Old Neighbors Meet.

On Thursday, June 4th, a somewhat remarkable gathering took place at Carrville at the residence of Mr. Aaron Prentice. The gathering was remarkable both on account of the age of the parties, and also the length of time since they last had all met together. The following persons were present: Mrs. Samuel Sailer, of Edgely, in her 92nd year; Mr. John Baker and wife, of Nottawasaga, the former 83 years of age, and the latter 79; Mr. Aaron Prentice and wife, the former 69, and the latter 70; Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Baker, of Concord, each 65 years of age. These friends at one time had been close neighbors, but as the tide of time rolled on they became separated, and it was forty years since the last time they had all met together. At present, notwithstanding their old age, they are all hale, hearty and active.

H. L. Hastings' Lectures.

H. L. Hastings, the prominent author, lecturer and publisher, of Boston, whose writings we have commended in our columns, recently returned home from an extended lecture tour through various states, where he delivered his anti-infidel address, refuting infidelity and confirming Christians in the faith. Mr. Hastings' work is especially important, because there are few lecturers against infidelity who seem able to secure the attention of the common people. Mr. Hastings lectured in several places where Col. Ingersoll had large audiences, and from the impression made by the eminent defender of the Bible, it is to be hoped that his work will undo a great deal of the harm done by Ingersoll's addresses. If Mr. Hastings ever comes within reasonable distance of Richmond Hill our citizens would do well to secure him for a course, of anti-infidel addresses.

Canadian Magazine.

The June number of The Canadian Magazine is as bright and clever and as national in its spirit as the reputation which, under the editorship of Mr. John A. Cooper, it has acquired during the past year. Its contents are varied and seasonable, and the number is altogether excellently balanced. Three travel sketches, the scenes being laid in Europe, are contributed by Kate Westlake Yeigh, Constance Rudyerd Boulton and Harriet Ford, A. R. C. A. Mr. J. M. McEvoy, who is a well-informed municipalist, writes about "The New County Councils." A controversial article is a reply to Sir Charles Tupper by Mr. A. H. Loring, Hon. Secretary of the Imperial Federation Defence League, London, England. Mr. A. O. Howland, M. P., seeks to draw attention to the Canadian Historical Exhibition of 1897. Mary Temple Bayard (Meg) furnishes an interesting personal sketch of Dr. Oronhyatekha. The fiction is supplied by stories by Helen E. F. Potts, Valance Berryman, and Wyndom Browne. There is the usual flavor of poetry. The regular departments of the editor and Eds. S. Atkinson sustain their interest and deal with divers topics of current notability.

Lacrosse.

The local team will play its second championship game of lacrosse in the park here next Saturday, when it will face with Toronto Junction. Though the Junction club have been long in existence and has won the fairest reputation at Canada's national game, yet no one need fear of being ashamed of the showing the village team will make. Notwithstanding the fact that the club has been recently organized and composed of young players, the boys are energetic and enthusiastic lacrossists. So far this season the club has been favored by the best of management and fortune except in one particular, i. e. that of finances, and it is needless to say that the success which has attended the club so closely will surely be lacking unless it is placed upon a better financial basis, so let every villager be present at next Saturday's match. Admission only 15 cents; Ladies 10 cents. Ball faced 3.30 p. m. The Band will furnish music.

Excursion to Niagara Falls.

The annual excursion of the Warden of York County was taken to Niagara Falls on Tuesday of this week. About 130 people consisting of county councillors and their wives, county officials and a number of friends left the Yonge street at 7 a. m. by that beautiful steamer "Chippewa," and spent a delightful day. After crossing the lake to Queenston the remainder of the trip was made by the electric railway on the Canadian side of the river. Almost any trip grows monotonous when taken several times, but the excursion to the Falls is an exception to the general rule. Winding around the hillside to the foot of Brock's monument is a feast for the eyes, in fact the scenery along the whole line is magnificent. Arriving at the Falls the company broke up into little parties, each selecting the favorite places of resort. The excursionists left the Falls at about 4.15, finally arriving in Toronto shortly after 8 o'clock. Before landing in the evening Reeve Ramsden was called to the chair, when a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Reeve Evans, seconded by ex-Reeve Saunders, was unanimously tendered to Warden Slater for the entertainment provided during the day. All the speakers referred to the wise and just decisions always given by Mr. Slater in his official capacity, and said that the day spent together at this last excursion was one of the happiest of their lives. Warden Slater replied in appropriate words expressing his pleasure at the kind words of the speakers, and saying that he was pleased that his efforts in giving the excursionists a pleasant time were successful. Before separating Mr. Slater received warm expressions of thanks from many of his friends.
