HON. WILFRID LAURIER.

It is safe to say that no other man in public life in Canada to-day can create among the people the same amount of enthusiasm as the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. Last year when he made a tour through various parts of this province he was received wherever he went with demonstrations of loyalty and good will. And now that he is engaged in a similar work—that of enlightening the electors of this country on the questions of the day—his hearers are even more demonstrative than they were a year ago. Magnificent demonstrations were held in honor of the distinguished leader of the Dominion Opposition at Brampton and many other towns previous to his trip to Manitoba, and on Monday night he carried his immense audience by storm in the city of Winnipeg.

A stranger might ask, "Why is it that Mr. Laurier always meets with such receptions?" The reasons are not far to seek. In the first place he has a political and a private record which are unimpeachable. He has a commanding presence and is a brilliant orator, one to whom it is a pleasure to listen on any subject. And lastly he is the warm advocate of a policy the object of which is to secure the greatest amount of good for the greatest number. These are a few of the reasons why the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier is the admiration of all with whom he comes in contact.

IS READING NEGLECTED?

As far as can be ascertained from official reports, it seems that the proper teaching of reading is to a certain extent neglected in Public schools. The annual reports of the Inspectors for North and South York to the County Council both go to show that although the reading has decidedly improved during the past few years, much of it is far from being satisfactory. Inspector Fotheringham says that for the past twenty-three years he has constantly urged attention to the leading characteristics of expressive reading, but that much of it is "too rapid, monotonous, and lacking in true expression." We also have it from a presiding examiner that of all the candidates who presented themselves from one district at the recent entrance examinations to High schools, not one could be looked upon as having a good knowledge of reading. If pupils were occasionally plucked in their reading the same as in other subjects, there would be more interest shown in the teaching of this important art.

The World of yesterday in referring to the convention to be held by the Liberals of West York to nominate a candidate for the House of Commons, at Weston, on the 18th inst., says that "The weak-kneed brethren think of Hon. N. C. Wallace's majority of 800, and are in favor of a combination with Patrons and P. P. A." There need be little compromise between the Liberals and the Patrons, as they are working almost identically on the same lines, and as to a combination with the P. P. A's, that would be entirely out of the question. No man can be imbued with genuine Liberal principles and be a member of the secret organization referred to. True Liberals would rather remain "in the cold shades of opposition" for ever, than get into power by joining hands with an organization that binds itself by a solemn oath to proscribe its neighbors, if the latter happen to belong to a church with which the P. P. A's are at variance.

NO CANDIDATE FOR THE DOMINION ELECTION YET CHOSEN.

The adjourned convention of the Liberals of East York, called for the purpose of considering the selection of a candidate to contest the riding at the next Dominion election, and also to complete the organization for the work of revising the voters' list, was held on Saturday afternoon, at Boston's Hall, Main street, East Toronto. President W. Scott of the East York Reform Association occupied the chair, and there was a large and representative attendance of electors. Arrangements were made for the payment of a number of small accounts and a discussion took place on the advisability of choosing a candidate at the present time. Upon a vote being taken, it was decided that a candidate be not chosen at the present time, but that the committee appointed at the last meeting to conduct the revision of the voters' list proceed with the work with all activity. In due time a convention for the purpose of choosing a candidate will be held.

Ald. Frankland was not present at the previous meeting when his name was brought before the electors as a candidate and before the meeting on Saturday adjourned he spoke, briefly thanking those who had nominated him for the honor they had done him, and announcing that, while he did not, and would not, seek the nomination, he would, however, accept it if it were tendered. (Applause.) At the conclusion of the special business for which the meeting was called, the President said that he noticed Mr. J. D. Edgar, the popular member for West Ontario, in the audience, and he was sure the meeting would be pleased to hear a few words from him. (Applause.)

Mr. Edgar then took the platform and gave a good address. He said he was glad to hear from Mr. Leslie, Mr. Frankland and other gentlemen who had been asked to allow their names go before the convention for nomination, that they were prepared to work for the nominee of the party, whoever he might be. He then criticized the Dominion Government's policy, and spoke at some length on the trade question.
