INVESTMENTS!

It would be well for the great body of small capitalists to be cautious about independent plans of investment. An established Corporation such as the Manufacturers Life, which is controlled by tried men of great financial experience, and whose every dollar is disposed of under their responsible supervision, is undoubtedly one of the safest depositories for the savings of most men. Opportunities come to this Company for the judicious use of money, for the loan of money, and for gilt-edge investments which the private capitalists would never hear of; and for these reasons, amongst hundreds of others, a life insurance policy is one of the wisest and best means of investing money that has ever been devised.
