

The Liberal.

RICHMOND HILL, November 3, 1895

By-elections have been held during the past week in two Ontario constituencies, and both have returned supporters for the Hardy Government. In East Wellington where a vacancy was caused by the death of the late Mr. Craig, Hon. J. M. Gibson was returned by a majority of over 500, and in South Ontario where Mr. Calder was unseated through bribery by agents, Hon. John Dryden was on Tuesday elected by 100. The Government will now have a majority of 10.

Our Ottawa Letter.

Already there are rumors of an early session of parliament and it is stated that the Ministers are even now busy drafting new legislation. Whether this rumor is literally true or not, it is certainly not surprising that the idea should have got abroad, even in the opposition press, that the government is ready and even impatient to meet parliament, that they may give an account of their stewardship. Their record so far is a remarkable one, and substantial additions are made each session. When the time comes for the country to pass upon that record, it will be one unparalleled in the history of the Dominion.

FRUITS OF TWO YEARS' LABOR.

Since July, 1893, the Manitoba School Question has been peaceably and permanently settled, though when taken hold of by the government it was threatening to smash Confederation. The tariff has been revised and adjusted, and reductions have been made as far as the existing conditions of commerce would for the time permit; a substantial preference has been given to British trade, which will of necessity not only operate to the mutual advantage of the old country producer and Canadian consumer, but will also develop and strengthen those imperial ties that are to-day so much better appreciated than they were not long ago. Those ties have been further tightened by the inauguration of Imperial penny postage at the direct instigation of the Canadian Government.

WHERE MONEY HAS BEEN SAVED.

As repeatedly promised during the campaign, the Franchise Act has been abolished, and a saving of $200,000 a year effected on the voters' list revision; while in its place has been enacted an economical and effective law, which prior to 1893 had always proved just and satisfactory. The introduction of up-to-date and economical business methods have been introduced into the various departments of government, whereby large savings are being effected; as for instance in the Post Office department, where the deficit of two years ago of $700,000 has been practically extinguished, while at the same time the operation of the department has been improved and amplified in every direction. The civil service superannuation scheme has been reorganized and hundreds of thousands of dollars saved to the country.

IMPROVED TRANSPORTATION.

The remarkable revival of trade and the general wave of prosperity that the country is enjoying, called special attention to the necessities of improved transportation facilities, and recognizing this the Government inaugurated many public works upon cogent, practical and connected lines, for the furtherance of rapid and economical transportation, and the opening up of new territories and connecting them with the older settled portions of the country. Foremost under this head is the important work of deepening the canals of the St. Lawrence system which will be completed next spring according to anti-election promises at the cost of over $10,000,000. Supplementary to this, extensive improvements have been undertaken, with the assistance of the Government, in the harbor at Montreal, and when these are completed the largest ocean vessels will be accommodated, and the head of ocean navigation in Canada made equal to all possible requirements for many years to come. The Intercolonial railway has been brought into Montreal by the utilization of existing facilities, and through freight rates have been reduced awarding the carrying contract to the lowest bidder. Greatly improved steamboat communication has been effected between Prince Edward Island and the main land and better transportation facilities put into operation at Halifax and St. John.

The lecture in the Presbyterian church last Friday night was very interesting but on account of other attractions the attendance was not as large as it might have been. There were not many tricks played here on Hallowe'en, T. Chaburn was appointed as special watchman but his duties were light. The Public School Inspector made his half-yearly visit here, last Friday, and gave a good report. On account of something going wrong with the furnace there was no school Monday and Tuesday forenoon.

Mr. E. Jackson of Rosland was in the village last week. He had on exhibition samples of gold, silver, and copper ore. He had also a number of shares in several mines for sale, but we have not heard of any one here purchasing any.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart are spending the week visiting in Barrie. Messrs. B. Jackson, J. Kirby, N. Shunk and Dr. Sisley are away hunting in the wilds of Muskoka.

Court of Revision was held here on Tuesday. Judge Morgan, Mr. N. C. Wallace and Mr. J. Anderson were present. Quite a number of names were added to the voter's list.

Hallowe'en or the vigil of all Hallows, passed off quietly in our hamlet. Some spent the evening at the customary nut cracking, some ducked for apples in a tub of water, others believing or trying to believe in the old superstition, tried to discover their future partner for life.

Last Monday evening Mr. D. James treated a number of young people of this vicinity to an old-time paring bee. After the apples were pared and luncheon disposed of they indulged in games and Hallowe'en tricks until a late hour when all departed to their various homes after spending a very enjoyable evening.

Last Thursday Miss Grace C. Darling celebrated her birthday by entertaining a number of her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chubine were calling on friends at Newmarket last Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. James of Toronto and Miss Wade of Port Hope were guests of Mrs. D. James last week.

Mrs. J. Boynton of Mount Joy called an friends on Tuesday.

Mr. H. Bates and Mrs. P. Seager of Toronto took tea with Mr. R. Drury on Monday evening.

Mr. J. Wakefield from the Eastern States is home visiting his parents.

We are sorry to lose one of our fine young ladies. Miss L. Thompson was married last Wednesday to Mr. H. Hendric of Toronto. They will reside in Dundas. Their many friends wish them every success. Louie will be missed in this place.
