In the Globe of Wednesday last is a three column article giving an account of the Chautauqua course. The writer states that "During the season the school of elocution enrolled 250 students. Quite a number of these were teachers of the art, who had an opportunity of learning from the school of expression here." Of the 250 students, Miss Butcher, of Aurora, who is to read at the Firemen's Concert here on New Year's Night is the only one whose name is mentioned.

Popular Games, such as Parcheesi, Bean Bag, Reversi, Game of India, Dominoes, Checkers, Zouba, Nations, Canadian Events, &c., for sale at THE LIBERAL Store.

Fruit growers and gardeners should all have the Canadian Horticulturist, the leading journal of its kind in Canada. Each monthly number contains a beautiful colored plate of some fruit or flower, and the latest information about planting, pruning, budding, grafting, spraying, marketing, etc. It is edited by a practical fruit grower. Questions answered in it free of charge; and frauds exposed. Samples will be sent free on application to L. Wolverson, Grimsby, Ont., the secretary of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association.

The Firemen's Night.
 Don't miss the Firemen's Supper and Entertainment in the Masonic Hall on New Year's Night. The programme will commence with a torchlight procession, which will leave the fire hall at 5:30 p. m., with a grand display of fire works. A good supper will be served in the Masonic Hall after 5 o'clock. Entertainment to commence at 8. Among the performers will be Miss Estella Butcher, elocutionist, Aurora; Miss Mary Trench, soprano; Mr. A. S. Savage, baritone; Messrs. E. Mason, P. Powell, A. Shierk and others. Admission to supper and entertainment, 25 cts.; children, 15 cts.

Sherwood.
 Christmas evening passed by pleasantly at the Lutheran church. The programme, which consisted of recitations, dialogues, choruses, &c., by the Sabbath school and others, was well carried out. Miss Ethel Shaver, an elocutionist, was well received, and the rendering of "The Maple Leaf," by one of the small boys of the school, is worthy of special mention. Next Sabbath the members of the Y. P. C. E. will conduct the services in the absence of the pastor.

Of old all roads led to Rome; but now all roads in the townships of Markham and Vaughan lead to Atkinson & Switzer's.

No Deception.
 Fine stock of Ladies' Skating Bals, Ladies' and Gents' Fine Footwear just arrived at the old stand. Women's Strong Boots from 90 cts. up; Men's Boots from $1.00 up, no deception in these, all solid leather. No paper goods. Call and see them; no trouble to show goods. For square dealing go to the old stand, Robert Sivers. 21-3

We are inclined to the opinion that Groceries are somewhere near the economy base and that the assortment is somewhere near the complete line at Atkinson & Switzer's; an opinion which is shared by all.

Our Special Offer.
 By special arrangements with the publishers we are enabled to offer for $1.35 THE LIBERAL and either the Weekly Mail or the Weekly Globe, from now until January 1st, 1895. This offer applies to old and new subscribers of THE LIBERAL, and should be taken advantage of by all who do not receive a daily paper. Call and leave your order, or send $1.35 by mail. Those desiring the three papers may have them for $1.75.

Wedding Bells.
 A quiet and pretty event took place at "Maple Leaf Farm," Elgin Mills, on Christmas Eve, when Miss Julia H., eldest daughter of the late James Kerwill, and Mr. William Brackin, of the same place, were united in marriage by the Rev. Horace Mussen, of Aurora. After the ceremony the guests were invited to partake of a sumptuous supper. The presents were numerous.

Music by the Victoria Square choir, assisted by Miss Mary Trench and Mr. Will D. Atkinson, of Richmond Hill. On Tuesday, Jan. 1st, a sumptuous dinner, consisting of roast fowl &c. will be served from 4 to 7. After dinner, addresses will be delivered by Rev. R. Large, Rev. J. Vickery, Rev. W. Dean and others. Music by the Unionville Methodist choir. See bills.

Fractured His Shoulder.
 Their many friends learn with regret that Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Savage happened with a serious accident while driving home from the city on Friday evening after dark. When within a mile of home, the night being dark, Mr. Savage's cart collided with another rig going south, when most of the occupants were thrown out. Mrs. Savage escaped with a few bruises about the face, but Mr. Savage had his shoulder fractured. The horse ran away, and the painful part of the affair was that our esteemed citizen was forced to walk all the way home. He suffered greatly for a time, but afterwards he was chloroformed and the shoulder set. We are glad to know he is doing as well as can be expected. All will hope that his recovery may be speedy.

The Christmas Ship.
 The annual entertainment of the Methodist Sabbath School on Christmas evening, held in the school room of the church, was one of the most successful in the history of the organization. The occasion is always looked forward to by the children with a great deal of interest, and judging from the large attendance on Tuesday night, the event is becoming one of more than local importance. The only disagreeable part of the affair was that many were forced to stand during the entire performance, so crowded was the room. In former years there have been erected Christmas trees, arches, bells, &c., on which were hung the presents for the children, teachers and others, but this year the great attraction was a Christmas ship, heavily laden with choice gifts for both old and young. Mr. W. A. Sanderson acted the part of Santa Claus, and great was the excitement of the little ones when he made his appearance and seated himself in the stern of the boat. After opening prayer by Rev. Mr. Vickery the following programme was well rendered: Words of Welcome, by Mr. Harrison, superintendent; address to the school, by Rev. Mr. Vickery; recitations by Norman Barker, Laura Duncan, Elsie Palmer, 12 little girls; reading by Mrs. Wiley, teacher of the infant class; motion song by 14 little boys, dressed in sailor suits; duet by Messrs. J. H. Sanderson and A. S. Savage, with guitar and banjo accompaniment by Messrs. Will D. Atkinson and H. Sanderson. The musical selections by the orchestra added much to the programme. Messrs. Will D. Atkinson and J. H. Sanderson acted as musical directors, and Miss Wiley officiated as organist. The success of the event must have been most gratifying to the officers and teachers of the school, and especially to Mr. J. H. Sanderson, who constructed and launched the ship after nearly two weeks of hard labor. She had masts, sails, rigging, and everything complete, and was certainly a credit to the builder. When the presents were distributed each school scholar was treated to a bag of candy, after which they went home to dream of Santa Claus, and the Christmas season.

Man and his Shoes

Why is a man so like his shoes?
 Because for instance both their soles may lose.
 Both have been tanned, both been made tight
 By Cobblers; both get right and left;
 Both need a mate to be complete,
 And both are made to go on feet;
 They both need healing, oft are sold,
 And both in time will turn to mould;
 With shoes the last is first;
 With man the last shall be the first;
 When shoes wear out they're mended new,
 When men wear out they're men dead too;
 Both have their ties and both incline
 When polished in this world to shine;
 And both get out—now would you choose
 To be a man or be his shoes?
