J. L. Hughes has been appointed chairman of the elementary education department at the World's Fair, Chicago.
Harris Abram, a Polish Jew who attempted to defraud his creditors in New York was arrested here last week.
The electric street sweeper has been out quite often this winter owing to the heavy and frequent falls of snow.
Hunter and Crossley, the well-known evangelists are holding meetings in the Metropolitan church this week. Crowds were turned away on Sunday.
T. Eaton & Co. are making more alterations in their extensive stores on Yonge and King streets. The store was literally jammed last Friday.
The Toronto Fire Department comprises seven officers and 103 men. During the past year they have attended 503 fires.
At the Western District L. O. L. meeting last week, Ald. Bailey, Deputy-Master, on behalf of this District, presented J. Coulter, Past District Master, with a handsome silver tea service.
On Saturday, just as the prisoners were going to work after dinner, a fire broke out in the wooden-ware workshops of the Central Prison. The frame workshops and material were consumed. Loss estimated by the prison authorities, $55.00.
Miss McIntyre, whose mission work among the poor and outcast of the city has made her name well-known to many, is suffering from typhoid fever and has been unconscious for the past few days. Her case is considered critical.
Great crowds of people are viewing with interest the Chinese and Japanese junks and sampans on exhibition in the window of the C. P. R. ticket office, corner of Yonge and King streets. The Chinese junk is particularly interesting. It is a perfect model of the regular trading and war vessel of the Chinese merchant trader and his historic foe the pirate.

Langstaff

According to previous arrangement the debate between the Langstaff and Willowdale Literary Societies came off at the latter place in the fine new hall over the school room, on Monday evening, the 6th inst. Mr. H. E. Carr drove the bus for the Langstaff company, numbering about thirty five. They arriving on time found the hall all ready for the entertainment.
The proceedings opened with music and singing, Miss Gibson presiding at the piano. Then followed the debate upon the subject selected. "Resolved, that the Merchants of Toronto are more independent than the Farmers." After appointing Mr. D. James judge for the Langstaff Society and Dr. Bond for Willowdale, Mr. J. Hewitt, of Toronto, was chosen as referee. The Langstaff team under the leadership of Mr. Jas. Drury, took the affirmative.
The leader ably defined the meaning of the resolution and showed how the farmer, as he is working now, is dependent upon the merchant.
Mr. Boucock, the leader of the negative, then showed in a clever, straightforward speech, that he was not easily confused and held his position well.
Mr. W. Bates, in a comic, humorous address brought the house down again and again. His description of a fossilized farmer brought to the British Museum was one of the best.
Mr. John Morgan followed and made some good points for his side.
Mr. W. G. Richardson then showed that from an educational, social and combination standpoint the merchant had great advantages over the farmer.
Mr. Heaslip with well chosen words delivered in a clear, ringing tone brought forth plaudits from the audience.
Mr. R. Bates, in a cool yet effective way, brought forth argument after argument proving that the merchant of to-day had the desirable place in the world.
Mr. Jno. Breaky, being the last speaker on the negative, made the best use of his time. He showed how farmers and farmers' wives prospered a half century ago without the city merchant.
Mr. Drury then replied to the various statements and arguments brought forward, and was listened to attentively although the hour was late.

Then followed the remarks of the critic, Miss Wallace, who did her duty ably, fearlessly, and in good taste. The critic is the most useful position in a debating society. Willowdale is fortunate in having such a one.
The judges and referee then decided that the debate was very close but yet Langstaff gained the evening. After which the judges and speakers were served with refreshments and hot coffee by the ladies of Willowdale.
It is expected the Willowdale Society will shortly return the visit to Langstaff.
A beautiful light is very much to be appreciated and more so when you can get the Coal Oil that will do it at less cost than you pay for an inferior article. You can only get the Rock Spring Coal Oil at Dilworth's drug store, Toronto.

Carrville

Last Friday evening about forty of the neighbors and friends met at the residence of Mr. John Ness, Pine View farm, to spend an hour or two together before their removal to their new home in Markham. A very pleasant time was spent. The older part of the company was highly entertained by Mrs. Wm. Cook with many fine selections of music on the organ; also playing the accompaniments to several month-organ pieces. The younger part of the gathering took another room and there entertained themselves with several plays, and judging from noise and mirth they must have had a royal good time. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coombs arrived home the same evening from their wedding trip and received many congratulations. Then order was called when the following address was read by Mrs. Wm. Cook:
MR. AND MRS. NESS:

DEAR FRIENDS,—It was with much regret that we heard some time ago that you were about to leave our neighborhood, and we have met together to-night to give some expression of our regret at parting with you. During your stay with us you have won our esteem and love as neighbors and friends. You have been in every sense all that could be desired. We feel that in losing you and your family our little community is losing some of its best members. We hope that God's blessing may rest upon you in your new home and that success and prosperity may continue to be yours. Accept these presents as a token of our regards, as an expression of our good will and our desire that Carrville and the friends of Carrville may ever have a place in your memory.
Signed in behalf of the friends,
GEO. WOOD,
OSCAR APPELTON.

Then Geo. Wood presented Mrs. Ness with a beautiful cruet stand. Mrs. Arthur Coombs and Miss Ness being members of the Carrville choir were each presented with a writing case, and Mr. Arthur Coombs with a very nice time-piece. Then all went to the dining room and partook of refreshments, and the company departed, having had a good time. Glad to meet, sorry to part, hope to meet again.

If you want more light on the subject just call at Dilworth's drug store, 170 King Street, east, and get five gallons Rock Spring Oil and in all probability you will be able to read without specks.
