Harvest Home.

The Harvest Home in connection with St. Paul's and St. Andrew's Presbyterian churches, held at the residence of Mr. John Gillis, Teston, on Thursday last, Aug. 30th, was quite a success: By evening a large crowd had gathered on the grounds. Entering the orchard through a pretty little arch of evergreen, it was seen to be nicely lighted with Chiuese lanterns and lamps. Here tea was served, and here, from a stage walled with evergreen, a choice programme was given. An address by Rev. Mr. Nicol, of Unionville, was interesting and full of good suggestions. Miss E. Wightman and Miss Annie M. Doran, of Toronto, sang very nicely. These ladies possess fine voices, and their singing shows careful practice. In the duets they sang their voices blended perfectly, the appreciation of the audience being shown by encore. Miss Doran also sang several solos very acceptably. Mr. Will S. Zeiller, as elecutionist of the evening, did admirably. He read "On the Rappahannock," a descriptive piece with musical accompaniment, splendidly. "The Maniac." another difficult selection, he gave very effectively. Great appreciation of a trombone solo by Mr. Geo. Carley was shown Miss Annie McNeil presided at the piano and deserved praise for the manner in which she rendered her instrumental music. As accompanist she also filled the position well. Vellore Band was present and played very well indeed.
