures in the Temperance Hall on Thursday and Friday evening. On the first evening there was a fair attendance, principally made up of the female portion of the village. Before entering upon his address proper Mr. Greathead gave a recitation entitled "The Beautiful Snow," and another later in the evening. They were well delivered but were scarcely appropriate considering he was lecturing under the auspices of a temperance organization. Mr. Greathead appears to be possessed of good ability and marked telents, but to be a success in this country he will have to become considerably more Canadianized. Few there are who will not admit that strong drink is a curse to a community, at the same time many helieve that more good can be accomplished by using temperate means than by strong by using temperate means than by strong and harsh language against those cagaged in the traffic. The chair was ably filled by Rev. J. C. Speer. He gave expression to some very practical thoughts on the temperance question and urged people to work for a prohibitory measure. Mr. Speer said that very fittle good could be done in temperance meetings if people were not prepared to make sacrifices for the good of humanity, when they met with strong opposition. He spoke highly of the Local Option law passed by the Ontario Legislature.

Where to Buy Rich Mantles.

We suppose that if any half-dozen wellposted lady shoppers were questioned as to which store in Toronto is the best place to buy such and such an article the answer of one such and such an article the answer of each individual would probably be the same, for each retail dry goods store is noted for some special line of goods, Messrs A. & Co. for hosiery, Messrs. B. & Co. for silks, Messrs. C. & Co. for gloves. So if those same people were asked the question, "Where is the best place in Toronto to buy mantles?" the answer of the state of the same people were asked the question. swer would probably be that there are three or four places where it is possible to see a large stock, but one of the most comprehensive and satisfactory of all is the large new mantle room of Thomas Thompson & Son, mantle room of Thomas Thompson & Son, of the New Mammoth, King street east. The firm have surpassed all previous efforts this fall and offer their many thousands of customers a stock of mantles and cloaks perhaps unequalled and certainly unsurpassed in Toronto. They do not confine their efforts to either low-priced or high-priced goods. Those in moderate circumstances as well as those who are wealthy can easily be well as those who are wealthy can easily be suited out of their immense stock. From the simple little tailor made jacket at $3 or $4 to the magnificent plush garment at $150 is a long step and they show all kinds of rich cloaks at the intermediate prices. Their first flat is a perfect forest of mautles, in all money can buy. The mantle show-room it-self, occupying nearly the whole of the second flat, which is reached by the elevator, is in many respects equal to the best rooms of the kind either in New York or Chicago, and anyone passing down through the long avenues of mantles will see goods which for elegance of style and finish are seldom seen in this city. Commencing at the south end of the room are displayed rack after rack of ladies' and children's plain and braided paletots, ulsters and dolemans, also threequarter jackets in plush and sealette, short and long coats in beaver, saxony and mat-alasse, and tweeds in an almost endless number of styles and in various qualities. Many American visitors sho have been through the department have been surprised that any Toronto firm should have ventured to import such a high quality of goods in such large quantities. No effort has been spared to give ladies of the Queen City an opportunity to see as fine and well made garments as can be made in Berlin, Paris or New York. A visit to this magnificent show-room will repay every lady in the City of Toronto, and Messrs. Thomas Thompson & Son put special stress upon the fact that whether lookers or buyers all are very welcome .- Toronto Globe of Saturday, Oct. 4.
