Rev. Mr. Speer praised the Fair.

Rev. J. C. Speer preached to a large congregation at the Broadway Tabernacle on Sunday evening on the subject of "The Great Exhibition." In a sermon of much eloquence and power the rev. gentleman claimed that by the traits of the people as exhibited in their popular amusements could be ascertained the condition of the public mind and the moral status of their being. He compared the exhibitions of to-day with the cruel spectacles that were afforded the populace in the Coliseum and circus of Ancient Rome, arguing that the character of the present popular spectacles showed that the world was growing better. He extolled the Toronto Exhibition, which was said by some to be one of the best on this continent. He described some of the features of the Fair.—Empire.

The Delineator.

The Delineator for October is called the Autumn Number and contains an unusually large number of articles on interesting subjects. In addition to the regular fashion matter there is a special article of much value to mothers called Fitting Out the Family for Autumn and Winter. There are also articles for the housekeeper on Seasonable Cookery, hints on serving peaches, apricots and plums, and the use of the house. Life and work at Mount Holyoke College are well treated by a recent graduate; the second paper in the Kindergarten Series opens up the study in an admirable way, and there is a practical contribution on Millinery as an employment for Women. The Relations between Mother and Daughter are concluded in this number, and in How to Live Wisely the subject of illness and what not to do is ably discussed. Instruction in Artistic Handicraft is given in Venetian Iron Work and the Uses of Crepe and Tissue Paper, and entertainment is provided in a Halloween German and a Chrysanthemum Party. Around the Tea-Table is as gossipy as usual, and there are papers on Knitting, Netting, Tatting, Lace-Making, Crocheting, etc., etc. The subscription price of the Delineator is One Dollar a year; single copies, Fifteen cents each. Address orders to The Delineator Publishing Co., of Toronto (Ltd.), 53 Richmond St. west, Toronto, Ont.
