Monthly fire practice and brigade meeting next Monday night.

Crown Fruit Jars in pint, quart and half gallon sizes at lowest figures. Atkinson & Switzer.

In THE LIBERAL'S report of the recent Entrance Examinations to the High School, Miss Anna Hislop, one of the successful candidates, was credited to the Maple School. It should have been Headford.

At the last meeting of the Board of Education the contract for the brick and mason work for the new High School was given to Mr. John Kelly. The contracts for the different trades were signed on Tuesday.

Malwa, Atkinson & Switzer's special package, is pure Ceylon Tea. There is no better tea than the red package to be desired.

Mr. George Clark of Concord, drove into the village on Saturday evening with his well-groomed team—a grey and a black. He returned the same evening taking with him a new double-seated canopy top buggy from Trench's carriage works.

As there will be Quarterly Services at Victoria Square next Sunday, there will be no service in the Methodist church here next Sunday morning.

Machine Oil.—We handle the best Machine Oil. Get our prices for large or small quantities. Naughton Bros., Elgin Mills.

An exchange says:—"The editor has to thank Mr. B. for a lovely basket of cherries," and incidentally remarks "Mr. B. is one of our most respected citizens."

Commencing this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and every Thursday at 4 and 7 p. m. the Metropolitan Railway will run excursion cars to the city. Round trip tickets will be 25 cents. The last car for the return will leave the C. P. R. Crossing at 10 p. m.

24 lbs. Granulated Sugar for $1; 15 lbs. best pure Lard for $1; 50 lbs. best Rolled Oats for $1; 20 yards White Cotton, 37 inches wide, for $1; 25 lbs. best Pearl Tapioca for $1. Atkinson & Switzer.

They are made of mud! Yes, that is what all earthenware and china dishes are made of: a peculiar and sometimes a special mud, but after all the whole range of crockery is nothing more than mud mined, moulded and manipulated until it comes out of the factory in the shape of household utensils. Our line of baked mud wrought into all kind of pleasing and serviceable shapes is as complete and cheap as can be found. Atkinson & Switzer.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

A Sunday School Memorial Service will be held next Sabbath at 2.30 in the school room of the Methodist Church. The service will consist of short addresses by the teachers and others on the loss the school has recently sustained in the death of two of its young members, Beatrice and Geraldine Harris. Appropriate hymns and music will be sung.

NEW BAND STAND.

A new band stand on the corner of Yonge street and Lorne avenue, close to the Metropolitan Waiting Room, is the latest acquisition to our village. It is octagonal and when finished will present a neat appearance. It was occupied for the first time on Saturday evening, and it was remarked by many that our musicians never played to better advantage. That part of the village was crowded until about 10 o'clock, when the excursion car, well laden with passengers, started for the city and the band played "God Save the Queen." The band purpose occupying the same quarters every Saturday evening during the summer months.

THE NEW FOUNDRY.

A few days ago a representative of THE LIBERAL paid a visit to the foundry and repair shop, now under the management of White Bros. & Co., and found the workmen all busy. They are doing an extensive business in the line of repairing all kinds of machinery, and their work appears to be giving good satisfaction. This firm is making a specialty of the Johnston Plow which appears to be a favorite among the farmers. There are many features about this make not found on ordinary plows. It has a steady motion when being worked, from the fact that the draft rod is attached to the head of the plow. There is a plow guard which guards against obstruction between the point of the coulter and the point of the share, and the draft is made lighter by an underscore which scores the bottom portion of the furrow. The firm has a number of these plows on hand, and farmers needing anything in that line would do well to pay this shop a visit before purchasing elsewhere.

THE YORK-PEEL BRIDGE.

A special joint committee of the Commissioners of York and Peel Counties met at the Court House on Monday morning to make definite arrangements for a new bridge over Mimico Creek. Those present were Warden Davidson, Councillors Chester, Woodcock, Evans, and Engineer Macdougall, of York County, and Warden Graydon, Councillors Burton, Norval and Sir Melville Parker of Peel County. Tenders were opened and the contract for the superstructure was awarded to Mr. J. H. Hamlyn, of Toronto, for $347,50. Several accounts were passed and other routine business transacted before the meeting adjourned.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The following are the resolutions passed at the last meeting of the Board on the 22nd inst.:

McConaghy—McDonald.—that we rescind the part of motion accepting tender of Mr. Browning, Aurora, for brickwork and stonework for $635, at the last meeting of the Board.—Carried.

Hutchison—McDonald.—that we accept the tender of John Kelly for $865 for brick and stonework, he to use all the old brick.—Carried.

Hutchison—McConaghy.—that Mr. Browning be notified that the tender security and references are rejected by this Board.—Carried.

Hutchison—Newton.—that the former motion that we meet at 7 p. m. be rescinded, and that it be left at the call of the chair.—Carried.

J. A. E. SWITZER, Sec'y.

LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

The Ladies' Home Journal for August, largely devoted to fiction, presents a number of short stories by the best known writers, that will pleasantly employ the leisure of midsummer days. Of special interest among these are the opening chapters of Hamlin Garland's latest serial "The Spirit of Sweetwater," a romance with the rugged wilds of Western mining country as its picturesque background, and "The Two Mrs. Chesters," by Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, one of the best stories that has come from the pen of that most popular author. Arthur Willis Colton contributes a pathetic sketch, "The Flowers on Tim Rae's Grave," and Annie Steger Winston narrates a rustic courtship in "The Jilting of Mary Ellen." Ellinor Dale Runcie, in "Sergeant Matty" gives on view of the heroism of a Salvation Army girl and her steadfast devotion to the cause in which she labors, and Grace Stuart Reid tells the story of "Her Mysterious Disappearance." Another story of powerful interest is Sarah Parr's "Before the Morning Watch," a Quaker romance laid in the stirring Revolutionary times.

A MIDSUMMER NUMBER.

A very pretty cover envelops the Midsummer number of The Canadian Magazine. The contents are quite attractive and include stories by Mrs. Ella S. Atkinson (Madge Merton), Estor Talbot Kingsmill, H. J. O'Higgins, Percie W. Hart, and G. M. Fairchild. "The Royal Canadian Academy," by James Smith, is historical in character, and is profusely illustrated from special photographs of the Academicians and their work, including reproductions of paintings by Reid, O'Brien, and Harris. David Christie Murray writes of Mrs. Humphrey Ward and Clark Russell. Lawrence J. Burpee gives some interesting facts about Balzac, while Joon A. Cooper compares recent social writings of Bellamy and Howells. Fergus Hume's new story, "Hagar of the Pawnshop," is commenced in this issue and promises to be a masterly piece of work. A new and commendable feature is a department of "National Sport," which will be of much interest to those who take an interest in athletics or amusements of any kind. The only really heavy article in the issue is that on "Measure Mending," in which a new system of weights and measures is proposed. The whole number is certainly magnificent, the contents being purely Canadian, yet varied enough to meet all tastes.
