The Liberal.

RICHMOND HILL, Thursday, Oct. 11, '94

PATRONS AND LIBERALS.

While the Agricultural classes are to be commended for the stand they have taken to protect their rights, their enthusiasm should not carry them into error, into expecting too much. They should not expect that for the past sixteen years the Liberals have fought their battles, and that if they have not received redress against the injustices Tory government has inflicted upon them, it is because they have conspired with the Tories, in keeping the Liberal party out of power, and thus made it impossible for them to give effect to the reforms they have promised. That it is most desirable to have a large representation of the farmers' interests in parliament has been made clearly apparent, but let the farmers co-operate with the Liberals in attaining the desired end. Their platforms are almost identical, and if a little judgment is exercised the coming campaign may be conducted without any conflict between the interests of the farmers and others of the Liberal party, who enter more broadly into a general policy whose object will be to develop our other natural resources while at the same time protecting and developing the interests of our agricultural classes. There are constituencies where the most effective work can be done by the Liberals uniting with the Patrons to secure election of a straight Patron candidate. On the other hand there are constituencies where the combination should be the other way, for the election of a Liberal candidate means the election of a representative pledged to make the farmers' interests his first consideration. Any other course on the part of the Patrons means inevitable defeat of the very object they have in view by splitting up the two parties who are fighting the farmers' battles and thus insuring the election of the Tory candidate. Do not permit the ambition of any Patron to secure a seat in Parliament to lead him to commit this blunder and thus sacrifice the class of our community whose interests it should be his first object to protect. The Liberal candidate is the farmer's candidate every time.

MR. MEREDITH'S APPOINTMENT

There was not much surprise manifested on Thursday last when it was learned that Mr. W. R. Meredith, the leader of the Ontario opposition, had been offered and had accepted the Chief Justiceship of the Ontario Court of Common Pleas. His retirement from politics had been spoken of for years, and now that he has decided to cease fighting for his party, his many friends are pleased that he has been appointed to a judgeship, which position he is so eminently qualified to fill. Mr. Meredith is recognized as a gentleman of superior ability, although his course in politics has not been a happy one. Years ago when the boundaries of Ontario were in dispute he sided with the Dominion Government, for which the province never fully forgave him. And during several political campaigns past it cannot be denied he raised the sectarian cry, and thereby estranged many of his former followers. The new Chief Justice has always been popular with his party, has done a great deal of useful work in the House, and it does almost seem a pity that after his many years of labor he retires from the field without having reached the height of his ambition, that of being Premier of the most important Province of this Dominion. All who know Mr. Meredith will concur in the wish that he may long be spared to grace the position to which he has been recently appointed.

Willowdale

The English Church Harvest Thanksgiving Service on Sunday afternoon last was well attended. The hall was suitably decorated. The curate, Rev. Mr. Powell officiated, and the offerings were liberal.

Miss Kate Wallace, graduate of the Conservatory School of Elocution, gave her first public concert in the hall last evening. The audience was large, showing the universal esteem in which Miss Wallace is held, and all were highly pleased with the entertainment. Miss Wallace was assisted by Mr. H. Sheppard Musson, Miss Irwin and Miss Gibson.

Since the Milton Grove nuptials of last week when Miss Carruthers and Mr. Calvert were "joined together," the wonder wanders around as to who the next will be.

The third page of the Toronto Daily Mail is noted for "Want" advertisements. If you want a situation, a mechanic, a business, machinery, lodging, if you have lost or found anything, or if you want to find out where anyone is, advertise in the Toronto Daily Mail, and read the advertisements on the third page of that paper. The charge is two cents a word each insertion, or ten cents a word for six insertions. Address The Mail, Toronto, Canada.

"The Puritans."

Many changes and improvements mark the life of that little toilet necessary, yelet Pin. From the heavy pin of early days made of iron wire, badly pointed, with its clumsy ill-shapen head, and depending for its strength solely on its weight, until the introduction of the Puritan Pin, the change might be called an evolution, so steady and gradual was it, but the Puritan being so immeasurably superior to any pin previously manufactured, formed the first noticeable gap, having, so to speak, distanced all competitors. Being made of the hardest brass wire, tempered to give it stiffness with strength, pointed in oil, which gives it penetrating powers heretofore possessed only by steel needles, the Puritan Pin wins its way wherever offered for sale. In the United States, where it is best known, it controls the pin trade, and though just introduced into Canada within the past six months, its success has been phenomenal, and no retailer who studies his customers' interests now thinks his stock complete without Puritan Pins.
