For the lacrosse match in the forenoon Will D. Atkinson was appointed captain for the married men, and Alf. Powell is to captain the bachelors.

Painful Accident.

Mr. Bert. Hopper happened with a painful and dangerous accident yesterday. He was loading pease in the field when the load upset and he was thrown on a pitch-fork. One prong went through the thickest part of his leg, entering on the inside and coming out on the opposite side. With some difficulty the prong was removed and a physician sent for. Fortunately the fork missed the bone and the main artery. The patient is doing well and no serious effects are feared.

An exchange gives this opinion on the province of the newspaper: Can a newspaper please everybody? It cannot. Ought everyone to be pleased? No. Why not? Well if a newspaper pleases everybody and everybody were pleased, the time spent here on earth would be so fearfully monotonous that the people would not care how soon the old globe on which we repose went to pieces. A newspaper must rattle dry bones, make everybody mad, be boycotted, kick up jack, tell the truth, expose falsehood, lay bare hypocrisy, fraud and the like, and trust to the rober second thought of all fair minded people.

An Invaluable Work.

Dr. May, superintendent of Mechanics' Institutes for Ontario, wrote for the Educational Department in April last as follows:— "The publishers of the new and revised Encyclopedia Britannica have conferred a public benefit by issuing a standard work at an extremely low price, equal to, and in many respects superior to, the voluminous, expensive English edition. The condensations contain the pith of the original articles and are really labor-saving appliances to readers, and the new subjects introduced, including about 4,000 biographies of living men, and articles relating to this country are invaluable. The general get-up of the book is quite equal to that of the expensive edition. It will fill a long-felt want in Mechanics' Institutes, which all require—an Encyclopedia at moderate cost. The price is so low that it is even within the reach of private individuals who use books of reference."

Civic Holiday.

To-morrow (Friday) having been proclaimed a Civic Holiday in Richmond Hill, the citizens propose celebrating the day by a good programme of sports in the Park. At 10 a. m. a lacrosse match will take place between the married and the single men of the village. At 11 a. m. the Fire Brigade will give an exhibition of work, and a good programme has been provided for the afternoon. Liberal prizes will be given for the following competitions:—Hook & Ladder Race, Hose Coupling, Foot Races, Sack Race, Boat Race, Animal Race, Dog Race, Bobbing the Bun, Tag of War, &c. A Grand Lacrosse Match will also take place in the afternoon between the Athletics, of Toronto (Champions of the Central District) and Richmond Hill. The Richmond Hill Band will furnish music during the day. Admission 15 cents; children under 12 years, 5 cents. There will be an entertainment in the Agricultural Hall in the evening. A good time may be expected.

Committed for Trial.

A rather serious affair took place at the Woodbridge toll-gate on Tuesday night of last week. The row that led to the shooting was the culmination of trouble that has been brewing for some time over the collection of tolls on the Vaughan gravel road. The road is the property of a company organized forty years ago, having a charter that will expire ten years hence. For some time efforts have been made to have the toll-gates abolished. At the last session of the Ontario Legislature an amendment was made to the General Road Company's Act whereby an inspector could order a road to be put in proper repair, and in the event of the managing committee failing to do so the right to collect tolls would be forfeited. Early in the spring Peter S. Gibson, the inspector under the Act, directed that the road should be repaired. Three months, the time allowed by law, elapsed, and as the work was not completed he ordered that the toll gates be taken down. The gate keepers still continued to collect toll in spite of the protests of the residents. Township solicitor, Lawrence, posted up copies of the notice that had been served on the gate keepers, but still travellers were obliged to pay. On Tuesday evening a desperate move was resolved on. About 50 or 60 men from the neighboring villages assembled at Kleinburg and resolved to demolish the offensive gates. They started along the Vaughan road toward Woodbridge—in wagons, on horseback and on foot. There are three gates on the road and the first was torn from its hinges and the posts pulled down without any opposition. The second shared the same fate, and a rope was hitched to the keeper's house as if to complete the work of demolition. It seemed to be merely an attempt to scare the inmates as no damage was done. The third gate, at the outskirts of the Village of Woodbridge, was the scene of the shooting affair. It was about 11 o'clock when Mrs. McIntosh, who is employed as keeper of the gate, was awakened by the approach of the crowd. She came out and demanded the toll, and a stormy altercation ensued, in which unparliamentary language was used on both sides. The door of the house, which stands partly on the road allowance, was kicked open, and Alex. McIntosh came to his wife's assistance. The gate was now off the hinges and the men were working laboriously at the heavy posts fastened strongly in the ground. McIntosh was roughly handled in the crowd, and he disappeared into the house, returning with a short-barrelled cavalry musket. In the skirmish that followed the gun was discharged and John Ireland fell in the road with a charge of shot in his thigh. Arthur Hollingshead seized the gun from McIntosh's hands and broke the stock on the post. The work of demolishing the gate was finished and the crowd dispersed, while Mr. Ireland's friends removed him to Dr. McLean's surgery for treatment. The entire charge had entered his thigh within a space about four inches in diameter. Only eight grains could be extracted out of the 52 that had entered the flesh. The patient was afterwards removed to his home at Kleinburg, where he is now under care of Dr. Robinson. County Constable Haslam took the case in hand, but had much difficulty in finding evidence. No one connected with the affair cared to divulge the fact. Friday morning he felt that he had obtained sufficient evidence for a preliminary hearing and arrested Alex. McIntosh on a warrant charging him with shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm. High Constable Jones had in the meantime made preparations for arresting him on a charge of attempted murder, but was arrested on the lesser charge first. A preliminary trial was held before County Magistrate Wallis, and after much conflicting evidence the magistrate found sufficient evidence to send the case for trial. Bail was afterwards accepted and the prisoner was released from custody.
