OBITUARY.

On Sunday morning, October 2nd, at his residence, on lot 34, concession 6, township of Vaughan, John Ireland, Esq., one of the oldest and most respected residents of that section of the country, passed quietly away. Deceased was born in Scotland and was in his 82nd year. Coming first to Canada he settled at Kingston, where he carried on the business of building and contracting for several years. He afterwards fixed his residence in Toronto and for some years pursued his calling at various points between Toronto and Bradford. Thereafter, giving up his business, he settled on a farm in Markham, and finally moved, many years ago, to the farm on which he died. He was a man of sterling character, honored and respected wherever known, a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church, and an active and zealous Liberal. He leaves a family of sons and daughters who have married and settled in the neighborhood of his late home.

MILLINERY OPENING.

An admirer of the beautiful will certainly enjoy a feast if he pays a visit to the Millinery department of The Concrete. The Millinery Openings took place on Thursday and Friday and were a marked success. We had occasion to refer to the spring as being good but we candidly declare this season's to be away ahead of anything we have seen here. The first attraction is the decoration. The blending of shades and the interweaving of gaudy ribbons gives the showroom a New York or even Parisian appearance. All the hats are very attractively arranged. The most fastidious lady can find much to please her. There are on exhibition bonnets, toques, sailors and every other fashionable hat. The colors which are most prominent are blue, red, purple, black white and green in all shades. One hat which was particularly pretty was a toque with a soft rim of black velvet. It had a tam' crown made of polka dot velvet in black and white. The trimming was near the front and consisted of sprangled wings in black and white and satin ribbon of the same shades. The chief trimmings this season are rosettes of chiffon, tips, ospreys, wings, sequent ornaments, large fancy pins, mounts, velvet ribbons and many steel buckles. The feather enters into nearly every trimming and the owl, the eagle, the crow, and the guinea as well as nearly every other member of the feathered tribe have contributed from their plumage to adorn the head-dress of our fashionable ladies. Our vocabulary does not serve us well enough to describe all the styles. We can only recommend the lovers of the artistic to go and see for themselves. When you go do not forget to look at the shepherdess model in black, and edged in black and white and trimmed in green and black. Or if something of less sombre hue will please you better we are sure you need not come away disappointed because you cannot see what you want. We congratulate Mr. Switzer as proprietor and Miss Allen as Milliner on the energy and taste displayed in the dainty and progressive arrangement of everything in this important department of a wide-awake institution.
