

LOCALS.

Communications from Bonds Lake and Oak Ridges received too late for this issue.

No right-minded man favors polygamy. One wife neatly dressed is enough and Atkinson & Switzer can furnish the stylish goods.

Hulse's Birdie J., put up by auction last Saturday, did not reach the reserve bid and was consequently not sold. The highest bid was $265.

Gluten Seed is the best and cheapest milk producing dairy food on the market. For sale by H. L. Breen.

Richmond Lodge, A. F. & A. M., meets next Monday evening. An official visit from the D. D. G. M. is expected, and neighboring lodges are invited.

Moderate exercise is a health insurance. A walk from your house to Atkinson & Switzer's store is just the right thing.

Now is the time to remove from the back yards garbage and accumulations of the past winter. Not only for one's comfort but from a sanitary standpoint this work cannot be done too soon.

The price of good horses is certainly upward. Last Thursday Mr. Geo. Redditt delivered a draught team in Toronto, and received $400. The horses were sold to the Grand Trunk Railway Company.

Dr. F. J. Gallanough of Thornhill, got second prize at the Horse Show in Toronto for his team of black roadsters. Seven teams were exhibited, and some of the city papers refer to Mr. Gallanough's team as equal to that which received first prize.

Real worth doubtless makes the inner man but Atkinson & Switzer's suitings makes him look more stylish than any others.

Under instructions from the Village Council the road-makers put a coating of broken stone on the macadam part of Yonge St. this week within the limits of the corporation. They did not follow the usual custom of first scraping the roads, thinking that the stone would find a better bed on the earth that has accumulated on the macadam. Time will tell whether the experiment will prove a success.

Cotton Seed Meal is the butter-makers' friend. For cream and butter-making it has no equal. For sale by H. L. Breen.

Fifty years ago the late Dr. James Langstaff commenced the practice of medicine. He first settled in Unionville, but after a short time removed to this village, where he practised successfully for 41 years. His son, Dr. Rolph Langstaff, who is a worthy successor, has now been practising eight years at the old homestead, and is no less popular and successful than was his honored father.

A committee with Judge McDougall as chairman met on Saturday to rearrange the boundaries of the York County Councils divisions, which had been disturbed by the withdrawal of North Toronto from the county. The following resolution was passed:—"That the boundaries of No. 2 be and remain as they now stand, with the Town of North Toronto removed therefrom, and that the boundaries of Nos. 1 and 3 be and are hereby confirmed without alteration."

Dairy farmers can increase their profits ten to twenty per cent by feeding Gluten and Cotton Seed Meal. For sale by H. L. Breen, 19 Birch Ave., Toronto, opposite C. P. R. station, North Toronto.

On Saturday afternoon the 3-year-old son of Edward M. Higgins, 17 Wickson Ave., was killed by walking into a Metropolitan street car. The little fellow was trying to cross the street and did not notice the approaching car. Parents and guardians in this village and all along the line should never cease warning their children of the dangers of the trolley cars. Only a few evenings ago a little child here narrowly escaped death by running in front of a moving car.

Promises cut no ice. Performance is worth a million promises. Atkinson & Switzer act on the latter plan.

THE CLEVELAND.

The Toronto World of a recent date gave the "Cleveland" bicycle works at Toronto Junction a write-up of two columns. The description goes to show that the factory where these wheels are made are the most extensive on the continent. There are no poor wheels made by this firm, and whether purchasers give $40, $50, $80 or $90 they may rest assured they are getting an up-to-date bicycle. Call at THE LIBERAL Office and see some of them, or write for catalogue.

"THE CHILDREN'S CIRCLE."

Boys and girls should not fail to read the letters which appear in The Globe every Saturday under the heading of "The Children's Circle." For a number of weeks past the children have been asked to review books that they have read, and some of the criticisms are cleverly done. We were pleased to observe last Saturday a letter from the pen of Master Frank McDonald of this village. Frank's description of "Beautiful Joe" is quite interesting, and his composition reflects credit on the Intermediate Department of our Public School.

REORGANIZED.

The Richmond Hill lacrosse club reorganized on Thursday evening with the following officers:

Hon. President, Reeve Savage;
President, W. Trench;
Vice-President, A. Savage;

The Secretary has already received several communications from Toronto Clubs for matches in the near future. The Club anticipates great success and hopes to be liberally supported. Tickets can be secured from the Management Committee.

A BRAVE GIRL.

Last Saturday Mr. Henry Saigeon, school teacher at Jefferson, who is executor for the estate of the late Miss Love of Temperanceville, received from Mr. Harry Legge about $400, the price paid for a house and lot. From an occurrence the following night it would seem that some other party wished to get their hands on the money. About half past one o'clock Sunday morning Miss Maggie Wells, who is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Saigeon, heard some person climb up on the veranda on the south side of the house. Going to her bedroom window she looked out and saw a man standing on the veranda. He then sat down on the shingles, removed his boots, took a cover from his revolver, and placed the weapon in his hip pocket. He next covered his face with a mask and came to the window where the young lady was standing. When he placed his hands on the sill preparatory to raising the window she called out to him asking him what he wanted. She thought to frighten him by saying she knew him as she saw his face before putting on the mask. The nocturnal visitor made no reply, but after standing a few seconds deliberately slid down the veranda post. Miss Wells then went down stairs, awakened Mr. and Mrs. Saigeon, and told them of her midnight serenade. Mr. Saigeon dressed himself and there was little sleep in that house for the rest of the night. As it would be difficult to climb on the veranda without assistance it is thought there must have been an accomplice. Miss Wells thinks she would know the man with the mask if she saw him again. She is to be commended for her nerve and heroism, giving as she did another instance of the presence of mind and bravery of her sex.

HE CLIMBED THE POLE.

During the winter the rope on the flag-pole on the High School broke and slipped out of the pulley. With the return of spring, means were thought of for having the rope replaced. At last Mr. Wm. Clifford, of hockey and lacrosse fame, who is employed with Messrs. Innes & Sons, volunteered to do the job. On Thursday evening he got on the roof of the school and tried by means of a long pole to drop a weighted string through the pulley. Failing in this he climbed the flag-pole to the top, and put the rope through with his hand. The top of the pole is 16 feet above the ridge of the school and about 50 feet above the ground. The feat required a good steady nerve, especially as the pole is quite slender. Will has the distinction of doing what very few others would care to undertake.

Bosnia Prunes, specially good, 6c.; Horse Shoe Salmon, 2 cans for 25c.; Rich Red Reliable Salmon, 11c. Atkinson & Switzer.

DIED FAR FROM HOME.

A couple of weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Storey received word that their eldest son, Reginald, who for a number of years has been in the office of his uncle, Mr. J. A. Storey, Lowell, Mass., was suffering from typhoid fever, and had been removed to the hospital. Nothing startling was afterwards heard until last Saturday morning, when a telegram arrived stating that he was worse. The father at once started and arrived at his son's bedside the following day. A later telegram on Monday gave some encouragement, but the hope of a loving mother was shattered yesterday noon by the sorrowful news that her son had passed away. Deceased was 19 years of age, with excellent ability and sterling qualities. The father and one of the brothers are now on the way home with the body, and will arrive in Toronto about 5.30 this evening, and home at about 8.30. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Words fail us in expressing the deep sympathy felt for father, mother, brothers and sisters in this very great bereavement.
