Headford.

The world woke up on Monday morning with a smiling countenance and called the tillers of the soil to immediate action. The response was unanimous, and with the assistance of our trades men many of our tarmers will finish this week.

The Dollar correspondence says that Yankee George was fortunate in securing Prof. James to train his horse Pat to saddle or sulky. We do not know how he goes under saddle, but we are satisfied that he is not thoroughly broken for the sulky, as last Friday night's experience clearly proves. And we would advise Yankee and his chum Tom to leave the Clevelands at home after night and take old Jack.

Rev. J. C. Speer and wife were visiting Mrs. Thomson on Tuesday last, and enjoyed an afternoon's fishing.

Miss Neil, of Jefferson, after spending a few days with friends here returned home on Mor.day accompanied by Miss Annie Comisky.

Miss Milne is visiting old friends in the south ward.

Our ex-sexton of the above ward was seen on Tuesday evening bearing a pail of eggs up the road, and after vain attempts to sell them finally disposed of them for a straw hat and a cigar.

Our merchant and wife spent Sunday with relatives at Edgely.
